Tennessee's football program is constantly heralded as one of the best in America and for good reason. Consider:

- The Volunteers have captured 13 Southeastern Conference football titles, a total that ranks second in the league.
- Since 1989, Tennessee has posted a 147-37-2 record (.796), won a national title, captured four SEC championships and participated in 15 consecutive bowl games.
- Tennessee ranks second in all-time bowl appearances with 44, including bowl treks in 22 of the past 23 seasons.
- UT's 23 all-time bowl victories ties for third nationally.
- Tennessee is one of the nation's top television draws. During Phillip Fulmer's time as head coach, 116 of UT's 141 games have been televised.
- Gen. Robert R. Neyland put together a Hall of Fame coaching career at Tennessee and ranks as the seventh winningest coach in Division I-A history with a 173-31-12 record (.829).
- Neyland-led Vol teams won seven Southeastern Conference championships and captured national titles in 1938, 1940 and 1951.
- Tennessee has finished in the Associated Press Top 25 40 times, including 23 rankings in the top 10.
- UT has had four Heisman Trophy runners-up: Peyton Manning (1997), Heath Shuler (1993), Johnny Majors (1956) and Hank Lauricella (1951).
- Tennessee has claimed AP national championships in 1951 and 1998, while finishing runner-up five times.
- Tennessee players hold 13 NCAA individual records, while Vol teams have accumulated 11 national team standards.
- The Vols hold 23 individual and 16 team Southeastern Conference records.
- UT has played 13 of its last 15 bowl games on New Year's Day and has made 28 appearances in New Year's bowl games.
- Tennessee always plays its home games in front of more than 100,000 fans.
- The Volunteers rank ninth in all-time victories with 736.
- Tennessee is undefeated all-time in regular season games when ranked as the nation's No. 1 team.

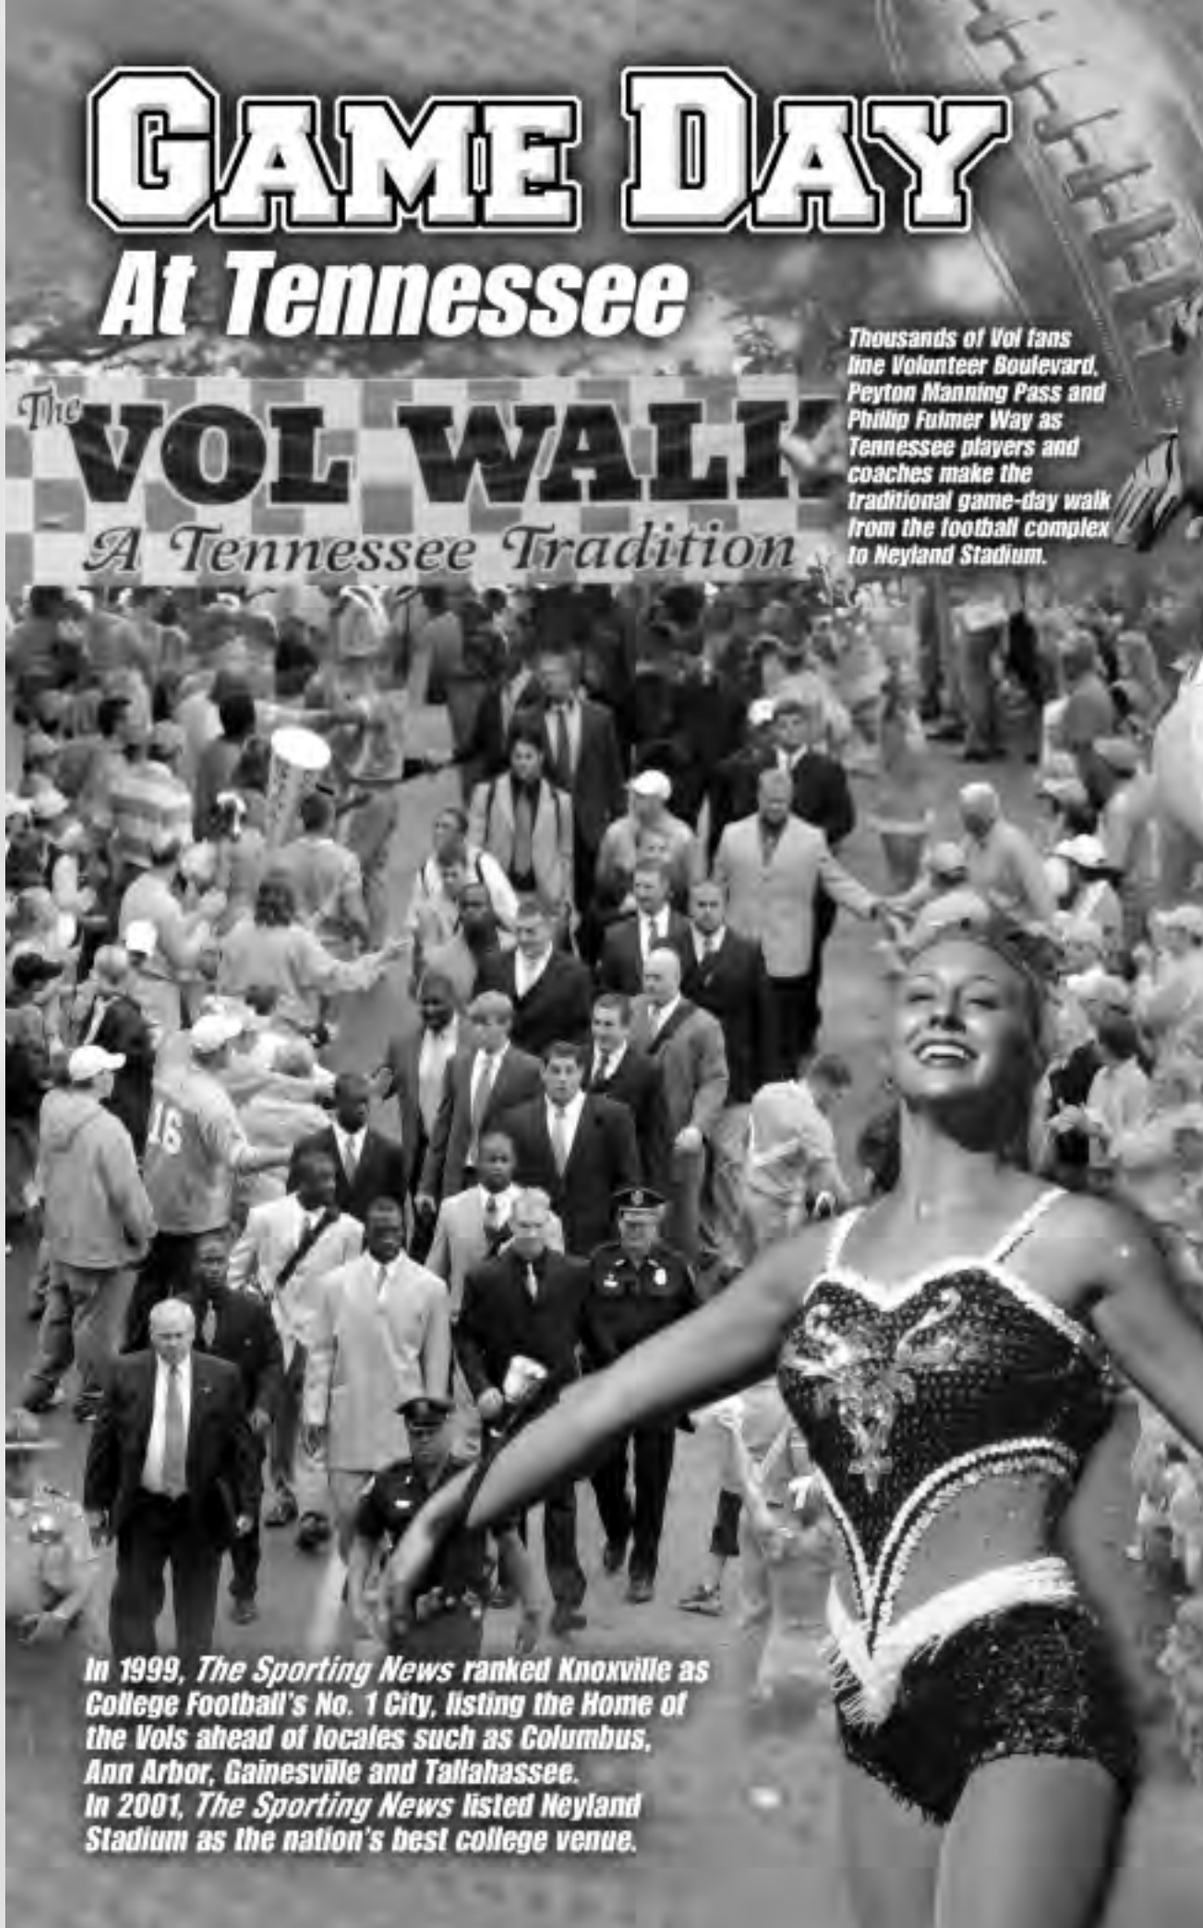
GAME DAY
At Tennessee



Thousands of Vol fans line Volunteer Boulevard, Peyton Manning Pass and Phillip Fulmer Way as Tennessee players and coaches make the traditional game-day walk from the football complex to Neyland Stadium.

In 1999, The Sporting News ranked Knoxville as College Football's No. 1 City, listing the Home of the Vols ahead of locales such as Columbus, Ann Arbor, Gainesville and Tallahassee. In 2001, The Sporting News listed Neyland Stadium as the nation's best college venue.

Volunteer Village is the ultimate Tennessee game day experience. The Village, located on the Humanities Plaza across from the Torchbearer and Circle Park, opens three and one half hours before each home game. Volunteer Village contains several food vendors, live entertainment and interactive games for fans of all ages.

Former Tennessee broadcaster George Mooney navigated his small runabout down the river before a game in 1962, spawning what is now called the Vol Navy. Today, thousands of Vol fans arrive at Neyland Stadium via the Tennessee River.

The Tennessee faithful reach a fever pitch shortly before kickoff when the Pride of the Southland Band forms a "T" and welcomes the Vols onto the playing field.

Tradition is a wonderful thing, particularly the storied tradition of Tennessee football. You can't manufacture it and nobody really knows how to define it, but you know it when you see it. And, perhaps more importantly, you know it when you feel it.

Over the past 113 years of gridiron competition, the University of Tennessee has built and maintained a staggering tradition rivaled by very few schools across the nation. A survey of Volunteer football history reveals the foundation for UT's football heritage: an astounding collection of great players, important wins and landmark championships. The Vols' unwavering and devoted fan following serves as a constant source of inspiration for Tennessee players, and ranks the school perennially in the top three in national attendance.

GAME DAY AT TENNESSEE IS. . .

. . .the Orange and White checkerboard end zones.

. . .hearing public address announcer Bobby Denton say, "Please pay these prices and please pay no more."

. . .running through the "T" in pregame.

. . .the spirited melody "Rocky Top."

. . .the "Spirit of the Hill" and the "Hallowed Hill in Tennessee."

. . .the lineage of Bluetick Coonhounds named "Smokey."

. . .General Robert R. Neyland's game maxims.

. . .Winning.

"If you've ever been there, then you'd know what I was talking about. It's just a special place and a special school. The band forms a 'T' that the players all run through and it's just the greatest feeling in the world. Thinking about that still gets my blood flowing even now. Fall football is just so beautiful there. There's nothing else like it."

—Bill Bates,
Tennessee Defensive Back, 1979-1982

What They Are Saying About

PHILLIP FULMER

Dean of Southeastern Conference Coaches

"Phillip Fulmer's Tennessee Volunteers have developed what all good teams have: the sense that they are going to win…period. They know it and they know that you know it."

—Ivan Maisel, Sports Illustrated

"Phillip Fulmer has been one of the American Football Coaches Association's best supporters for many years, both as an assistant coach and as head coach. One of the things you always notice when notoriety comes to coaches is how well they continue to do the things they've done in the past. Phil bent over backwards to help the AFCA and our American Football Coaches Foundation through the years and that willingness to give back to his profession has not change one bit."

—Grant Teaff, Executive Director, AFCA

"I think Phillip Fulmer is one of the finest recruiters in the country and for Tennessee, he's a perfect fit. The thing that sets him apart is he seems to be comfortable in every situation, every household. He has a great work ethic, a great personality and he understands the high school ballplayer today, their needs and aspirations. Every kid always mentions Coach Fulmer as one of their favorites. Tennessee is an easy sell once the kids get on campus, and Phillip has the personality to convince them to at least make a visit."

—Tom Lemming

"Phillip is a great person first, but he is a fierce competitor and the most dedicated worker I've ever been around."

—David Cutcliffe, University of Mississippi
Head Coach, UT Asst. Coach (1982-1998)

"I think Phillip Fulmer is one of the top five coaches in football. He is a player's coach. The players have a great relationship with him. Opponents know that when they play Tennessee they will be facing a team that is well coached in every area and that is a testament to Phillip and his excellent staff. Tennessee is not going to beat itself."

—Mike Gottfried, ESPN College Football Analyst

3. Barry Switzer, Oklahoma	115
4. Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma	114
5t. PHILLIP FULMER, TENNESSEE	113
5t. Steve Spurrier, Florida	113

"The main thing about Coach Fulmer is that he gives you the opportunity to be the best player you can be. He knows the game and understands what's happening on the field. I always believed he had complete confidence in me. There were few situations on the field during games that surprised me because of our game week preparation."

—Peyton Manning, Indianapolis Colts
UT All-America and Academic All-America, 1994-97

"Phillip Fulmer has done an excellent job coaching the University of Tennessee. There's no one out there tougher to go against than Phillip every winter when it's recruiting time. He has such a wonderful way with the players. No wonder he recruits so well at Tennessee. When you grade his contribution to coaching American college football, give him all pluses."

STEP UP

campaign for ATHLETIC FACILITIES

The University of Tennessee's commitment to offering world-class facilities in which Volunteer student-athletes study, train and compete for SEC and NCAA championships received a significant upgrade with the recent completion of STEP UP – The Campaign for UT Athletic Facilities. The campaign renovated, expanded and built seven different athletic facilities that benefit nearly all UT men's and women's intercollegiate teams.

Alumni and donors from across the state of Tennessee and the nation contributed over $48.6 million, including $4.5 million from former UT football players.

At the heart of this campaign are efforts to make sure the University of Tennessee football program has the finest facilities of any program in the country.

SUMMARY OF FACILITY IMPROVEMENTS

- Neyland-Thompson Expansion and McKenzie Athletics Center
- Allan Jones Intercollegiate Aquatic Center
- Neyland Stadium Locker Room Renovation/ Wolf Kaplan Hospitality Center
- Track & Field Improvements
- Intercollegiate Golf Complex
- Softball Stadium
- Soccer Stadium

New pro-style wood lockers will be unveiled prior to the first game at Neyland Stadium this fall. These larger lockers offer more space and storage area for equipment while giving the players a bigger dressing area.

Dedication of the Wolf-Kaplan Center in 2002 opened a hospitality and gathering place beneath the north stands at Neyland Stadium. The center is named in honor of the two donors who made the lead donation, Drs. Robert J. Kaplan and Rodney Y. Wolf, both of Memphis.

TOTAL COMMITMENT

The McKenzie Athletics Center, named in honor of donors Brenda McKenzie and Toby McKenzie, opens this fall. The McKenzie Athletics Center will house the Doug Dickey Hall of Champions honoring the numerous teams and individuals who have helped form Tennessee's illustrious intercollegiate athletics history. The Hall will also feature special tribute areas as well as space for receptions and other functions.

The second and third levels will house development and marketing operations, while athletic administration will lead the Department from the top floor.

The Neyland-Thompson Sports Center will be expanded as well with the indoor practice field, named in honor of Robert White, growing from 70 to 120 yards.

Tennessee's redesigned football practice facility was named in honor of James A. (Jim) Haslam II, captain of the 1952 UT football team, senior member of the University's Board of Trustees and local civic and business leader. The improvements were one phase of changes to the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center in conjunction with the new McKenzie Athletics Center.

Cleveland businessman Allan Jones and his wife, Janie, made a $4 million challenge gift for construction of the Intercollegiate Aquatic Center on campus. When completed, the facility will be the Allan Jones Intercollegiate Aquatic Center.

CHAMPS/Life Skills
NCAA "Program of Excellence"
Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success

The CHAMPS program strives to help student-athletes develop critical life skills that can be used beyond their athletic and academic careers. The program contains five commitments: to academics, athletics, career development, personal development and community service. Through the services offered in these five areas, there is a hope that student-athletes will graduate and enter a chosen profession with a higher level of vision, maturity, motivation and overall success. Tennessee was honored with the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association Program of Excellence award in 1998.

Commitments
Academics — To support the academic progress of the student-athletes toward intellectual development and graduation through the use of a fully funded academic center, which provides academic counseling, tutoring, writing consulting and special needs assistance.
Athletics — To ensure the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of student-athletes. A wide range of top-notch facilities allows world-class athletes the opportunity to develop their talents.
Career Development — To encourage student-athletes to develop and pursue career and life goals through a wide range of career workshops, seminars and career counseling. The annual student-athlete resume book offers senior student-athletes exposure to high profile companies, while the student-athlete career fair gives student-athletes individualized time with key decision makers.
Personal Development — To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills. Multiple seminars are offered every year on topics such as stress management, alcohol abuse, nutrition and mental toughness. Leadership opportunities are also offered through the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee.
Community Service — To engage student-athletes in service with their campus and community by introducing them to the benefits of investing in others' lives. Through consistent community outreach, student-athletes hopefully are instilled with a life-long spirit of giving.

UT SPECIAL NEEDS PROGRAM
The Special Needs Program is a comprehensive academic support program which assists student-athletes who have disabilities (physical, psychological and learning) or who are academically "at risk" and in need of remediation skills. All student-athletes who have official disability diagnosis documentation from a psychologist, physician, audiologist or learning specialist are eligible to participate in the program. Lois Prislovsky directs the Special Needs Program.

Tennessee has earned five American Football Coaches Association Awards for being one of the top schools with at least a 70 percent football graduation rate.

UT's Renewing Academic Commitments (RAC) Program

The Renewing Academic Commitments program is geared toward athletes who have exhausted their athletic eligibility or left school to join the professional ranks before graduation. It was created to facilitate the reentry of former student-athletes who would like to complete their degree work.

The Tennessee football program has 100 percent team participation in its Community Service efforts. The team takes part in a visit to local hospitals during one of the off weeks during the season. In addition, numerous team members take part in the April Play Day, a joint community service project with Lady Vols, and Team Vols — celebrating National Student-Athlete Day. UT football players also visit the Nashville YMCA each summer, in addition to countless other community service ventures in Knoxville and surrounding areas.

Tennessee junior linebaker Kevin Burnett (center) graduated in May after only three years with a degree in sport management. Attending Burnett's graduation ceremonies were head coach Phillip Fulmer and Board of Trustees member John Thornton, whose initial gift funded construction of the Thornton Athletics Student Life Building.

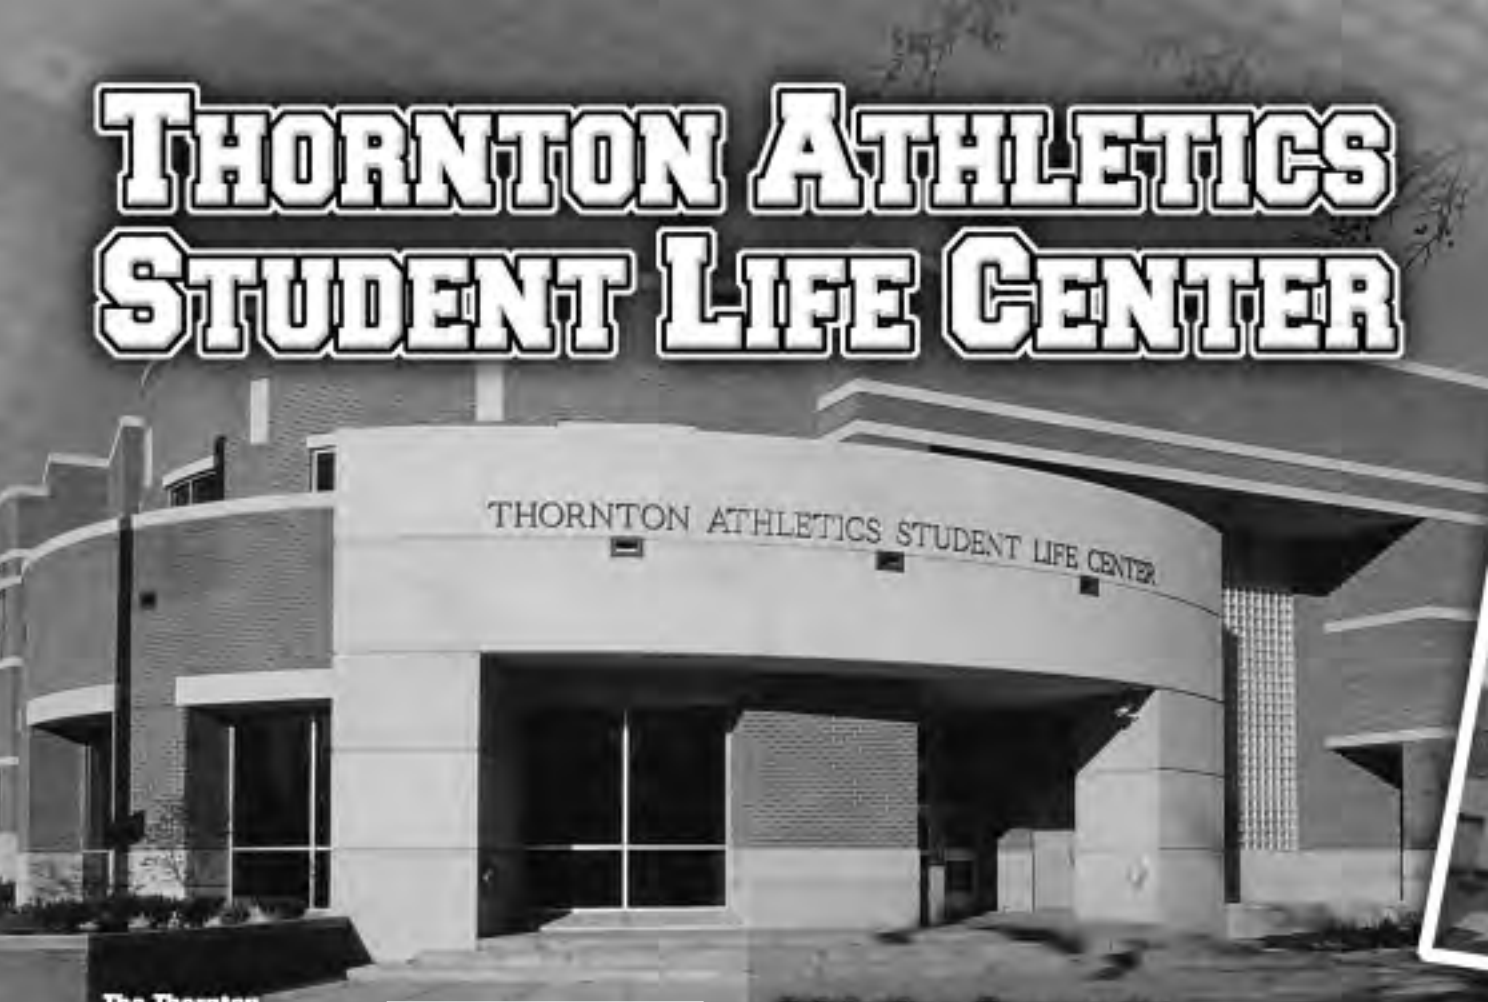
Thornton Athletics Student Life Center



The Thornton Athletics Student Life Center features state-of-the-art computer labs, individual and classroom tutorial labs, a writing center and special facilities for the learning disabled. This Center has changed the face of the Athletics Student Life program at the University of Tennessee.

"Collegiate athletes face tough demands athletically, academically and socially. It is our responsibility to provide each player with the opportunity to succeed as an athlete, a student and a person. The Thornton Center allows our athletes to work and learn in a first-class environment."

—Phillip Fulmer,
Head Football Coach

Athletics Supports Academics and Community

You may think the most important contribution athletics makes to UT is national championships. But you may not realize all athletics does for the university, the community, and the state—contributions worth nearly $19 million a year.

The athletic department compiled the figures based on the last three years.

For example, athletic department licensing agreements return about $1.6 million a year to UT, and the department contributes nearly $800,000 for academic scholarships such as Peyton Manning scholarships, band scholarships, Bicentennial scholarships and Neyland scholarships.

The athletic department also has committed $1 million a year for the next 20 years for the new Trustees Scholarships.

More than 800 student-athletes, trainers, managers, tutors, and spirit squad members receive $5.4 million a year in athletic department financial aid.

Athletics pays travel expenses for the Pride of the Southland Band to perform at athletic events and presidential inaugural parades. The department gives the university development office $5 million worth of tickets for gift prospects and major donors.

Taxes paid to the state, to Knoxville and to Knox County total $2.6 million a year.

"Our success on the field has allowed us to make significant contributions to activities on campus," Athletics Director Mike Hamilton says. "We're pleased to be a part of several scholarship funds on campus and to make a substantial commitment to local and state governments."

Thornton Center Mission Statement

"The University of Tennessee and its Athletic Departments are committed to the academic success of each student-athlete. The mission of the Thornton Center is to provide the academic support, the educational programs and the learning environment in which all student-athletes have the opportunity to achieve their academic and personal goals. The Center also will encourage the student-athletes' participation in the many enriching opportunities available at the University and in the surrounding community."

With comprehensive services in advising, tutoring, counseling and management, UT's Office of Student Life supplies the Volunteer student-athlete with all the tools necessary to be successful in the classroom.

Much of the credit in this area goes to the leadership of Dr. Ruth Darling, the Director of the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center, and her staff.

It is part of a national trend that focuses on a need for programs to develop student-athletes' potential to be well-rounded, well-educated individuals. This is to make sure the student-athlete enjoys a successful adjustment to university life and eventually realizes a positive academic experience through counseling, tutoring, study hall and special needs assistance.

Rows of plaques line the Thornton Center honoring Tennessee's Academic All-America and Academic All-SEC selections. This lends further evidence that the word "student" in student-athlete is not just for show at Tennessee.

The Thornton Athletics Student Life Center is dedicated in honor of John Thornton, his wife, Eileen, and their family, in recognition of the commitment they made to the establishment of the building. Their family's generous gift has funded construction of one of the most significant buildings in the University of Tennessee athletic complex. His gift to the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center project, an academic home for University of Tennessee student-athletes, reflects his belief that success starts with academics.

"The University of Tennessee has to do its best to provide the atmosphere and academic assistance to the young men and women who come to school here and participate in athletics," he said. A Blount County native, Thornton has built an impressive resume of business success and community service. A member of UT's Board of Trustees, Thornton and his family have served the University well over the years and his legacy will be reflected in the lives of each of the young student-athletes served within the Thornton Center.

Thornton Center Quick Facts

The Thornton Athletics Student Life Center, completed in the spring of 2001, is the hub for all academic support and student life activities for Volunteer student-athletes.

The Thornton Center houses two study rooms: the Peyton Manning Study Area, located on the main level, and the Lyle Finley Study Area, located on the second level. Each comfortably accommodates 60 students.

The David L. Howard & Family Computer Lab provides up-to-date technological facilities for University of Tennessee student-athletes. The computer lab houses 48 computers, three laser printers and five scanners.

- Capacity: 104,079
- Total Acreage Maintained: Approx. 20 acres
- Type of Grass: Tifway 419 hybrid Bermuda grass
- Type of Turf: Sand-based

The Vols have played before crowds of more than 100,000 in 51 consecutive home games.

The present day Neyland Stadium, Shields-Watkins Field had its beginning in 1919. Col. W.S. Shields, president of Knoxville's City National Bank and a UT trustee, provided the initial capital to prepare and equip an athletic field. Thus, when the field was completed in March 1921, it was called Shields-Watkins Field, in honor of the donor and his wife, Alice Watkins-Shields.

The stadium, apart from the field it grew to enclose, came to bear its own distinguished name: Neyland Stadium. It was named for the man most responsible for the growth and development of Tennessee football, Gen. Robert R. Neyland, who served as head coach from 1926-52, with two interruptions for military service. After retiring from the coaching ranks, Neyland was athletic director until his death in March 1962. He was the guiding force behind additions to the stadium's capacity, and is most responsible for the winning tradition that Volunteer fans have come to expect over the years.

- The Sporting News ranked Neyland Stadium as the nation's No.1 college football stadium in a poll in the spring of 2001.
- The 2003 season saw the 25-millionth fan enter Neyland Stadium since official NCAA record keeping began in 1946.
- Tennessee set a school record by averaging 107,595 fans in 2000.
- A record total of 747,870 fans in seven games saw the Vols post an undefeated home season in 1999.
- UT has averaged 106,332 fans over the past eight seasons, drawing over five million patrons during that span.
- The largest crowd to ever attend a Tennessee football game witnessed a great game in 2000 as the Vols and Florida battled in front of 108,768 fans.
- The 2003 season marked the 82nd year of Neyland Stadium, during which time the Vols have fashioned a 398-94-17 record for a winning percentage of .799.
- Tennessee has won 64 of its last 73 home games and posted a 77-13 record at Neyland Stadium since 1990.
- The Volunteers have had 73 winning seasons in 82 years at Shields-Watkins Field, including 35 undefeated years at home.
- Tennessee has ranked in the top three in national attendance for the past 28 years, including a third-place mark in 2003.
- Neyland Stadium also boasts the Tom Elam Press Box which stretches 100 yards and contains four levels of skyboxes, executive suites, box seating and complete facilities for print and broadcast media.
- In 2000, 72 new skyboxes were added on the East side of Neyland Stadium, adding more than 1,200 seats to the capacity.

Neyland-Thompson Sports Center

Haslam Field, UT's football practice area was renovated and expanded the summer of 2002 as part of the STEP UP campaign for UT athletic facilities.

The Neyland-Thompson Sports Center provides University of Tennessee athletes with the finest strength and conditioning, dressing, health care, meeting and coaching facilities in the country. With the aid of the STEP UP Campaign, the Neyland-Thompson Sports center is currently undergoing renovations to expand the indoor field to a full 120 yards, in addition to upgrading the locker room area and players lounge.

McKENZIE ATHLETICS CENTER

Beginning this fall, the University of Tennessee Athletic Department will open the McKenzie Athletics Center, named in honor of donors Brenda McKenzie and Toby McKenzie. The McKenzie Athletics Center, will house the Doug Dickey Hall of Champions, honoring the numerous teams and individuals who have helped form Tennessee's illustrious intercollegiate athletics history. The Hall will also feature special tribute areas to legendary broadcasters Lindsey Nelson and John Ward, both UT alums, as well as space for receptions and other functions.

The second and third levels will house development and marketing operations, while athletic administration will lead the Department from the top floor.

The Neyland-Thompson Sports Center will be expanded as well. The indoor practice field, named in honor of Robert White, will be expanded from 70 to 100 yards.

- Completed in 1989 at a cost of $11 million, the mammoth 120,000-square-foot, two-level structure is named in memory of former Vol head football coach and athletic director Gen. Robert R. Neyland (1926-62) and Knoxville businessman B. Ray Thompson.
- In addition to serving as an indoor practice field for the Vol football team, the "In-Fill" surface provides an excellent practice facility for the UT baseball and softball teams and is also utilized by numerous other Tennessee teams.
- The field is named in honor of Chattanooga businessman and UT alumnus Robert E. White, who donated $1 million to finance the field and support five full athletic scholarships on an annual basis.
- The Sports Center also houses spacious dressing facilities that contain 157 A-frame wooden lockers, showers, a steam room and sauna.
- The equipment distribution and locker storage centers are located outside the players' locker room.
- Opened in February 1990, the Tennessee Football Hall of Fame Exhibit brings UT football to life. The museum stands as a tribute to the many people who have helped shape more than 100 years of Tennessee football.
- The upper level of the Sports Center overlooks the practice field and has four observation decks. A large observation balcony, next to the recruiting office, looks down into the Hall of Fame.
- Coaches' offices, conference rooms, a team auditorium, individual position meeting rooms and a recruiting lounge are located in the upper level.
- Each assistant coach has his own office, and there are conference rooms for the offensive and defensive staff along with a large meeting room for the entire coaching staff.

ROBERT E. WHITE INDOOR PRACTICE FIELD

Artificial turf was installed in the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center in 2001. The artificial "In-Fill" field combines a durable synthetic turf, with the feel of a natural grass field. the first has a base of sand and rubber that gives athletes optimal footing and traction. All Volunteer athletic teams and cheerleaders use the multi-purpose practice field.

PERCY STRENGTH FACILITY

The 12,000-square-foot Percy Strength Facility, made possible by a gift from Frank and Stella Percy and located in the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center, ranks as one of the top three in the country in terms of size while housing more than 48,000 pounds of weights.

The strength and conditioning facility has more than 140 training stations that have been custom designed and built to the specifications set by the staff. Some of the equipment was specifically designed just for use at UT.

TIM KERIN TRAINING FACILITY

The Tim Kerin Training Facility, directed by the sports medicine staff, provides health care and wellness to each student-athlete. The training room is equipped with the most modern health care and rehabilitation equipment and is considered one of the most functional facilities in the nation.

The hydrotherapy room contains seven whirlpools, while the training and rehabilitation room has 17 examination stations. It also houses a pharmacy which is the only state-licensed facility in the country located in a training room.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- The average ACT score of freshmen entering the UT Knoxville campus in Fall 2003 was 24.3, the highest ever. Fall 2004 students who had confirmed their attendance to UT this past summer had an even higher average of 24.7.
- UT's Center for Business and Economic Research in Knoxville forecasts Tennessee's economy. The center's Economic Report to the Governor is the official annual forecast for state government internal programming and budget planning.
- UT Knoxville's College of Business Administration graduate curriculum in supply chain and logistics ranks thirteenth in the nation according to the latest U.S. News & World Report rankings of top graduate programs. In 2001 the college's undergraduate supply chain and logistics program was ranked seventh.
- The UT Health Science Center's Department of Ophthalmology in Memphis ranks eighth in the nation in quality care, according to Ophthalmology Times. The College of Pharmacy, also on UT's Memphis campus, is one of the nation's 10 best according to U.S. News & World Report.
- UT's Veterinary Teaching Hospital in Knoxville sees 36,000 animals a year. That includes 18,000 cattle and 3,800 horses. Most of the hospital's patient base consists of large animals, which helps Tennessee's economy. Tennessee ranks ninth nationally in number of beef cows and has the third largest horse population in the U.S.

What's New in Knoxville

Kid's Cove at the Knoxville Zoo

Knoxville Zoo's next project will be Kids Cove, scheduled to open in late 2004. Kids Cove will be based loosely on life in Cades Cove in the national park during the 1800s. However, it will be more grand, theatrical and a romanticized version. While kids of all ages enjoy Knoxville Zoo, the Kids Cove design team aimed specifically at thrilling the newborn to 12-year-old audience. There will be cabins, vegetable gardens, animals and play spaces with an East Tennessee theme.

Museum of Appalachia Opens Revolution Era Exhibit

The Museum of Appalachia recently opened a new display of more than 200 selected artifacts from the Revolutionary War period in southern Appalachia. Among the rare items on display is Gov. John Sevier's family Bible, printed in 1571 and reputed to be the oldest Bible in the United States; a rare American-made Revolutionary War musket, known as a "Committee of Safety Musket;" a copper bleeding bowl and a number of knives and instruments for bleeding patients.

A New Place in History: Expansion of the East Tennessee History Center

"The Campaign for East Tennessee History" to expand the East Tennessee History Center celebrated victory with an official ground-breaking ceremony on September 10, 2001. The $20 million project, spearheaded by the East Tennessee Historical Society (ETHS) and the Knox County government, will more than double the space available for the three entities who now occupy the building. The new facility will provide more than 10,000 square feet of exhibit space for ETHS to showcase the region's past, the men and women who have shaped it, and the unique contributions of East Tennessee to the national story in a new signature exhibit — Voices of the Land: The People of East Tennessee. Expanded temporary gallery space will enable the museum to host larger special exhibits including traveling exhibits of a national scope. A computer lab, interactive exhibits, more room for school programs, artifact storage, an expanded museum shop and a large auditorium are among the many anticipated features.

Quarterback Dilemma?

Fulmer's Used to Tough Challenges

Some of us sat there puzzled at Big Orange Caravan meetings during the spring as head football coach Phillip Fulmer made light of concern about the absence of an established quarterback for the 2004 Vols.

Tennessee fans were in a tizzy. For the first time in 15 years, UT would begin the season without an Andy Kelly, a Heath Shuler, a Peyton Manning or a Casey Clausen waiting to take charge of the offense.

That's right — no Kelly, no Shuler, no Manning, no Casey Clausen — and here was Fulmer on the speaker's platform telling everybody to calm down. Asked about the experience gap at the field general's position, Fulmer told an audience in Cleveland, Tennessee, "We'll have somebody playing quarterback when we open against UNLV."

The head coach's matter-of-fact dismissal of the problematic quarterback situation left his listeners wondering which of two conclusions they should reach. "Was the coach just whistling in the dark, or does he know something we don't know?"

Observers of Phillip Fulmer's demeanor during his head coaching career came up with another, more plausible, explanation. Could it be that the warrior of 13 Vols seasons fully understood the stakes, complete with risks, but accepted them as one more bump in the road in the challenging life of a head coach?

He had met and overcome many challenges before.

Like the challenge of taking on Georgia during the national championship season of 1998, when the Vols invaded Athens after warhorse Jamal Lewis had torn up his knee the previous week at Auburn. (Vols 22, Bulldogs 3.)

Or the challenge last season of going on the road against Miami while the powerful Hurricanes were still smarting from an earlier loss at Virginia Tech. (UT 10, Miami 6.)

His flint sharpened by 32 years in the prevail-or-perish cauldron of college coaching, Fulmer will work with the quarterback candidates and eventually pick the one he believes will give the Vols their best chance of victory against UNLV.

Other problems will emerge and other challenges will be faced in 2004, but Fulmer will handle each of them with the sure hand of a man whose record testifies to unbroken success at the highest levels of college football.

As a former Tennessee assistant coach once famously remarked when quizzed about how he might resolve a bothersome problem, "That's why they call me Coach."

While Fulmer copes with the quarterback situation and makes other adjustments that will be required from time to time, we submit this annual guide that should enhance your enjoyment of the 2004 season. Here are the coaches and the players, the schedule they will face and all the tradition and history that comprise the treasured Tennessee football heritage.

TIMELESS TRADITION

Fulmer's Fifth SEC East Crown Jump-Starts 2004 Prospects

Tennessee last year went through more than its share of ups and downs, a season highlighted by a tie for the Eastern Division championship of the Southeastern Conference.

The Vols experienced a roller-coaster ride that took them from glorious victories over Florida and Miami to a Peach Bowl crash landing at the end of the season.

The writers and coaches polls reflected the puzzling highs and lows that characterized Coach Phillip Fulmer's 12th Tennessee contingent. From a lofty sixth after closing out the regular season with six straight wins, the Vols plummeted to 15th when Clemson clipped them, 27-14, in a disappointing Peach Bowl showing.

Going into 2004, there are more questions about Tennessee football than Fulmer has answers. At least at this stage. Summer workouts will clarify most issues. When Fulmer prepares to start fall practice, one of the nation's ranking coaches will zero in on the remaining problems and have his team ready to charge out of the gate Sept. 5.

If all goes according to script, UNLV will become Tennessee's 737th all-time football victim and the 114th school to fall before the Vols on Fulmer's watch. Things sometimes have a way of not following the script, however, and Fulmer knows UT's situation might require his most creative coaching yet.

But the grizzled old coach, now 53, has a record that inspires confidence among the Tennessee faithful: 113-28 for a nifty .801 percentage since taking over the program in 1992. His history indicates he'll figure ways to replace his four-year starting quarterback (Casey Clausen) and a strong safety (Gibril Wilson) who showed up everywhere.

Those two problems merely scratch the surface, but Fulmer and his lieutenants are prepared for the challenge, knowing what's required of them in the ever-changing world of college football.

OFFENSE

Casey Clausen left some huge brogans to be filled when he walked out of the Georgia Dome after the Peach Bowl. He ended his college career ranked second (to Peyton Manning) on the all-time passing yardage records and led the Vols to a 34-10 mark as the starting quarterback. In Fulmer's career, there has always been an heir apparent to take over as signal-caller when the incumbent moved on. Not this time. From the reserves, from redshirt ranks and from the frosh roster, Fulmer will comb through the candidates until he picks the one who can best handle signal-calling duties going into the Sept. 5 opener.

If you need proof of how wide-open the situation is, a look at the candidates' stats will disabuse you of the notion that any of the quarterbacks-in-waiting is amply prepared to take over. C.J. Leak, who has all of 22 passes in his UT career, is the closest thing to a graybeard among the candidates. The senior backed up Clausen last season, throwing a total of eight passes, five for completions.

Tennessee has led the SEC in football attendance for 30 straight years while ranking in the top three in NCAA attendance for 28 straight years. The Vols finished 2003 ranked third in the nation with an average attendance of 105,038.

luck at Tennessee. He has two years left and hopes he can beat out Leak for the starting job. A sophomore whose name conjures up the image of a football hero in a Texas-based novel is also in the picture. Jim Bob Cooter will compete with freshman Bo Hardegree for backup roles. Freshman ranks could yield other candidates.

A late-season injury slowed Cedric Houston, but the 215-pound senior should be primed this fall for his best season. Not since Jay Graham in 1995 and 1996 had a Tennessee back put together back-to-back years as the team's rushing leader until Houston accomplished it the last two seasons. He needs to fight off Jabari Davis, another experienced veteran, for the starting tailback job. Houston and Davis divided running duties almost evenly last year and then shared responsibilities late in the year with fast-coming sophomore Gerald Riggs Jr. Houston enjoyed a slight edge in average yardage, ripping off 5.0 yards to Davis' 4.6 and Riggs' 4.5. Houston rambled for 161 yards in the season opener. Another tailback-designate is Corey Larkins, who returned kickoffs primarily, but slipped in a few rushing plays along the way.

At fullback, William Revill's departure during spring practice leaves the position wide open. Revill played behind the departed Troy Fleming last year, but his decision to give up football means the Vols coaching staff will have to look hard at playing tight end Victor McClure in the role of slot back. In other spring moves, Cory Anderson's switch from defensive end to fullback could be one that sticks in the fall. Robert Williams is another option, bringing a 6-3, 245-pound, frame to the position as a junior. Incoming signees could be in the mix for more immediate playing time because of the lack of depth, making preseason drills a cause for concern.

The changing nature of football couldn't be more apparent than by scanning the names at wide receiver, a position that was a decided team weakness two years ago but now is awash in quality depth. Tony Brown is the first name that catches the eye. A returning starter, the 200-pound senior is the leader of the corps, a dependable possession receiver who had 24 catches for 376 yards.

Tennessee tackle Michael Munoz has proven himself as one of the nation's dominant blockers. He has the most starts (37) of any returning offensive player on the Vols' roster.

Tailback Cedric Houston enters his senior campaign in 20th place on UT's all-time rushing list. He needs 1,450 yards to unseat Travis Henry as the Vols' all-time leader.

James Banks, still a possibility to take on heavier responsibilities at quarterback or in the secondary, had 42 receptions last year, none bigger than the Hail Mary toss he converted into a touchdown at the end of the first half of the Florida game. The Gators were never the same, sent into a state of shock that led to a 24-10 Vols victory. Banks had six touchdown catches for the season. Another returnee, Chris Hannon, had seven, a remarkable total considering he had only 21 receptions. Hannon is the only SEC receiver who chalked up three touchdown catches in one game last year, something he accomplished against Mississippi State.

The long list of qualified receivers also includes Jomo Fagan, Jason Swain, C.J. Fayton, Derrick Tinsley and Bret Smith. Robert Meachem, a redshirt freshman after missing the 2003 season with an injury, comes back to a chorus of conjecture he could develop into one of the squad's most spectacular pass-catchers.

Victor McClure is a returning starter at tight end, where his 310 pounds and 6-4 frame qualify him as a blocker first and a pass receiver second. The hard-charging senior had only one catch last season. Justin Reed, another talented hopeful, stretches out to 6-7, making the junior an inviting target should the Vols seek to exploit the tight end routes.

Tennessee coaches hope the decline in sacks allowed by the offensive line, a problem two years ago, will continue unabated. The most significant change in personnel up front takes place at center, where Jason Respert moves in as the replacement for Scott Wells. If Jason can duplicate Wells' consistency and dependability, he will have the offensive line getting off to a promising start with the snap of the ball. Respert, moved from guard, has been a sometimes starter who should be capable of handling the center duties in good style. Chuck Prugh, returning after missing most of the 2003 season with illness, should be a steady backup to Respert.

Michael Munoz, a senior who passed up an opportunity to turn pro after last season, will be a fixture at tackle, constituting an intimidating force at 6-6, 315. He started every game last season and served as a team captain, a rarity for a junior. Munoz has started all 37 games in his three-year Vols career. Albert Toeaina is a man to watch at the other tackle slot. He was All-State, All-Conference and All-America during high school in California. If he lives up to expectations coming out of City College of San Francisco, a junior college, he could be listed as a starter by the time the Vols take on UNLV.

Kevin Burnett's diligence in the classroom earned him his college diploma last year. While he now pursue's his master's degree, the senior linebacker also logs hours in the film room breaking down opposing offenses.

Cody Douglas and Rob Smith are considered probable winners in the scrap to determine who opens at guard. Douglas, checking in at 6-4, 315, has a head start in that he played first team most of last season. His advance to a starting role before the Florida game substantiated the coaching staff's decision to give him the award as most improved in 2003 spring practice. Smith returns for a second try at his sophomore season after redshirting last year. Arron Sears, who missed most of the spring because of injury, could be a challenger in the fall.

DEFENSE

Tennessee's advance to top-10 status at the end of the regular season last year owed a huge debt to defensive heroics most readily highlighted by key plays in two games: a fourth-down stop against Alabama that allowed the Vols to rally for an eventual overtime win and a pass interception that snuffed out Miami's last hope of avoiding a home-field upset.

So, entering 2004, the question becomes: If they face similar circumstances this fall, would the Vols have the wherewithal to withstand a threat that in one play can mean the difference between winning and losing?

The opening proposition is none too promising. Most disturbing is the loss of seven regulars from a unit that surged in the second half of the season. Balancing that off, though, is the identity of the four players around whom defensive coordinator John Chavis will build his 2004 combine. Linebackers Kevin Simon and Kevin Burnett, end Parys Haralson and cornerback Jason Allen are capable of making momentum-turning plays.

Parys Haralson turned in 14 tackles-for-loss last season, a strong indication he should adequately defend one of the flanks. He was also credited with 3.5 sacks. As a junior he will be expected to continue picking up the pace, something that should come naturally because of his high energy level. Assuming Haralson starts, the other end position may provoke a hard-fought battle for dominance among a group of hopefuls that includes Karlton Neal, Jason Hall and Turk McBride. Neal with three letters has an experience bulge over the others. Hall had the most tackles last season, 21. Neal had 15.

An unusual situation prevails at tackle, which lost starters Mondre Dickerson and J.T. Mapu. With everything up for grabs, a junior college newcomer moved immediately to the front, bolstered by impressive credentials out of Orange Coast Community College. A January enrollee at UT, Jesse Mahelona boasts exceptional size even by today's king-size standards. He's 6-2, 300, which means he won't be spotting offensive linemen a significant weight advantage. Rating services are lavish in praise of Mahelona's defensive skills, listing him as the best junior college product at his position.

Greg Jones is a two-year letterman who hopes his experience will earn him a good look at a starting tackle job. He has 42 tackles during his Tennessee career, which embraces three starts last season. Other returning lettermen are Justin Harrell and Tony McDaniel.

Tennessee has a wealth of linebackers, not only from the standpoint of numbers but proven capability. Kevin Simon has been described in UT publications as a man of "freakish quickness," which on a team loaded with swift performers is high praise indeed. That quality undoubtedly got him where he needed to be "firstest with the mostest," as the old saying goes. Simon's quickness and reckless abandon were important factors in his team-leading 115 tackles last season, an impressive mark enhanced by his 22 "big plays." One of the gems was an interception in the 10-6 win over Miami.

Coming back from knee surgery required in 2002, Kevin Burnett regained the rhythm that characterized his earlier play and ranked as the Vols' fourth-best tackler with 90. Simon and Burnett bring experience and leadership that should guarantee Tennessee upper-echelon linebacker play provided coaches find a way to atone for the loss of Robert Peace. Easier said than done. Peace, who has graduated, contributed far beyond expectations to the Vols cause last year, becoming a marquee player at the middle linebacker spot. The linebacker corps includes such experienced operatives as Jason Mitchell, Jon Poe, Omar Gaither and Marvin Mitchell, all of whom lettered last year.

In discussing the secondary, it should be pointed out that opportunity abounds. Anybody with raw natural ability and willing to bring it to bear should apply for employment in the defensive backfield where graduation removed cornerback Jabari Greer, free safety Rashad Baker and strong safety Gibril Wilson. Among them they were involved in 248 tackles.

But a fourth member of the secondary crew returns, his resumé aglitter with interceptions, passes broken up and tackles. Jason Allen, a junior with eight starts behind him, is scheduled to man his post at right cornerback, something he did brilliantly after he cracked the starting lineup in the Georgia game. Allen finished the season with 57 tackles, two interceptions and 11 deflections. Heading for fall warfare, however, he is the only member of the secondary with credentials earned over an appreciable amount of time. Allen is a big-time player, making his biggest splash under toughest conditions. As an example of his rising to the occasion, he had 11 tackles at Miami, forced a fumble and broke up a pass that had touchdown written all over it. Allen's contributions were vital in the 10-6 victory, arguably the Vols' most notable achievement of the year.

A late-comer to the mix might be James Banks, who as a senior was voted Indiana's prep defensive player of the year. It was just a year ago that Mark Jones proved his worth on both sides of the ball.

Other letter winners from the secondary, all hoping to earn the nod for starter status, include Robert Boulware, Corey Campbell, Chris Heath, Brandon Johnson, Jarod Parrish and Antwan Stewart. Jonathan Wade, switched over from the receivers corps, is coming back from shoulder surgery. Sophomores Stewart and Campbell were occasional starters last season, Stewart at cornerback and Campbell at free safety.

SPECIAL TEAMS

While questions and doubts hover over the 2004 Vols offense and defense, at least until the Sept. 5 opener clarifies a few things, no such uncertainty befuddles an assessment of the kicking game. The reason: senior punter Dustin Colquitt and sophomore placekicker James Wilhoit. Not that funny things can't happen anytime in the kicking game. But Colquitt and Wilhoit are about the closest thing to money in the bank the Vols boast.

Big games bring out the best in junior defensive back Jason Allen. Last season's thrilling five-overtime win at Alabama — during which he made 12 tackles, blocked a field goal and broke up two passes — serves as evidence of Allen's steadfastness under the spotlight.

Dustin Colquitt was the NCAA consensus All-America punter last year with a 45.3 average. He was twice named SEC player of the week, most impressively against South Carolina when he boomed five punts of 50 yards or more and placed three inside the Gamecocks 5. Earlier he was cited in the Marshall game for his 50.9-yard average, which resulted in the Thundering Herd twice taking possession inside the 5.

James Wilhoit is almost as impressive. Last year he made The Sporting News Freshman All-America when he connected on 17-of-24 field goals, including 12 of his last 14. From 40 yards out or more, Wilhoit was seven of 10. He was perfect on all 41 extra-point kicks.

The kick return department doesn't show the stability by Colquitt and Wilhoit. Fulmer wants more production. Corey Larkins, a senior, averaged only 20.4 yards, bringing back 19 kickoffs. The two top punt returners, Mark Jones and Rashad Baker, used up their eligibility. Robert Meachem, Derrick Tinsley and Jayson Swain will probably have a shot at hauling back punts.

TIGHT ENDS

The ages-old, fundamental philosophy about tight ends - that they are blockers first and pass-catchers second - could be carved in stone at UT in 2004. At least that's how it appears at first glance. Last year provided lean rations for tight ends, a group that among them "combined" for a grand total of one catch for the entire campaign. With potential phenom Robert Meachem returning from the injured list to join in the competition at the already well-stocked wide receivers position, the conventional wisdom is that the Vols might have a stronger contingent of pass-catchers than they had a year ago. That could crush the hopes of tight ends that they will be coming to the fore as receivers, something they all dream about. But reports from spring workouts revealed that the coaches devoted more than customary practice time to developing the tight ends' ability to get open. Perhaps that's going to be the answer to the ticket-buying public's annual clamor for passing the ball once in a while to the tight end. That may be, but the Vols competing for playing time would be well advised not to ignore the need to bring their blocking proficiency up to snuff. Victor McClure, a senior earmarked for a starting role, was the recipient of the lone pass delivered to the tight end. At 310 pounds, he should certainly be capable of delivering a pulverizing block or two. Redshirt freshman Brad Cottam and juniors Justin Reed and Jake Finlayson will try to overcome the edge McClure established in spring practice.

WIDE RECEIVERS

Regardless of who inherits Casey Clausen's quarterback job, he is going to enjoy the luxury of throwing to a bevy of gifted receivers. Whereas a couple of years ago, tears were shed over the paucity of talent at the receivers posts, there is now a veritable buffet of glue-fingered targets for the newly-anointed signal-caller to choose from. He could do worse than start with the dependable Tony Brown, who may not be from the same spectacular mold as some of the others, but who makes up for it with reliability and consistency. Brown, who fills the role of possession receiver, is penciled in as a likely starter at one of the receivers posts. He averaged 15.7 yards on 24 catches last season. Chris Hannon, who accounted for a noteworthy seven touchdowns on 21 receptions last year, is another seasoned veteran, poised to have first crack on the other side. Robert Meachem could make a gigantic breakthrough after sitting out last season with an injury. In preseason work last fall, his acrobatics caught the eye of railbirds, who immediately tabbed him a rising star. The pool at wide receiver is deep, creating a sense of urgency among all the candidates to make their case quickly if they want to play this fall. Returning letter-winners include Jayson Swain (21 catches last year), C.J. Fayton (15), Derrick Tinsley (13), Bret Smith (5) and Jomo Fagan (3), while Bill Grimes is a redshirt freshman with skills. Jockeying for position will resume during fall workouts. Sensational junior James Banks (42 catches) paced the receiving corps last year but could be using his talents on both sides of the ball in 2004.

Versatile senior lineman Jason Respert appears to have made a smooth transition from guard to center for the 2004 season. Named to the Rimington Award preseason watch list, Respert will anchor a king-sized offensive line with aspirations of reviving the Vols rushing attack.

TACKLES

Even from junior college ranks, it's seldom the case that a player arrives on campus for spring workouts and emerges at the close of the off-season drills designated for duty with the first-team. Nothing is written in concrete (and won't be until fall) but Albert Toeaina may have pulled off that rare feat. Pending reconsideration under the intense August sun that has wilted many a spring flower, Toeaina is listed as a starter at right tackle, complementing the veteran Michael Munoz, who will hold forth at the other tackle slot. Toeaina, who had glowing high school credentials as an All-Conference, All-State and All-America selection, brings a 6-6, 350-pound frame to the offensive line. He molded his game at City College of San Francisco. Munoz passed up the possibility of casting his lot with the NFL last spring and chose to return for his senior season. Michael's sturdiness is reflected in his resume, which shows 37 consecutive starts as a Vol, a streak that will continue when the Vols battle UNLV in the Sept. 5 opener at Neyland Stadium. The Vols need to uncover some reserves capable of performing at the high level required in the Southeastern Conference. Redshirt freshmen Eric Young and Steven Jones add depth to the position.

OFFENSIVE TACKLES

GUARDS

This is another position, like tackle, where the absence of proven reserve strength becomes a major concern as the Vols brace for fall combat. When coaches named Cody Douglas the most improved offensive player at the end of 2003 spring drills, Douglas pursued his advantage relentlessly and held down a starting job at guard most of the season. He will move into fall workouts with the first-team position his to keep if he continues the kind of blocking coaches expect from him. A solid spring by Rob Smith has the sophomore in line for starter's duty this fall. The Kentucky native lettered in 2002 but redshirted last year when depth was not an issue. Arron Sears' steady progress last season was a highlight of Tennessee's line play, reaching its culmination when he was named a starter for the Mississippi State game Nov. 15. But an injury knocked him out for the remaining regular-season games. Competition also could come from sophomore David Ligon. The depth-chart order of appearance will be based on fall workouts, which means August practice will take on more than its customary importance.

Sixth-year senior C.J. Leak is among the handful of signal-callers hoping to line up under center for the Vols in 2004. Leak has spent the past two seasons learning the Vols offense after transferring from Wake Forest.

CENTERS

Tennessee might strike gold two times in a row at center, where unheralded Scott Wells came on so impressively that last year he was chosen first-team all-Southeastern Conference. Now it's Jason Respert's turn to take over snapping duties. Unlike Wells, who moved up surreptitiously through the ranks, Respert came on campus four years ago as a highly-decorated high school standout, his services solicited by colleges nationwide. Shuffling from guard to center, he has enjoyed a productive career at Tennessee and now is set to make his mark as the starting center. Coaches believe Respert in his senior season can reach the same level of consistency and effectiveness as the dependable Wells. He has the raw talent to man the position in a highly polished manner. Chuck Prugh, who missed most of the 2003 season recovering from a serious illness, is prepared to fill the backup role behind Respert.

QUARTERBACKS

After more than a decade in which the quarterback position provided little mystery about its eventual occupant, the Vols have more of a wide-open and flexible situation at the most vital slot in the offense. UT since 1992 has enjoyed the luxury of widely-acclaimed Heath Shuler, Peyton Manning, Tee Martin and Casey Clausen ascending almost automatically to the post and acquitting themselves admirably in ensuing seasons. In 2004 there could be a battle royal for the opportunity to direct the attack. C.J. Leak started spring practice at the top of the candidates' list and maintained his advantage to the end. Into his sixth collegiate season, Leak formerly started for Wake Forest, from which he transferred to Tennessee in 2001. He played in only three games last year. Sound football instincts and good decisions under fire helped propel Leak to the top ranks of contenders for quarterback. But junior Rick Clausen - brother of Casey and a transfer from LSU - will renew his efforts to unseat Leak when fall workouts begin. Jim Bob Cooter, Bo Hardegree and incoming freshmen will be in the picture in case Leak and Clausen falter.

QUARTERBACKS
C.J. Leak, Sr., 2L

TAILBACKS

If Cedric Houston gets through a season without injury, he could become the dominant tailback UT has lacked since Travis Stephens lugged the leather in 2001. Despite occasional bouts with the injury bug, Houston has ranked as Tennessee's top ball-carrier the last two years. He totaled 744 yards last season after amassing 779 the previous year. Jabari Davis, stronger than Houston but not as quick in fleeing to the outside, powered his way for a 565-yard rushing total last year. Houston and Davis are seniors, leading the way in the tailback corps that also includes junior Gerald Riggs Jr., who is still trying to rediscover the consistent running style that made him a terror coming out of high school. Corey Larkins, a capable kick return artist who is also listed at tailback, is primed to either carry the ball or receive passes when the staff gives him a chance. Walk-on sophomore David Yancey was a surprise of spring practice and could make an impact.

FULLBACKS

Five days into spring practice, William Revill made the statement that he was giving up football. The impact of Revill's decision reverberated throughout the football program because there was no heir apparent left standing for the job held last year by Troy Fleming, backed by Revill. Coaches had counted on Revill to have a smooth transition at fullback following the graduation of Fleming. Meeting the first priority of procuring a body to fill the position, the staff moved Cory Anderson over from defensive tackle. At 6-3, 270, Anderson has the size to be a good fullback. But whether he can surmount the experience handicap is something still to be determined. Other solutions, speculation has it, would be to play a single running back and either a double tight end or an extra wide receiver. Any way you cut it, the absence of a sure-fire fix at fullback is not something Phillip Fulmer envisioned when he gathered the troops for the start of spring practice. Don't be surprised if you see tight end Victor McClure occasionally lined up as a slot back.

DEFENSE

ENDS

Always on the lookout for big-play men, the Vols have uncovered a jewel in Parys Haralson, a give-no-quarter warrior with a yen for mayhem. Haralson, a 255-pound junior, moved into the starting lineup four games into the season and rewarded his coaches by racking up 14.5 tackles for loss and five sacks. If he turns it up still another notch, Haralson could become one of Tennessee's big-play giants, destined for a niche in school history his last two seasons. He finished spring practice well ahead of sophomore Turk McBride and freshman Jared Hostetter at left defensive end. Over on the other side, Karlton Neal shapes up as the starter, moving up to the first team for the first time since Haralson displaced him before last year's South Carolina game. But Neal hasn't demonstrated nearly the penchant for going after the opponent that Haralson has. His statistics last year (10 tackles, five assists, two tackles for loss and one sack) suggest Neal needs to enhance his production or face the risk junior Jason Hall, freshman Antonio Reynolds or a fiery newcomer will supplant him in the lineup.

TACKLES

A huge question mark will hover over the tackle slots until a couple of Vols step forward and present proof they can hold their own against Southeastern Conference opponents. One scenario would have Greg Jones building on his play against Mississippi State when, inserted in the starting lineup, he recovered a fumble and deflected a pass. The spotlight has been aimed squarely at incoming junior college graduate Jesse Mahelona, a Hawaiian who established a solid reputation at Orange Coast Community College in California. He came to UT ranked as the best junior college product at his position. At 300 pounds, Mahelona should be able to fend off the biggest blockers UT opponents will employ this fall. Despite his scant experience, Justin Harrell could be tabbed a starter moving into fall practice. A sophomore, Harrell was delayed making his varsity debut by a broken ankle sustained in preseason workouts, but saw action in the seven remaining games after his return. Sophomores Tony McDaniel and LaRon Harris are positioned to claim extensive playing time if any of the frontrunners should falter.

LINEBACKERS

Here's where the defense should find its comfort zone, anchored by a pair of veterans whose legacy in the school's football history will be indelibly written provided they continue on track in 2004. Kevin Burnett and Kevin Simon were a tough load for opponents to deal with last year, their prowess earning each of them second-team All-Southeastern Conference honors. After undergoing reconstructive knee surgery in the off-season before the 2003 campaign, Burnett bounced back to rank fourth on the squad in tackles with 90. Simon's numbers were even more impressive. He stood first in tackles with 115, an amazing output considering the extensive rehab program Simon undertook to fight back from an ankle break the previous season. Simon figures to hold forth at middle linebacker, replacing the graduated Robert Peace, who in many ways was the heartbeat of the UT defense last season. Juniors Jason Mitchell and Omar Gaither will take care of the vacancy created when Peace graduated. Mitchell held the edge at left linebacker when spring practice ended. Daniel Brooks, a promising sophomore, will try to work into the rotation along with Ovince Saint Preux, Jon Poe and Marvin Mitchell. The linebacker positions are deep enough, leaving only the level of quality still to be determined.

CORNERBACKS

In a secondary that is top-heavy with youth at positions where experience normally reigns supreme, the Vols looked surprisingly seasoned at cornerback. That is until sophomore Antwan Stewart suffered a knee injury in spring practice that likely will cause him to miss most if not all of 2004. Stewart started five games a year ago and finished the season with two interceptions. Left standing is Jason Allen, who is not exactly a graybeard but has been thoroughly initiated into the ways of secondary play. In fact, Allen will be entering his junior season as a returning starter at left cornerback, his resumé bolstered by his rank as the 2003 Vols' seventh-ranking tackler. In only eight starts, Allen had 57 tackles, a figure supplemented by the two interceptions and 11 deflections that also adorned his dossier. After opening against Georgia in the sixth game, Allen retained his status as a starter through the remainder of the season, including the Peach Bowl, and produced results worthy of the confidence coaches felt in him. Coaches spent spring practice feeding a cram course to other halfback candidates such as Jonathan Wade, Roshaun Fellows, Antonio Gaines and Robert Boulware. Formerly a wide receiver, Wade was shifted to the secondary as a precaution against inexperience and could turn out to be the 2004 starter opposite Allen.

SAFETIES

Two names that are probably unfamiliar to even the most gung-ho Tennessee fans are charged with manning the Vols' last line of defense, strong safety and free safety. Not that Brandon Johnson and Corey Campbell haven't been exposed to SEC football, but their experience is decidedly on the skimpy side. At positions where one mistake can light up the wrong side of the scoreboard, coaches are looking for assurances that Johnson can stand up to the test at strong safety and that Campbell can handle the pressure at free safety. Johnson, a junior, had 15 tackles last season, most of his playing time coming on special teams situations. Campbell had 15 stops as a backup to Rashad Baker, who was sidelined for the Duke, Miami and Mississippi State games. The entire secondary is playing with only limited experience, raising the specter that opponent passers could pepper the Vols dizzy with an aerial bombardment. Time will tell, of course, but the coaches take comfort in how well Johnson, Campbell and the rest of the safeties absorbed their lessons in spring practice. Junior Chris Heath has two letters, and sophomore Jarod Parrish, one, while walkon Ben Greene appears to be capable of making an impact. Another wild card in the secondary could be James Banks, who came to UT highly acclaimed both on the offensive and defensive sides of the ball.

Senior defensive end Karlton Neal said goodbye to the towering skyline of the "Windy City" and arrived in the foothills of the Smokies poised to bolster the Big Orange defense. With three years of experience in the SEC trenches, he is sure to be an asset to the Vols' defense in 2004.

Vols Lose No Specialists from 2003, Return Two Sure-Footed All-Americas

The Vols appear not to be hurting in the kicking area, continuing a string of excellence that, with only a few off years, has traced back continuously to the days of Coach Bob Neyland. The General never failed to stress the scope of the kicking game, something Phil Fulmer harps on almost every time he addresses his troops. What could be more comforting than to lead off discussion of the kcking game than to zero in on a punter who last year was merely the nation's best? In the judgment of AP, the Football Writers Association, Walter Camp and The Sporting News, Dustin Colquitt in only his junior year was college football's premier punter. Colquitt, member of a family of UT punters, averaged 45.3 yards last season, a figure that only begins to tell the story of his effectiveness. The thing that drove opponents batty was that Colquitt had a talent for making his kicks die inside the five or bounce out of bounds thereabouts. Nearly as beneficial to the Vols' kicking situation is the return of James Wilhoit, who hopes to provide the same placekicking skills as a sophomore that last year earned him freshman All-America recognition. Wilhoit connected on 17 of his 24 field goal attempts, including a 51 yarder. Corey Larkins figures to get the call for kickoff return duties, a chore he handled last year for a 20.4-yard average. Tennessee must groom new punt return specialists following the graduation of last year's duet, Mark Jones and Rashad Baker. John Henderson, a backup punter, will hold for placements. Scott Newsome and Adam Miles, both returnees, are the designated snappers.

Tennessee's Hubert Simpson ran over, around and through the Notre Dame defense in the Vols' 40-18 triumph in 1979. Simpson rushed for 117 yards and a record four touchdowns -- three in the second quarter alone -- to highlight the Irish's first visit to Neyland Stadium.

One of the true classics in Southern grid history was Tennessee's 7-0 victory over Kentucky in 1950. The game was played despite a memorable snowstorm that dumped 17 inches on the Knoxville area in the 36 hours leading up to the game.

2004 Vol Notebook

First Sunday Game at Neyland Stadium

Tennessee and UNLV square off under the Neyland Stadium lights Sunday, Sept. 5 (ESPN2). It marks UT's fifth Sunday contest and first at Neyland Stadium. Tennessee's most recent Sunday game was Jan. 2, 2000, when the Vols played Nebraska in the Fiesta Bowl. Other Sunday outings were Aug. 29, 1990, in the Pigskin Classic at Anaheim, Calif., versus Colorado, Aug. 30, 1987, in the Kickoff Classic at the Meadowlands against Iowa and Dec. 13, 1981, against Wisconsin in the Garden State Bowl, also at the Meadowlands.

Possible Brother Duel Set for UT-Florida

The 2004 Vols squad features brothers Dustin and Britton Colquitt, as well as Rick Clausen, younger brother of former Vol quarterback Casey Clausen. Walk-on defensive back Ben Greene is the brother of former Vols defensive back/wide receiver Tracy Smith. When the Vols square off against Florida Sept. 18, it could mark a battle of brothers, with Tennessee's C.J. Leak and Florida's Chris Leak under center. There are a number of other brother combinations across the history of Tennessee football, including Raleigh and Reggie McKenzie, Steve and Ken DeLong, Johnny, Billy and Bobby Majors, Fuad and Carlos Reveiz and David and Don Leake, to name just a few.

Auburn Returns to Knoxville; Vols Make First Appearance in Oxford Since 1988

UT-Auburn was once the key early SEC game from 1956-91, but the Vols and Tigers have played in Knoxville only twice since, both Vols wins. The third clash comes Oct. 2. Two weeks later, the Vols make only their third appearance at Vaught-Hemingway Stadium, with previous encounters on the Ole Miss campus being in 1951 and 1988, also both UT wins. Most Ole Miss home games against Tennessee in other years were in Memphis or Jackson, Miss.

Vols Blanked Them All In 1939

It was 65 years ago that the Vols shut out an entire regular season slate of opponents. No major college team has accomplished the feat since. The Vols were ranked No. 1 for four weeks that year, but actually dropped to No. 4 after a 13-0 win over Vanderbilt. They recovered sufficiently in the polls to finish No. 2 by season's end.

1959 Team Pulled Two Major Upsets

The last Vols team of the 1950s finished 5-4-1 but pulled off two huge upsets. In the opener, Cotton Letner's field goal was the margin in a 3-0 upset of third-ranked Auburn, while Bill Majors, Charles Severance and Wayne Grubb stopped Heisman Trophy winner Billy Cannon on a two-point try to finish off a 14-13 UT win over No. 1 LSU.

Notre Dame Made First Visit in 1979

It was 25 years ago that Notre Dame made its first Neyland Stadium appearance and left town on the short end of a 40-18 decision. Hubert Simpson scored four times and Vols defenders, led by Craig Puki and Chris Bolton, made a key goal line stop just before halftime. The Vols and Notre Dame have played twice in Knoxville since then, splitting a pair of decisions, the Fighting Irish winning 34-29 in 1990 and the Vols taking a 38-14 decision in 1990.

Grass Grew Again 10 Years Ago

After 25 years of one kind of artificial turf or another, Shields-Watkins Field once again was covered with the real stuff when the 1994 season kicked off against Florida. Groundskeeper Bob Campbell reported that, during the summer, Vols fans would stop by the stadium and ask to see the new grass grow.

1989 Vols Made Dramatic Improvement

After a 5-6 season in 1988, one in which the Vols lost their first five games, Tennessee bounced back with an 11-1 mark in 1989, marking an impressive turnaround that attracted national attention. Tennessee won the SEC title that season and defeated Arkansas 31-27 in the 1990 Cotton Bowl to close the decade of the 1980s on an impressive note.

UT-Kentucky Meet for 100th Time

The Nov. 27 game against Kentucky at Neyland Stadium marks the 100th meeting between the two schools in a series that dates to Oct. 21, 1893. The Wildcats won 56-0 that day, but UT leads the overall series 67-23-9. The Vols are riding an 18-game winning streak against UK since last losing in 1984, 17-12 at Neyland Stadium.

Vols Top SEC Over Last 10 Years

Tennessee maintains its standing as the winningest team in the SEC over the last 10 years. The Vols are 99-26 (.792) during that span, ranking them fourth nationally in both percentage and victories. The Volunteers also have compiled a 66-17 record in conference games during this period, winning four Eastern Division crowns, two overall league titles and the 1998 national championship. Record of the other SEC teams: Florida 99-27-1, Georgia 84-37-1, Auburn and LSU 76-44-1, Alabama 75-47, Mississippi 69-49, Arkansas 68-53, Mississippi State 56-60, South Carolina 50-64-1, Kentucky 42-72 and Vanderbilt 28-84.

Fulmer Meets The Press

▶ON THE TEAM'S CHEMISTRY HEADING INTO 2004
"I think the attitude and the chemistry is a process that is ongoing. We've certainly got a good number of willing guys to step up as leaders of the football team. As a coach, I feel there's a significant amount of progress yet to be made. That's going to take a conscious effort on our football team to close the gap between the guys who understand what it takes to be champions and win the Southeastern Conference and a few guys who are either new and inexperienced or others who just haven't totally bought into the program as far as academics and those types of things that are distractions to the team. If we could get those guys to come around, then I think we could have a really positive year."

▶ON THE PROCESS OF FINDING A STARTING QB
"At the beginning of spring practice, I thought it went better than expected. I thought our guys did a great job managing the situations they were put in and the tempo of the offense. Then I think we took a step backward toward the end of spring. Of course, the defense had something to do with that, but they needed to get back on track and they did that toward the end."

▶ON SPRING INJURIES AND THEIR EFFECT
"Any time you have injuries or suspensions or any of those types of things it's distracting. But we had to do the 11-on-11 contact because our quarterbacks needed it. If we had an experienced quarterback, we may have backed off some of the scrimmaging. Everybody wants to be physical but when you do that, you're going to have the injuries. It's my job to try to balance it as much as we can."

▶ON THE SPRING'S PLEASANT SURPRISES
"I think a number of guys have made good progress. Turk McBride is a guy who's come out of the woodwork and really matured. Rob Smith certainly has and we have found a diamond, I think, in Cory Anderson if he continues to make progress. I think Jason Mitchell's had a awfully good spring."

▶ON THE DEFENSIVE SECONDARY
"There was a lot of concern surrounding our secondary coming into the spring, and then to lose a player as quality as Antwan Stewart -- he was just having a fabulous spring -- is obviously a big blow to us. But when you have those kinds of situations, other people need to step up. Jason Allen is a tremendous leader for that group and they need to follow his lead as far as work ethic and preparation for practice or games. Jonathan Wade, Corey Campbell, Brandon Johnson, Jarod Parrish, Robert Boulware and Roshaun Fellows, those guys have got to progress to the point where they can be counted on in the Southeastern Conference. Right now, we've got one player back there who's established and that's Jason Allen."

▶ON THE WIDE RECEIVERS
"I'm hopeful we can start the season and be one of the best groups we've had here. There are some young guys there who do bring some special things to the field as far as making a great catch, making plays after the catch, some toughness. So I'm encouraged about that position and we certainly plan on using their skills every way we can. If we can make people play honest then our running game is better."

▶ON THE DEPTH AT TAILBACK
"We've got a lot of guys who all have played a lot but I'd still like to see the one who's going to come out of the pack and be a difference maker. I'd like to see that person getting 20-25 carries (per game) and somebody else a few and us have a 1,200-yard or 1,500-yard rusher. "

▶ON THE LINEBACKER POSITION
"I like our linebackers and I like our depth at linebacker. You've got some dynamics in that group that gives them a chance to be pretty good. I'm hopeful by their leadership, maturity and experience they will help our defense start off this season where we finished the regular season last year. Last year it took us awhile to grow up. We were the youngest defense in the conference. This year we're returning a group of guys who have at least played a lot of football."

"Jason Allen is a tremendous leader for [our secondary], and they need to follow his lead as far as work ethic and preparation for practice or games."

—Phillip Fulmer

▶ON IMPROVEMENT BY THE DEFENSIVE FRONT

"I don't know that we've got a real dominant player at that position. I think we have some guys who are good players and could be really good. Parys Haralson could be a really good player. We're looking for those other guys who are playmakers. I think we're ahead of where we were last year because (Constantin) Ritzmann had been out a year and Parys still was learning the position. Now Parys is much bigger and stronger, Justin Harrell has played, Greg Jones has played, Tony McDaniel has played along with Jason Hall. Karlton Neal has been a great leader. The youngster, Antonio Reynolds, looks like he's going to be a great prospect and LaRon Harris is a year more mature. So we're way ahead of where we were last year but I'm looking for the dynamics. I'm looking for the guy that when other teams watch our tape they say, 'We better really account for this guy.'"

▶ON THE KICKING GAME

"I hope we take another step. (Dustin) Colquitt needs to have another big year and if James (Wilhoit) could start off from the get-go kicking like he did from mid-season on, that would be another plus for us. We're going to see where our return game is. I don't think we have a person right now who's established like Mark Jones or Rashad Baker was on punt returns. The kickoff returns, we never really got much done last year so that's wide open."

▶ON THE OFFENSIVE LINE'S EXPECTATIONS

"I think they've still got to prove themselves that they're cracked up to be what everybody says they're going to be. Obviously, you've got a proven player in Michael Munoz. I've been really pleased with Rob Smith and the spring he's had. I was disappointed that Cody Douglas and Arron Sears didn't get more reps this spring. I want Jason Respert to play to the level we all feel like he can play and he wants to play. You hope you're center is a leader and Jason's that kind of guy, a great person, smart, tough. I just want him to play great as well. And (Albert) Toeaina, if he continues to develop, we hope he can be a really great player."

▶ON THE 2004 HOME SCHEDULE

"It may be the best in our history. It's a great home schedule and we're certainly not ducking anybody. We've always picked up some great games and this year will be no different. But to win the conference you've got to win on the road and we certainly have some tests, that's for sure."

As has become UT tradition, the players that exhibit the most dramatic improvement during spring drills are recognized during halftime of the annual Orange & White Game, presented by Edamerica. Pictured here are (L-R) Tennessee head coach Phillip Fulmer, sophomore offensive guard Rob Smith, sophomore defensive end Turk McBride and Edamerica CEO Tony Hollin. Smith received the Harvey Robinson Award for most improved offensive player, and McBride was presented with the Andy Spiva Award for most improved defensive player.

TIMELESS TRADITION

Head Coach Phillip Fulmer

Tennessee head coach Phillip Fulmer takes over the reins this year as dean of Southeastern Conference coaches. The Vols' mentor began his UT tenure during the 1992 season and continues to produce championship caliber football in the nation's most outstanding collegiate conference.

The Volunteers under their native son have 113 triumphs against only 28 defeats for a winning percentage of .801. No active Division I-A coach with at least a decade in the business has such a lofty victory rate.

And speaking of the last 10 years, Tennessee under Fulmer is the winningest team in the SEC during that span with a 99-26 (.798) mark. Only Nebraska, Florida State and Kansas State have more victories.

There is nothing to suggest Fulmer is in any danger of letting up. He has averaged exactly 10 wins a season for the last seven years, with three SEC Eastern Division titles during that span and one overall league crown.

The Winchester native has guided UT to a bowl game all 12 years of his tenure. He and former Nebraska coach Tom Osborne are the only coaches to lead a team to a bowl game in their first 12 years of coaching.

In 2002, Fulmer notched his 100th career victory, adding another landmark achievement to his sparkling tenure. The hard-working Vols mentor chalked up No. 100 with an 18-10 decision over South Carolina Nov. 2, 2002, in the eighth game of his 11th official season as head coach.

Only five other coaches required fewer appearances to achieve the century mark - George Woodruff, Barry Switzer, Tom Osborne, Bud Wilkinson and Amos Alonzo Stagg. Woodruff and Stagg coached around the turn of the previous century, leaving only a handful of modern mentors alongside Fulmer.

"None of these things would have happened without the dedicated players who love this university the same way I do," Fulmer said. "And certainly much of the credit belongs to our hard-working assistant coaches and to the fans who loyally support us."

113-28 Record
.801 Win Percentage

Since Fulmer took over, more than 7.5 million fans have passed through the Neyland Stadium turnstiles. In 1998, Fulmer rewarded those supporters by guiding Tennessee to its sixth national championship with a perfect 13-0 record and a Tostitos Fiesta Bowl victory over Florida State.

UT participated in a bowl and completed a winning season in 2003 for a school-record 15th straight year. Then following the season, Fulmer concluded his term as president of the influential American Football Coaches Association.

"It was a great honor," he said. "Through relationships with our athletes, including both personal and professional guidance, we do make a difference in their lives. Our strength and growth as an organization only gives us more tools to better lead our young men, not only on the football field but also toward much greater success in life. The young men who pass through our programs will be the husbands and fathers of tomorrow."

An accepted measure of a program's success, Tennessee's position in the national polls also has been a testimonial to Fulmer's sure hand at the helm. Under Fulmer, the Vols had a streak of 54 consecutive weeks ranked in the top 10.

UT has been in the national polls at game time for 125 of Fulmer's 141 games as head coach.

Fulmer's brilliant coaching record also includes these accomplishments:

- Selection as National and SEC coach of the year in 1998.
- The first Tennessee team to post 13 victories in a single season, a record in 1998 that included an SEC championship and Tostitos Fiesta Bowl win for the national title.
- Ten Tennessee players have earned first-team All-America honors, including consensus punter Dustin Colquitt in 2003.
- Twelve first-round NFL selections since 1993 and a total of 72 players selected in the draft since 1994 to lead all schools. UT's 72 players selected since the 1994 draft -- which followed the end of Fulmer's first season at Tennessee -- ranks just ahead of Ohio State (71) and Florida State (69).
- Back-to-back SEC titles in 1997-98 and four Eastern Division crowns in the last seven years. The Vols have won or tied for the division title five times under Fulmer.

FULMER DEAN OF SEC COACHES

Below is a list of SEC coaches and how long each has been at his current school, counting the 2004 season:

Coach, School	Year
PHILLIP FULMER, TENNESSEE	13th
Houston Nutt, Arkansas	Seventh
David Cutcliffe, Mississippi	Sixth
Lou Holtz, South Carolina	Sixth
Tommy Tuberville, Auburn	Sixth
Nick Saban, LSU	Fifth
Mark Richt, Georgia	Fourth
Bobby Johnson, Vanderbilt	Third
Ron Zook, Florida	Third
Rich Brooks, Kentucky	Second
Mike Shula, Alabama	Second
Sylvester Croom, Miss. State	First

•A record of 99-26 over the last 10 years -- best mark in the SEC.

•A record of 45-5 from 1995-98, the most victories over a four-year span in school history.

•The Vols have ended the season ranked in the top 10 six times under Fulmer.

Fulmer's record becomes all the more remarkable because of the rugged gauntlet of opponents faced by the Vols. Tennessee's schedule is regularly among the toughest in the nation. In addition to the demanding SEC slate, the Vols stray far from home to meet such traditional national powerhouses as Miami, Notre Dame, Syracuse and UCLA.

Tennessee has gone 35-21 against ranked competition under Fulmer.

Notching two straight SEC titles in 1997 and 1998 carried special meaning for Fulmer, who played in the offensive line for the Vols and then came back as an assistant coach before being promoted to head coach in 1992.

"Winning championships is always a goal when you're coaching football," Fulmer said.

The former Vol offensive lineman served 13 years as a Vols assistant beginning in 1980 before becoming the 20th head football coach at Tennessee. The decision to elevate Fulmer occurred five seasons after he was appointed assistant head coach and three seasons after he became offensive coordinator.

During Fulmer's years as offensive coordinator, the Vols consistently broke team total offense records and were ranked one or two in the SEC. Records have fallen with even greater frequency since he became head coach.

Year after year with Fulmer as head coach, Tennessee continues to stand in the top ranks of college football for graduating players who go on to careers in the professional game. Since 1994, Tennessee ranks first in total players drafted with 72, and the Vols have had 12 NFL first-round selections since 1993.

The 2003 NFL Draft saw four UT players drafted - Gibril Wilson to the New York Giants, Troy Fleming to the Tennessee Titans, Mark Jones to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and Scott Wells to the Green Bay Packers.

Fulmer also is an avid civic booster and was named 2002 Outstanding Volunteer Fundraiser by the Smoky Mountain Chapter of the Association of Fundraising Professionals. He serves on such boards of directors as Boys and Girls Clubs, American Football Coaches Association and Child and Family Services. He is the national spokesperson for the Jason Foundation Inc., and considers such experiences essential to the education process of UT football players.

In the spring of 2000, Fulmer received one of the most prestigious and personally satisfying honors that come to men in the field of athletics. A blue-ribbon panel named Fulmer the second annual winner of the State Farm Eddie Robinson Coach of Distinction Award. Penn State's venerable Joe Paterno was the inaugural recipient.

"It helps the players become more accountable, more responsible," he said. "There are many good things that can be done. I think it's our responsibility to provide our players the opportunity for community service and community involvement."

In the spring of 2000, he was recipient of the Brotherhood/Sisterhood Award of the National Conference for Community and Justice. It was the most recent recognition of Fulmer's outstanding civic leadership, which now includes heading up the Phillip Fulmer Golf Tournament that has raised in excess of $100,000 each of the last three years for the Boys and Girls Clubs of the Tennessee Valley.

Three decades ago, Fulmer was a competent blocker on three UT teams that ended their seasons gracing holiday bowl extravaganzas.

As an offensive guard, Fulmer helped UT to a 30-5 record from 1969-71. The Vols captured the SEC championship with a 9-2 record in 1969, went 11-1 and won the Sugar Bowl in 1970, and finished as Liberty Bowl champions with a 10-2 record in 1971, a season that ended Fulmer's playing career.

He served as a team alternate captain his senior year before spending the following season as graduate student assistant. Fulmer served as linebacker coach and defensive coordinator for the Vols freshman team in 1973 before moving to Wichita State the following season.

He spent five years at Wichita State, where he coached the offensive line in 1974 and 1977-78 and served as linebacker coach in 1975-76. He followed those years with a one-season stint at Vanderbilt, serving as an aide to Commodores head coach George MacIntyre.

Fulmer is married to the former Vicky Morey and has four children: Phillip Jr., Courtney, Brittany and Allison.

Vols Thrive Under Fulmer -- One of Football's Top Coaches

Phillip Fulmer promised to take Tennessee to the next level and he has done exactly that, winning two SEC titles, five divisional crowns and garnering the national championship in 1998. Each of his Tennessee teams has made it to bowl games and seven of his teams have won more than 10 games, highlighted by a 13-0 season in 1998.

There have been quarterbacks like Heath Shuler, Peyton Manning, Tee Martin and Casey Clausen, the ever-inspirational Al Wilson -- spiritual leader of the 1998 team -- and many others. The Vols reeled off an unprecedented seven wins in a row against Alabama starting in 1995 and ended the 2001 regular season with a 34-32 win over Florida in Gainesville. Tennessee under Fulmer has defeated Virginia Tech, Ohio State, Florida State and Michigan in bowl games. Last season, Tennessee won at Florida and Miami and also captured overtime thrillers against South Carolina and Alabama.

For the record, Fulmer is part of six of the eight 11-win seasons in Vol history -- in 1970 as a player, in 1989 as an assistant and in 1995, 1997, 1998 and 2001 as head coach. Two years ago, he became one of the fastest coaches in history to reach the 100-victory plateau by accomplishing the feat in the eighth game of his 11th season of coaching. He remains the only active coach among the top 15 in all-time Division I-A winning percentage and enters the 2004 season with a record of 113-28 (.801).

Fulmer's Coaching Beliefs and Guidelines

What are your basic coaching philosophies?

"I base my coaching philosophy on four principles--recruiting, coaching, discipline and winning. They all work hand in hand. Our goal is to recruit the best players from across the country, but at the same time, players that will fit into our program. I want to bring players to Tennessee that are willing to accept coaching and discipline and combine that with their athletic talents to help us develop a championship caliber football team every year.

"I believe that you must be closely involved with your players, much like a parent. You must guide and direct them, socially, academically and spiritually, as well as athletically."

How do you view yourself as a coach?

"I feel that I am a fairly diverse football coach. I have played the game and now coached the game for a long time. I believe that I am knowledgeable in all aspects of running a collegiate football program, both on and off the field. I feel that I have a good relationship with the young men in our program and I am genuinely interested in their success on and off the field. I've worked very hard to represent the University of Tennessee well and I think our football program is viewed in a positive way, not only in our community, but throughout the country.

"In today's world of intercollegiate athletics it is important for a coach to be well-versed in all aspects of running a program. With that in mind, I try to listen to my assistant coaches and support staff and constantly refine what we are doing in our football program."

Being a lifelong Tennesseean, what does holding this position mean to you? What makes the University of Tennessee a special place to be head football coach?

"This is the ultimate job for me. There is not anything that I would rather be doing, period.

"The things that make Tennessee football special are the tradition, history and the love and the passion the people of Tennessee have for the program. It is not just entertainment, it is truly a way of life for the Tennessee faithful and I understand and appreciate that. I'm a part of that, too. I want our University to be successful in every endeavor, athletically and academically. As an alumnus, I want us to be at the top. I also have a true appreciation for the area and the people. Tennessee traditionally is a very loyal and passionate state. The people are very quick to help and very caring and giving. I like being a part of that."

Do you feel pressure from the high expectations people have for Tennessee football? How do you turn that pressure into a positive?

"I don't look at it as pressure at all because I have the same expectations. I think it is wonderful that people expect you to be the best.

"The pressure comes in making sure you have done everything you can to be successful. There aren't any more hours that our staff can put into trying to be successful. I want people to know that we love the University, we are going to run a disciplined program, represent the University of Tennessee in a positive fashion and that we are going to win more than our share of games and compete for championships. There is no doubt that this job is very demanding, both physically and mentally. It is very demanding on a family and I am quite fortunate to have great support from them."

What do you think is the most misunderstood aspect of coaching?

"The biggest misconception is that coaches have complete control because you don't. There are so many factors that can play into things such as injuries and disciplinary measures. Fans need to understand that players are young people first. There are family issues, school issues and personal tragedies that you can't control. The chemistry of a team and outside influences are very important parts of either success or failure."

What do you expect from players in your football program?

"I expect them to maximize their abilities, academically and athletically. Socially, I expect them to represent this University in a very positive fashion. I expect them to be a contributor to this community and give back to the people of our community. I expect our players to operate within the framework and disciplines that we have set in the program."

What is the most important purpose of your football program? What is the most important thing you want your players to gain from their experience in your program?

"We all know that the bottom line to keep your job is to win. But what I want my players to have is a growing experience. I want them to go to college for an education, not for eligibility. I want them to finish their degree or if they leave early for pro football that they are in good standing to come back and finish.

"I want them to be able to leave our program and go get a good job and to become good husbands and fathers. That is really what you want from your program — to give back to the parents a better young man than they gave us."

What makes Tennessee a special place for student-athletes to come to school and play football?

"There are a lot of good schools around, but Tennessee is as good as any of them to get your education. I think what makes us unique is the passion the people of Tennessee have for their athletic programs and particularly football. It is a wonderful place to live. There is good weather, mountains and lakes. The fact that everything is centered around the University makes it an exciting place for student-athletes. It is a small enough community that there is a close family relationship, but yet it is large enough that there are plenty of things to do."

In your words, describe a football Saturday in Knoxville. The Sporting News has ranked Neyland Stadium as the nation's best...why do you think it is such a great place to play and watch a football game?

"Of course, I see it a little different than most people. Football Saturdays here are exciting, enthusiastic and entertaining. There is great passion and certainly great color. There is great tradition and pageantry around the stadium. It is generally a happening--that is the way I see our game-day environment.

"As The Sporting News said, it is the most impressive place to watch a college football game in the whole country. The uniqueness of the structure is part of it-it is almost straight up. With the completion of the structure the sound stays in better than it used to. The domination of the Tennessee fans is special. You never really hear from the other team much at all."

What are your thoughts on underclassmen leaving early for the professional ranks?

"It is a two-edged sword. You are pleased for kids that have developed their skills and talent to the point where they have the option to choose to compete at the next level. You are happy they are able to improve their financial situation and pleased they can provide for their family. Obviously, you aren't pleased with the deficit it leaves on your football team, but you simply have to adjust and move on. The thing that is real important to me is that players who do choose to leave early be in good academic standing and in position to return to school and get their degree."

How do you feel about two-sport athletes on your team? Can participating in other sports help a player's football skills?

"I have always thought it could be done if the athlete is mature enough. I think track definitely helps kids speed and gives them another outlet to compete. We've had several guys compete in two sports, such as Willie Gault, Anthony Miller, Todd Helton, Leonard Scott and currently Jabari Greer. I don't see it is a problem, particularly now with the limited number of spring practices."

Who are the most important influences in your coaching career?

"The two people that influenced me the most when I was young were my head high school football coach, Walter Boldin, and my high school baseball coach, Jackie Reavis. They were both men with energy, passion for the game and enthusiasm. They taught me an awful lot about how to enjoy athletics, not just the wins and losses.

"In college, the most influential person was Coach Dickey. As a coach he had a great presence about him, one of confidence and leadership that I admired then and still do today."

John Chavis' tenure in Big Orange Country has evolved into the elite atmosphere reserved for the top achievers in his profession.

Promoted to defensive coordinator at Tennessee in 1995, Chavis has gained recognition as a defensive guru the old-fashioned way -- by building hard-nosed teams that have helped Phillip Fulmer's Vol squads rank among the stingiest in college football.

The 2003 season was no exception, as Chavis took the youngest starting unit in the Southeastern Conference and led it to top-25 rankings in three national categories. UT ranked 15th in pass efficiency defense, 17th in scoring defense and 22nd in total defense.

Tennessee's 2004 linebacking unit has been rated by many among the best in the country.

Following the national championship season of 1998, Chavis was named the SEC's outstanding linebacker coach. Tennessee's defense led the SEC in 1996 and ranked in the top three five of the past six years.

In addition to supervising linebackers and the overall defense, Chavis in 1999 was named assistant head coach.

Chavis has divided his responsibilities between the defensive line and the linebacker corps since returning to his alma mater 15 years ago. In 1989, Chavis spent his time with the defensive line. Then in 1990, to help accommodate additions to the defensive staff, he made the switch to linebacker coach. In recognition of Chavis' experience, technical knowledge and fighting temperament, Fulmer promoted him to defensive coordinator prior to the 1995 season and this season Chavis begins his 16th year with the Vols.

Before coming to Tennessee, Chavis had been defensive coordinator at Alabama A&M, leading the Division II school to the best defensive record in the nation. The Bulldogs ranked first in total defense in 1987 and 1988.

Chavis came to UT as a walk-on defensive lineman and was later granted a scholarship on the basis of his scrappy play at middle guard and tackle. He lettered in 1977 and 1978 and received his degree from the College of Education in 1979. Chavis is a native of Dillon, S.C.

Before taking the defensive coordinator job at Alabama A&M, Chavis coached as a graduate assistant at Tennessee in 1979, as defensive line coach in an earlier stint at Alabama A&M from 1980-83 and then as defensive line coach and defensive coordinator at Alabama State in 1984-85.

He and his wife, Diane Crisp Chavis, are the parents of two boys, John and Jason.

Randy Sanders

Assistant Football Coach

Offensive Coordinator

Quarterbacks

Randy Sanders heads into his sixth season as Tennessee's offensive coordinator and 14th coaching season overall having achieved his goal of striking a healthy balance between running and passing the football.

This year, however, Sanders' first order of business is the task of replacing a successful starting quarterback after the graduation of Casey Clausen. Several quality candidates await the coach's evaluation -- among them returnees C.J. Leak and Rick Clausen along with signees Eric Ainge and Brent Schaeffer.

The former Vol signal-caller has driven this path before, having helped first Tee Martin and then Clausen fill the shoes of previously successful quarterbacks at Tennessee. Martin, of course, led the Vols to the 1998 national championship and Clausen stands No. 2 all-time on the Tennessee passing and total offense charts behind only Peyton Manning. Sanders, of course, takes extra pride in these accomplishments since he has the added responsibility of working directly with the quarterbacks.

Sanders was named offensive coordinator after the 1998 season when David Cutcliffe resigned to accept the head coaching job at Mississippi. His first game calling the offensive plays was against Florida State in the 1999 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl national championship game.

Sanders has held a variety of jobs on the Tennessee staff, including a couple of years as a graduate assistant before moving into a full-time position. Sanders' assignment with running backs starting in 1993 followed two seasons in which he worked as wide receivers coach.

Sanders was named a full-time assistant in 1991. Vols coaches had already observed him enough to set high expectations for his development. They had coached him over a five-year period, including a redshirt season, and then watched his work for two more years as a volunteer coach on the UT staff.

Sanders came to Tennessee in 1984 from nearby Morristown as one of the most heralded quarterbacks produced in the state, having nabbed both All-State and All-Southern honors. Sanders worked hard in the classroom -- four times winning Academic All-SEC honors -- and earned his degree in 1987 with still one year of eligibility. After electing to pass up his final season of play, he was persuaded by the coaching staff to give it one more shot in order to allow the Vols some needed depth.

Sanders lettered for a fourth time in 1988 and stayed around two years as volunteer coach, working with quarterbacks under Jim Hofher in 1989 and Cutcliffe in 1990.

Randy and his wife, Cathy Hardison Sanders, have two daughters, Kelly and Kari.

The man coordinating Tennessee's national recruiting reputation is Greg Adkins, who accepted the assistant's position working with tight ends and the offensive line in March 2003.

Adkins also handles the responsibilities of recruiting coordinator. During his first season in that capacity, Tennessee signed players from 12 states.

The 36-year-old came to the Vols from Troy State, where he held similar duties under Larry Blakeney. Adkins' work with the offensive line helped the Trojans make the transition from Division I-AA. TSU went 4-8 last season in its first full year of Division I-A status after a 7-4 record in 2001.

Before coaching at Troy State, Adkins spent five years as an assistant at Georgia under Jim Donnan. He coached the Bulldogs' defensive line in 1996 and oversaw tight ends and the offensive line from 1997-2000. During his tenure in Athens, the Bulldogs posted a 40-19 record in five seasons and appeared in four bowl games. Two of those postseason contests were New Year's Day affairs.

Adkins coached a pair of NFL draftees on the Bulldogs defensive line -- Jason Ferguson and Jermaine Smith -- and All-SEC tight end Larry Brown. Former Bulldogs tight end Jermaine Wiggins also made it to the NFL, playing for the New England Patriots and Carolina Panthers.

A native of Cross Lanes, W.Va., Adkins arrived at Georgia with Donnan in 1996 after spending 10 seasons at Marshall as a player and coach. Adkins was a part of 97 Thundering Herd victories during his decade. He was a four-year letterman on the offensive line from 1986-89 and served as team captain during his senior season.

Adkins coached a variety of positions at Marshall, including offensive line, defensive tackles and tight ends. In 1990, he helped with the transition of future two-time All-America selection Phil Ratliff from defensive line to offensive line. He also was part of the Marshall coaching staff when the Herd led the Southern Conference in rushing defense in 1992 and scoring offense from 1993-95.

A coaching highlight for Adkins while at Marshall was the team's 1992 NCAA Division I-AA national championship victory over rival Youngstown State. He also had a hand in the three other second-place finishes for the school.

Adkins is married to the former Michelle Gillespie of Cross Lanes, W.Va. They have two sons, Nicholas, 7, and Nathan, 4, and a daughter, Natalie, 1.

Dan Brooks

Assistant Football Coach

Defensive Line

Dan Brooks' remarkable run of success as coach of the Tennessee defensive line continues into his 11th season in Big Orange Country. In 2003, Brooks rebuilt the Vols' front four into a unit that finished the season ranked in the top 25 nationally in three categories.

This despite the fact that in each of the last two seasons, the Vols have had to replace four senior starters along the defensive front. John Henderson, Albert Haynesworth, Rashad Moore, Demetrin Veal and Aubrayo Franklin are just a few of the recent Vols who have benefited from Brooks' coaching expertise.

Henderson and Haynesworth, who went on to be among the first 15 players selected during the 2002 NFL Draft, both felt a special kinship to their former line coach. That's because Brooks not only is a highly regarded mentor in coaching circles at the national level, he also considers himself a player's coach who has the full confidence of those performing around him.

A measure of Phillip Fulmer's confidence in Brooks came after the 1998 season when he designated Dan to take on additional duties as the Vols' recruiting coordinator. Brooks has since passed along those responsibilities, but during his stint the Vols annually ranked among the nation's leaders in the recruiting wars.

His previous experience as a coach included stops at Florida and North Carolina. Now at age 53, the North Carolina native still has the zest for football he experienced when he was given his first job at Western Carolina in 1975.

A graduate of Western Carolina, Brooks received a master's degree from Florida. He coached at Western Carolina, Kings Mountain (N.C.) High School and Florida before going to work for Mack Brown at North Carolina in 1988.

In 1990, the North Carolina defense set a school record by registering 45 sacks, of which 19 were by the defensive line. In Brooks' final season before coming to UT, the Tar Heels led the Atlantic Coast Conference in sacks with 38.

The 2000 Vols recorded an SEC-leading 50 sacks, a school record, and the 2001 unit again led the league in sacks with 34. The 1996 Big Orange posted another school mark, 83 tackles for lost yardage.

Brooks, after the 1998 national championship season at UT, was awarded recognition as the Southeastern Conference's outstanding defensive line coach.

Married to the former Kathy Whitaker, Brooks has two children, Tara and Rhett.

Steve Caldwell enters his 10th season on Phillip Fulmer's Tennessee football staff intent on maintaining the pressure at defensive end that contributed to the Vols ranking among the national leaders in three defensive categories last season.

Caldwell welcomes the return this year of captain Parys Haralson, who paced the team with 14½ tackles for loss. Of those tackles, 4½ were sacks to tie for team honors.

Other key returnees to this year's squad include senior Karlton Neal (7 career starts), junior Jason Hall (20 career games played) and Turk McBride, who recently gained team honors as the most improved defensive player during spring practice.

The Volunteers have tallied 141 sacks over the last four years, with more than a quarter of those tackles (42½) coming from the end positions. Caldwell has taken special pride in the play of his troops.

Fulmer, who had worked with Caldwell when Steve was a graduate assistant coach on the Tennessee staff in 1990, brought Steve back before the start of the 1995 season.

Among Caldwell's most accomplished pupils was Will Overstreet, who not only finished his UT career with 19 sacks to tie for eighth on the all-time school list, but also mirrored the coach's emphasis on studies by being named to the 2001 Academic All-America second team.

A dean's list student himself at Arkansas State, Caldwell played four years of football for the Indians as a defensive end and linebacker.

His first taste of coaching came over the next three seasons at his alma mater, from 1978 through 1980. From Jonesboro, Caldwell moved on to Northwest Mississippi Community College, where he coached the offensive line for four seasons and was part of a national championship team in 1982.

Next he came back to Arkansas State, coaching linebackers under head coach and former UT defensive coordinator Larry Lacewell during a notable period of success for the Indians.

Subsequent jobs took him to Tennessee, Pacific and Nevada, the latter school as co-defensive coordinator for the 1994 Big West Conference champions. Caldwell coached briefly at Mississippi before accepting Fulmer's entreaty to join the Vols.

Larry Slade

Assistant Football Coach

Defensive Backs

Larry Slade enters his sixth season on Phillip Fulmer's UT coaching staff and continues turning out some of the nation's best defensive secondary units.

In an area where a single misstep can result in an opposing touchdown, Slade has his work cut out for him heading into this season. Only one of his top four position players will own starting experience after consecutive seasons in which UT was ranked in the top 15 nationally in passing defense.

Over the course of the last two seasons, Tennessee's defensive unit has allowed only a combined 19 touchdowns through the air.

Slade has talented Jason Allen as the only returning starter for 2004. Rashad Baker, Jabari Greer and Gibril Wilson all completed their eligibility, while part-time starter Antwan Stewart was injured in spring practice and may miss the entire season.

Slade's 2000 and 2001 secondary units, aided and abetted by the rest of the defense, established school season records with 64 and 72 passes broken up, respectively. The Vols batted down 66 passes in each of the last two years to just miss another school mark.

It continued a pattern of success that Slade has enjoyed in his 31 years in the coaching profession.

Slade, 53, is a native of Pelham, N.C., who twice was named All-West Virginia while playing guard at Shepherd in the early 1970s. He was named Little All-America honorable mention in 1971 and later inducted into the Shepherd College Hall of Fame. He received his degree in biology with a minor in English.

His coaching career began at his alma mater with a nine-year stay before subsequent stops at Richmond, Howard, Southern Illinois, Washington and Maryland. His six-year tenure as secondary coach at Washington was highlighted by a national championship season in 1991, during which the Huskies ranked first in NCAA statistics for pass efficiency defense.

Slade left Washington in 1992 for Maryland to serve as defensive coordinator, a post he held for two seasons before moving to Texas A&M. His 1997 Aggies secondary allowed only three passing touchdowns, fewest in the nation. Slade's first unit at Tennessee also sparkled by allowing 214.9 yards per game through the air and making 21 interceptions against only 15 touchdown passes.

He is married to the former Izetta Willingham and the couple are the parents of three children, Herbie, Roshawn and Lyndsey.

Tennessee's Jimmy Ray Stephens earns the respect of his understudies along the offensive line. That's because for the third-year UT assistant, it is a position with which he is quite familiar.

Prior to arriving in Knoxville, the 49-year-old Stephens spent nine seasons coaching the Florida offensive line -- part of a high-powered offense that led to five SEC championships for the Gators.

This year, Stephens again will be coaching a championship-caliber group of individuals. Tackle Michael Munoz is being mentioned for preseason All-America honors, while Albert Toeaina was one of the top junior college linemen in the country last year. Senior Jason Respert has the leadership to fill the center position, and guards Cody Douglas, Arron Sears and Rob Smith all have all-star potential.

Jimmy Ray and Regina Stephens with Timmy

Add a solid blend of newcomers to the mix and Stephens has prepared quite an impressive array of talent.

Stephens himself sparkled both on the offensive line and at tight end during his playing career at Florida. He was a second-team All-SEC performer at center under Gators head coach Doug Dickey before making the move to tight end and earning second-team all-league honors there as well.

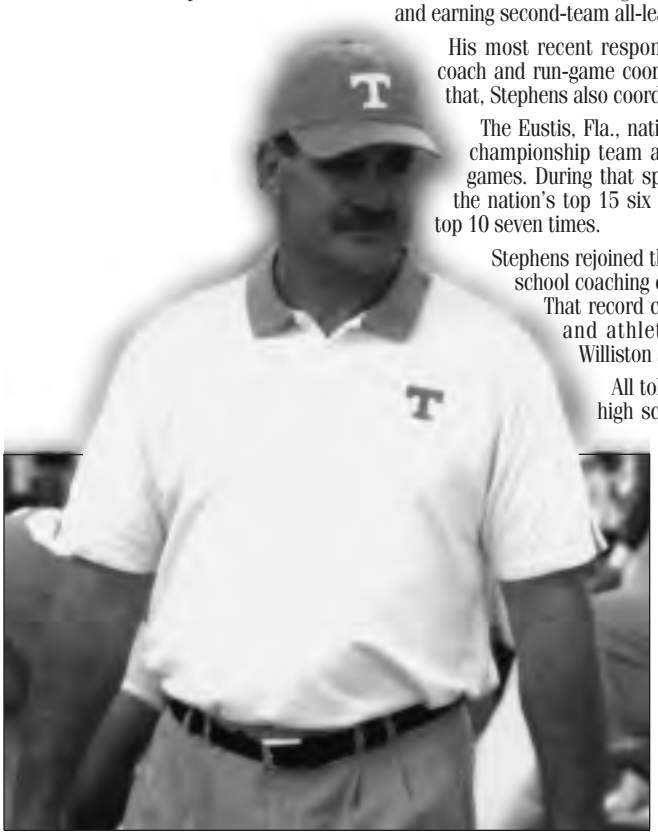
His most recent responsibility at Florida was as offensive line coach and run-game coordinator during the 2001 season. Prior to that, Stephens also coordinated the unit's pass protection.

The Eustis, Fla., native coached on the Gators' 1996 national championship team and helped Florida to nine January bowl games. During that span, Florida's offense was ranked among the nation's top 15 six times and its passing offense among the top 10 seven times.

Stephens rejoined the Gators staff in 1993 after a stellar high school coaching career that saw him compile a 63-7 mark. That record came during a pair of three-year coaching and athletics director stints from 1987-92 at Williston and Fort Walton Beach.

All told, Stephens spent 13 years in the Florida high school coaching ranks as either a head or assistant coach. His recruiting ties to the Sunshine State remain strong and he already has assisted the Vols' efforts there.

Stephens is married to the former Regina Gouge and has two sons, Chris -- who just completed a football career at North Carolina -- and Timmy.



Trooper and Evi Taylor with Starr and Blaise

Trooper Taylor

Assistant Football Coach

Running Backs

The newest member of Tennessee's football coaching staff is Trooper Taylor, who accepted the assistant's position working with running backs in January.

"We're very excited to have Trooper with us," head coach Phillip Fulmer said. "We're already benefiting from his energy and enthusiasm, along with the expertise he brings to the football field and recruiting."

Taylor, 34, accepts the reins of a veteran Tennessee backfield, with Cedric Houston, Jabari Davis, Gerald Riggs Jr. and Corey Larkins all seasoned runners. Houston has a chance this season to be the first player since Curt Watson in 1969-71 to lead UT in rushing three consecutive seasons.

Newcomers David Yancey at tailback and Cory Anderson at fullback add to the mix and both made an impact during spring practice.

"For me, it's a step up being able to coach and recruit in the SEC -- obviously a coach's dream," Taylor said. "You want to be at the highest level. Everybody talks about it being the No. 1 conference in the country and you want to be a part of that."

The Cuero, Texas, native came to Knoxville after a five-year stint at Tulane. He coached four receivers into the NFL during his tenure in New Orleans, including the nation's top receiving trio in 2001 of Adrian Burnette, Kerwin Cook and Terrell Harris. They combined to lead the country with 2,384 receiving yards on 185 catches.

A 1992 Baylor University graduate, Taylor finished his playing career as the school's leader in kickoff returns (53) and return yardage (1,063).

After helping the Bears to the 1991 Copper Bowl and completing his degree, Taylor joined the coaching staff at his alma mater for the 1992 season. He spent two years as a graduate assistant before being named wide receivers coach in 1994. He then coached Baylor's secondary for two years before returning to the wide receivers for one year.

Prior to signing on at Tulane, Taylor spent the 1998 season as running backs coach at New Mexico.

Taylor is married to the former Evi Crosby of Harbor City, Calif.

He and his wife, who was a track and field scholarship athlete at Baylor, were wed in 1992 on the football playing field at Floyd Casey Stadium. They have a son, Blaise, 8, and a daughter, Starr, 6.

Pat Washington, whose gifted receiving corps has been credited with much of the success of UT's traditionally strong passing attack, is hoping for continued prosperity in his 10th season on Phillip Fulmer's staff.

He starts this year with the luxury of an outstanding array of wide receivers. And as a sign of continued strong play from this position over the next few seasons, Washington's group is very evenly balanced by class.

The 10 receivers listed on the 2004 spring depth chart consist of two seniors, four juniors, two sophomores and two redshirt freshmen.

The Vols found a number of potential candidates from a year ago, including the solid Tony Brown, who earned captain's status this year. Jayson Swain, Chris Hannon, C.J. Fayton, and Derrick Tinsley all played roles in a 10-win season. Robert Meachem appears to be a name to watch coming off a redshirt year, while James Banks seems to put himself in the right place at the right time for gamebreaking plays.

Pat and Claudette Washington with Justin and Tyson

Washington's painstaking and effective coaching methods over the past nine seasons have strengthened UT's claim for recognition as Wide Receivers U. Donte' Stallworth, Cedric Wilson, Peerless Price, Marcus Nash and Joey Kent have been among the most celebrated pass-catchers under Washington's direction. In 1998, Washington received recognition as the outstanding receivers coach in the Southeastern Conference.

Before arriving at Tennessee in 1995, Washington's coached running backs for one season at Baylor.

His duties at UT as receivers coach are more similar to his work at TCU in 1992 and 1993. There he directed the play of wide receivers and quarterbacks for the Horned Frogs. His coaching resume also includes three years at Louisiana-Lafayette in charge of receivers.

During the time he played quarterback at Auburn, from 1982-85, Washington did far more than hand the ball off to future Heisman Trophy winner and teammate Bo Jackson. In his junior and senior seasons, he was the signal-caller for Tiger teams that played in the Liberty and Cotton Bowls.

Washington, who served as an Auburn co-captain his senior season, remained on campus as a student graduate assistant coach for two years, assigned to work with the Auburn quarterbacks coach. A native of Mobile, Ala., he won prep All-America honors at Murphy High School.

He and his wife, the former Claudette Malveaux, are the parents of sons Tyson Alexander and Justin Alan.

Football Administration

Gerry Dickey

Assistant Athletics Director
Football Operations

Gerry Dickey returned to Knoxville in August 2003, accepting the position of Assistant Athletics Director for Football Operations on head coach Phillip Fulmer's administrative staff.

Dickey, 34, accepted the move to Tennessee from the University of Mississippi, where he served since February 2001 as assistant AD for football operations under head coach David Cutcliffe. He was hired by Mississippi in December 1998 to serve as the director of football operations.

The Haven, Kan., native began his first stint with the Volunteers in 1993 while working toward his master's degree in sports administration. He served as a graduate assistant in football operations for one year until the completion of his degree in December 1994. During that time he assisted in coordinating and managing official and unofficial on-campus recruiting visits, the UT Coaches Clinic and the Phillip Fulmer Football Camp.

The following summer, Dickey was named UT's Coordinator of Academic Programs and served in that position until being named Associate Director of Student Life in July 1998. He provided academic counsel to Volunteer basketball and football student-athletes and directed the tutorial and study hall operations for student-athletes at Tennessee.

"I'm excited to be back at Tennessee and I want to thank Coach Fulmer for bringing me back," Dickey said.

Dickey's duties at Tennessee are similar to those he had at Mississippi, including oversight of the football program's administrative duties and management of team compliance issues along with the athletics department compliance office. In addition, he directs all postseason planning and preparations, approves scholarships and distribution of funds and supervises and implements strategic planning with the head football coach and staff.

A graduate of Wichita State University, Dickey earned a bachelor's degree in business administration in December 1992. He is married to the former Shelley Warner of Haven, Kan. They are the parents of a 4-year-old daughter, Kyndal, and 1-year-old twin boys, Caleb and Caden.

Condredge Holloway

Assistant Athletics Director
Player Relations

To the delight of Tennessee fans everywhere, a former Vol—so beloved during his playing days that his football deeds were put to music—returned to campus in 1998 as a sports administrator.

Six years later, Condredge Holloway still is the People's Choice, discharging player relations responsibilities on the Phillip Fulmer staff. The 50-year-old Assistant Athletics Director is assigned to deal with various issues that arise in the conduct of a major college football program.

Regardless of the turns his career may take, Holloway always will be associated in the minds of UT fans with the razzle-dazzle offense he quarterbacked during his undergraduate days of the 1970s.

"Go Holloway" was the name of the ballad saluting his talents that echoed throughout Big Orange Country during Holloway's three seasons (1972-74) as the Vols signal-caller. And "go" he did. Nicknamed The Artful Dodger, Holloway became a master of improvising, packing excitement into every play whether it developed into a pass or a ground-gaining scramble.

Consistent with his brilliant sports career, Holloway has been the recipient of numerous honors paying tribute to his singular skills in both football and baseball. He has been inducted into the Canadian Football Hall of Fame, the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame and the UT Baseball Hall of Fame.

Other significant honors directed to Holloway include the Toronto Argonauts retiring his CFL jersey and the league naming him to the 125th Anniversary Team (1873-1998). In 1991, he was named the all-time quarterback at the end of the first century of UT football.

After leading Tennessee to three bowl appearances, Holloway went on to play 13 seasons in the CFL, passing for more than 25,000 yards in a career that took him to Ottawa, Toronto and British Columbia. He was named the league's MVP with the Toronto Argonauts in 1982.

After his pro career ended, Holloway returned to college and earned his degree at UT.

He is married to the former Courtney Haralson and is the father of Jasmine and Condredge III.

Johnny Long is into his third year as leader of the Tennessee fitness program, holding the title of Head Strength and Conditioning Coach.

Long has used a solid teaching regimen to climb the coaching ladder at UT. The former Olympic-caliber weightlifter began as a graduate assistant for the Vols conditioning staff in 1994, and then advanced to the position of Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach two years later. He was named associate coach in 1999 before taking his current post.

He now holds the title of "Certified Collegiate Mentor" for strength and conditioning coaches accross the country. In January, Long served as strength coach for the Las Vegas All-American Classic all-star game.

Tennessee's emphasis on a strong fitness program is epitomized in Long, whose background in weight training underpinned his belief in the link between conditioning and athletics success. Long sets high goals for his charges but makes the standards attainable with realistic workout programs. He is credited by head coach Phillip Fulmer with making physical fitness a basic component of Volunteers football.

Long began his weightlifting career at the age of 8 in his hometown of Baton Rouge, La. He competed for 16 years on the Olympic-caliber level before an injury halted his career at 24 years old. All told, Long competed in numerous Junior Olympics and national weightlifting events before coaching and instruction, something he began at age 15, came to be his top priority.

Long also played linebacker and fullback at Parkview High School before a knee injury ended that career. By then, he was well into his 15-year coaching career at the Regional Olympic Training Center in Baton Rouge.

Graduation from Southeastern Louisiana University in 1994 sparked his move to Knoxville for the graduate assistant's position with the Vols. Since then, he has played a key role in Tennessee's consistent improvement on the football field during the Phillip Fulmer Era, including two SEC titles and the 1998 national championship.

Long is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association, the College Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, the U.S. Weightlifting Federation and the American Football Coaches Association.

He is married to the former Misty Bumgartner of Sylva, N.C.

The 12,000-square-foot Percy Strength Facility houses 140 training stations that have been custom designed and built to the specification set by the training staff. With more than 48,000 pounds of weights and state-of-the-art equipment, the Percy facility is considered one of the best equipped and most functional of its kind.

Roderick Moore

Associate Strength and Conditioning

Moore coordinates the strength and conditioning programs for UT football student-athletes and begins his fourth year overall on Johnny Long's staff.

A 1997 Morehouse College graduate, Moore earned a master's in human performance and sport studies with a concentration in sports psychology from UT in May 2001.

The Nashville native was a member of the football and track and field teams at Morehouse, where he earned all-conference honors.

Moore is married to the former Kori Holley of Pittsburgh, Pa., and the couple was expecting the arrival of their first child in July.

Chris Stewart

Associate Strength and Conditioning

Chris Stewart was recently promoted to Associate Strength and Conditioning Coach. Stewart enters his seventh year overall after nearly three years as an assistant strength coach and previous tenure as a graduate and student assistant.

Stewart assists UT football student-athletes with their strength and conditioning and also is primary strength coach for the nationally acclaimed track and field team and golf squad.

Stewart earned a sport management/exercise science degree from Western Carolina in 1998 and completed his master's from UT in 2001. He is certified through the College Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association.

Stewart is married to the former Sherry Briggs and the couple has a 1-year-old son, Coleson Charles.

Brian Lehmann

Sports Nutritionist Assistant Strength and Conditioning

Brian Lehmann holds the positions of Sports Nutritionist and Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach for UT men's athletics.

The Sabetha, Kan., native earned his master's degree from UT in 2003 after graduating with honors from Kansas State University in 2000.

Lehmann worked with the K-State football program from 1996-99 and has been with the Vols since 2000, combining for seven straight bowl appearnaces and an 82-19 record.

In 2000, the National Strength and Conditioning Association awarded Lehmann the Power Systems Professional Scholarship, recognizing the nation's top promising strength and conditioning professional.

Karen Webber Clements

Keith Clements was named Head Athletic Trainer in September 2002, replacing Mike Rollo as the leader of Tennessee's sports medicine staff. At age 32, Clements continues to be the youngest person to hold this position in the Southeastern Conference.

Clements has been affiliated with Volunteer athletics since August 1997 in the position of Assistant Athletic Trainer/Clinical Instructor. He came to UT as a doctoral graduate assistant from the University of La Verne, where he was football athletic trainer, and from a four-year summer stint with the U.S. Olympic Soccer Team's Development Goalkeeper School.

Prior to that, Clements spent three years at Cal Poly Pomona, serving as assistant athletic trainer while earning a master's degree in exercise biochemistry. He achieved that degree in 1997 and received his bachelor's degree in 1993 from Fresno State, majoring in athletic training.

Keith and Karen Clements

Clements is primarily responsible for coordinating all sports medicine coverage rendered to the Tennessee football program. He brought to UT a vast array of experience from schools in all three NCAA divisions as well as his Olympic team involvement. Furthermore, Clements maintains administrative oversight of the department's comprehensive sports medicine coverage for all men's athletics.

"I had great confidence that Keith would help keep our sports medicine staff top-notch," head coach Phillip Fulmer said of Clements' promotion. "He brought solid credentials to the position."

In addition to football, Clements has spent time with the UT track and field team and was their athletic trainer during the 2001 NCAA Outdoor national championship season. He was a presenter for the 2000 UT College of Pharmacy Lecture Series and is an active presenter among his colleagues at SEC sports medicine meetings.

Clements credits the success of his department to the diversity and strength of his supporting cast.

"I'm very fortunate to be surrounded by an excellent head team physician, great orthopedic surgeons in Knoxville and a fine staff of athletic trainers and physical therapists," he said.

Clements is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), the Southeastern Athletic Trainers Association and the Tennessee Athletic Trainers Society. In 1992, Clements earned an NATA undergraduate scholarship.

He is married to the former Karen Webber of Johnson City.

Dr. Val Gene Iven

Team Physician

Dr. Val Gene Iven enters his 12th year as Team Physician for UT men's athletics.

The Pond Creek, Okla., native serves a dual appointment with athletics and the university's Student Health Center.

Iven earned his B.S. from Oklahoma State in 1985. He received his M.D. in 1989 from the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine.

At UT's Student Health Center, Iven has developed a sports medicine/injury clinic for treating a variety of club, intramural and recreational sports injuries.

He provides event coverage for all men's sports and is responsible for the sports medicine/training staff evaluation, treatment and rehabilitation of all athletic injuries and illnesses in conjunction with Head Athletic Trainer Keith Clements and Physical Therapist Jason McVeigh.

Iven is board certified in family medicine and has a Certificate of Added Qualifications in Sports Medicine.

He and his wife, Angela, have two children, Austyn, 9, and Carson, 4.

Jason McVeigh

Director of Rehabilitation

Jason McVeigh has held the position of Director of Reha-bilitation on the Tennessee sports medicine staff since 1999. He directly oversees the comeback of all Vol athletes from surgery and other injuries.

McVeigh works closely with head athletic trainer Keith Clements in the daily medical care of UT's football team, and with strength coach Johnny Long to coordinate the workout programs of all injured Vol athletes. He also is responsible for the direct oversight of all athletic training needs for UT's track and field team.

McVeigh graduated Summa Cum Laude from UT in 1996 with a B.S. degree in biology. He then went on to receive his master's in physical therapy from Duke University in 1999.

Originally from Buffalo, N.Y., McVeigh grew up in East Tennessee and graduated as valedictorian from Jonesborough's David Crockett High School in 1992. He is married to the former Jennifer Bruorton of Marietta, Ga.

Chad Newman

Associate Trainer

The Chattanooga native assists with the daily care of the UT football team and serves as head trainer for the Vols' basketball program. He also works with Tennessee's golf and tennis teams.

Newman, who first joined the Tennessee staff in a full-time role in 1997, was no stranger to the UT training room, having served as a volunteer student trainer and a graduate assistant before his appointment.

Newman earned his B.S. in exercise science from UT in 1994 and completed his master's in kinesiology in May 1997. Newman is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the American College of Sports Medicine.

He is married to the former Stacey Perry and the couple has a daughter, Katherine.

Jeff Wood

Assistant Trainer

Jeff Wood was promoted to the position of assistant trainer from graduate assistant in September 2002.

The Winfield, W.Va., native has been working on the Tennessee training staff since August 2000, with an emphasis on baseball and football along with general training room supervision. He has been the Vols' baseball trainer since the 2001 season. His primary football responsibility is to supervise the graduate assistant and student trainers that work and travel with the team.

Wood received his bachelor of arts degree from Marshall University in 1984 and earned his master's in exercise science from UT in 2002. While at Marshall, Wood served as a student trainer on the department's sports medicine staff.

Wood is married to the former Malinda Gray and the couple has three sons, Jordan, 15, Lucas, 13, and Zachary, 10.

Sports Medicine Staff

Scott Altizer

Director of High School Relations

Scott Altizer, a Furman University graduate, is employed by head coach Phillip Fulmer on the Tennessee football staff as Director of High School Relations.

A native of Radford, Va., who moved and attended high school in the East Tennessee borough of Morristown, Altizer has been a member of the Tennessee staff since 1994. While attending Furman, he played baseball for the Paladins and had a short professional career after graduating in 1993. He holds a master's degree from Tennessee.

Among Altizer's numerous duties within the Vols football program are organizing the annual Phillip Fulmer Football Camps. He also manages all official and unofficial on-campus visits by prospective football student-athletes and oversees the initial eligibility of Vol signees each year.

Scott is married to the former Sandy Apple of Nashville.

Scott and Sandy Altizer

Gerald Harrison

Director of Community Relations

The Florence, S.C., native was hired following his graduation from UT in December 2001 and his responsibilities include all areas of philanthropy involving UT's football student-athletes.

During the last two years, the Go V.O.L.S. (Volunteering, Outstanding Leadership and Service) Program has led to more than 2,500 hours of community service by UT footballers. Volunteer student-athletes focus on such projects as the Boys and Girls Club and Habitat for Humanity.

Harrison played football at Darlington High Schol for his father, Gerald Harrison Sr., who this year will be a member of the South Carolina State coaching staff. He earned three letters at the center position and was named to the All-Region team during his senior season of 1996.

Gerald Harrison

Roger Frazier

Equipment Manager

Equipment Manager Roger Frazier is responsible for all football equipment issue and maintenance, in addition to handling the purchasing and inventory control of all football game and practice gear.

He also assists in new product development with Adidas.

Now in his 22nd year with the Volunteers football program, the UT graduate began his career in 1978 as student manager before being named equipment manager in spring 1983.

The equipment room was renamed the Roger Frazier and Max Parrott Football Equipment Room, given in their honor by Gordon, Melissa and Hannah Summerfield, on Jan. 25, 2003.

Frazier attended Bradley Central High School in Cleveland and played football. He and his wife, Donna, have two children, Brandon and Barrett.

Joe Harrington

Sports Video Coordinator

Joe Harrington enters his 14th season at Tennessee as the Vols' sports video coordinator. Although his emphasis is on football, Harrington trains the staff working with all UT men's and women's sports teams.

His primary responsibilities include compiling and editing game and practice tapes for coaching analysis, cataloging game tapes and producing "cut-ups." He also manages all equipment and design of the Vols' video department, including the team's state-of-the-art Pinnacle editing system.

A Camillus, N.Y., native, Harrington graduated from UT in 1990 with a communications degree. The College Sports Video Association has named him SEC Video Coordinator of the Year three times (1997, 1998, 2003).

Harrington and his wife, the former Tammy Mulling of Fort Myers, Fla., have two children, Conner, 4, and Abigail, 2.

Max Parrott

Assistant Equipment Manager

Max Parrott is into his 20th season as assistant equipment manager under the direction of Roger Frazier.

Parrott began his association with the Volunteers football program as a student assistant in 1980 before coming back in 1985 to take on the equipment room duty on a full-time basis. He was promoted to his current position in 1987.

Some of his duties include repair of equipment as well as the laundering of all Volunteers gear. The equipment room was renamed the Roger Frazier and Max Parrott Football Equipment Room, given in their honor by Gordon, Melissa and Hannah Summerfield, on Jan. 25, 2003.

Parrott graduated from Soddy-Daisy High School and received his UT bachelor's degree in Arts and Sciences in 1984.

Football Staff

Jason Michael

Graduate Assistant Coach

Jason Michael takes over as a graduate assistant football coach at Tennessee. He works with coach John Chavis and the Volunteers defense and with Steve Caldwell and the special teams staff.

Michael has been at UT since January 2003, working as an assistant for both the strength and conditioning and video staffs.

The Louisa, Ky., native's playing career was capped by guiding Western Kentucky to the 2002 NCAA Division I-AA Football Championship with a 34-14 victory over McNeese State in Chattanooga. That season, Michael passed for 1,661 yards and rushed for another 642 in pacing the Hilltoppers to a 12-3 record and victories in their final 10 games.

Michael graduated from Western Kentucky in December 2002 with a degree in civil engineering technology. For his efforts on and off the field, Michael was named the school's male athlete of the year for 2003.

Geep Wade

Graduate Assistant Coach

Geep Wade joins the staff as a graduate assistant football coach at Tennessee. His duties include working with Randy Sanders and the offensive coaching staff.

The Nashville native comes to Big Orange Country after a one-year stint at Mars Hill, where he was offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator for the Division II North Carolina school. The Lions compiled a 7-4 record in 2003.

Wade spent the previous season as offensive line coach at his alma mater, UT-Chattanooga. During his playing days, Wade was a three-year starter at center and was elected to team captain honors by his teammates as a senior in 2001.

Wade, 26, played his prep football at Battle Ground Academy in Franklin.

Dr. Ruth Darling was named Associate Provost and Director of the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center in February 2001. She oversees the academic support programs for University of Tennessee student-athletes.

Additionally, Dr. Darling has been appointed by the Southeastern Conference to serve as its representative on the NCAA Academics/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet.

Prior to her current post, she served as Director of Student Affairs and Advising Services in the College of Arts and Sciences. There she directed the programs, faculty advisors and staff of the College's Advising Services, a centralized advising center for more than 6,000 undecided and pre-professional students.

Dr. Darling worked extensively with curriculum and academic policy development, new student orientations and in areas relative to student retention, undergraduate learning, and student persistence to graduation.

While serving as Director in the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Darling was active on College and University task forces and committees such as the Undergraduate Student Experience Task Force and Undergraduate Student Retention. She served on the University Advising Committee and the General Education Committee of the Undergraduate Council, the Exempt Staff Council, the Commission for Women, and the Academic Integrity Committee of the Athletic Department. Dr. Darling has received the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Academic Advising and the Mortar Board Citation for Service to the University of Tennessee. In addition, she was nominated for induction into Phi Kappa Phi and Omicron Delta Kappa Society (University Leadership) and selected to attend the University of Tennessee Leadership Institute. Dr. Darling also has received several national awards in the field of academic advising and serves as President of the National Academic Advising Association.

Dr. Darling holds a bachelor's degree from Westminster Choir College (1975) in Princeton, N.J., and earned master's (1977) and doctoral (1999) degrees from the University of Tennessee.

She and her husband, Mike Capps, have a son, Jonathan, who attends Centre College in Danville, Ky.

Bob Kesling

Director of External Communications

Veteran sports announcer Bob Kesling holds the Director of External Communications position in the University of Tennessee Athletics Department.

The longtime sports anchor for Knoxville television station WBIR-TV and lead announcer for Southeastern Conference football and basketball games on the Jefferson-Pilot network was appointed to the job in 1999.

Kesling's responsibilities entail doing the play-by-play announcing for Vols football and basketball and arranging other broadcasts for both men's and women's athletics. In football, Kesling works with color commentator Tim Priest, former Vols defensive back, and sideline reporter Jeff Francis, a Vols quarterback in the 1980s. Former UT basketball player Bert Bertelkamp is the color man for Big Orange men's basketball.

Kesling also serves as the host of the Phillip Fulmer and Buzz Peterson television shows and is host of Vol Calls, a weekly radio call-in program carried on Vol Network stations. In 2002, Bob called first- and second-round NCAA basketball tournament action for Westwood One/CBS Radio.

Born in Texas, Kesling grew up in Kettering, Ohio. He turned south for his education, however, and wound up at UT, where he was a fullback on the junior varsity football team. In 1972, he carried the ball nine times for 40 yards and caught one pass.

After graduation he went to Knoxville radio's WIVK and then switched to television station WBIR as sports director in 1980. He was named Tennessee Sportscaster of the Year in 2002, his fourth such honor.

He and his wife, Tami, are the parents of two girls, Allison and Melissa. Allison is a junior at Tennessee.

DAVID GRIM
Internet Communications Director

The University of Tennessee boasts one of the nation's best and most-visited collegiate athletics Web sites -- UTSports.com. The site features daily updates on each of UT's nine men's sports, contains video and audio clips from the Vols coaches and student-athletes and provides a link for UT fans to purchase official Vols apparel and souvenirs at VolMall.com.

In addition to UTSports.com, Tennessee also provides two additional Web sites, PhillipFulmer.com and BuzzPeterson.net. The sites take you behind the scenes of the UT football and men's basketball programs and provide insight from the head coaches.

The sites are maintained by UT Internet Communications Director David Grim, a 1984 Tennessee graduate. Grim has been in his current position since January 2000 after serving 12 years in the Vols sports information department.

TENNESSEE VIDEO STAFF

BARRY RICE
TV Media Video Coordinator

The Tennessee video staff, headed by TV/Media Video Coordinator Barry Rice, provides a myriad of services to the athletics department.

The hard-working staff produces the Phillip Fulmer, Buzz Peterson and Pat Summitt coaches shows. Those programs air weekly during their respective seasons throughout the state of Tennessee and are hosted by UT Director of External Communications Bob Kesling.

The UT video staff also gathers a variety of clips for inseason and postseason highlight videos.

The staff works closely with the major television networks in securing game footage and provides weekly satellite uplinks with coach and student-athlete interviews.

Rice also serves as the coordinating producer for the JumboTrons in UT athletics facilities, directing his staff for the visual replays. He works closely with Host Communications and the Vol Network in the production of the Big Orange home video collection.

Link Hudson not only films and produces the coaches shows, but also is hard at work in the edit bay piecing together video clips to produce the high-quality tapes seen at postseason banquets and other venues.

Sports Video Coordinator Joe Harrington handles all the filming of football practices and games, and conducts video exchange with upcoming opponents.

Dr. John D. Petersen

President

Dr. John D. Petersen became the 23rd president of the University of Tennessee July 1, 2004. He came to Tennessee from the University of Connecticut, where he was provost and executive vice president for academic affairs.

Petersen succeeded Interim UT President Joseph E. Johnson, who took over in August 2003.

The UT Board of Trustees selected Petersen in April 2004, concluding an unusually open search that included input from all the university's key stakeholder groups and extraordinary open candidate selection meetings. Meetings and interviews were Webcast, and the votes of committee members and trustees were public record.

Petersen says he's not bothered by the public scrutiny.

"Scrutiny of higher education or any institution that receives public support is appropriate," he says. "In all programs, whether academic or athletic, I expect absolute quality and integrity."

Not only does Petersen prize integrity, but he also thinks university leaders should keep in mind they are setting an example for students. "If we're in the business of educating youth, they should be able to look to us as role models."

The 56-year-old Petersen is a California native who earned his degrees at California State University in Los Angeles (B.S., chemistry, 1970) and the University of California at Santa Barbara (Ph.D., inorganic chemistry, 1975). He began his career as an assistant professor at Kansas State University.

His next stop was Clemson University, where he became chemistry department head and associate dean of the College of Sciences. In 1994, he went to Wayne State University in Detroit as dean of the college of science. He joined the University of Connecticut in 2000.

Petersen says he and his wife, Carol, don't contemplate another move anytime soon. They are glad to return to the South, remembering their 13 years in South Carolina during his tenure at Clemson. And being president of the University of Tennessee seems like a perfect "fit."

"I think this is one of the best opportunities you could ask for," Petersen says. The university's close ties to Oak Ridge National Laboratory were particularly attractive to him as a chemist.

"One of the most valuable assets in the university's portfolio is its partnership with Oak Ridge National Laboratory and its role with UT-Battelle [a partnership that manages ORNL for the U.S. Department of Energy].

"The university's very special relationship with the laboratory brings opportunities to share distinguished faculty and world-class facilities that contribute substantially to the quality of our graduates and the state's workforce.

He's anxious to connect with UT alumni.

"I think alumni are our best sources of advertisement and enthusiasm. Even when I was a dean, I spent time talking to alumni groups whenever I was asked and I intend to do that here."

If the university keeps alumni connected, "you couldn't have better ambassadors or a better public relations program."

The Petersens are parents of two children—Melissa, who works in Washington, D.C., and Andrew, a Ph.D. student at UConn. Carol Petersen is a former teacher.

As UT president, John Petersen is the chief executive officer of the statewide UT system and is headquartered in Knoxville.

"For somebody who has spent a career at public land-grant research universities, the University of Tennessee is probably the best place in the country to be at this time," Petersen says. "The state and the institution are poised for greater things. The governor is enthusiastic. I am excited about this university and its potential."

Director of Athletics Mike Hamilton

The toughest part of Mike Hamilton's first year as University of Tennessee Director of Athletics may have been getting his feet back on the ground.

Nothing like the fulfillment of a career goal to send your spirits soaring into the upper reaches of the Smoky Mountains.

Fortunately for the Vols -- and for Hamilton -- he suffered no such distractions and transitioned smoothly into an outstanding rookie campaign leading one of the nation's top athletics programs.

"I've always believed the University of Tennessee athletics director's job was one of the best positions in the nation," he said. "When you enter any business, most people want to achieve at the highest level. Certainly, the athletics director's role at Tennessee provides that opportunity."

Hamilton took the opening and ran with it. He wasted no time putting his imprint on the organization by naming first a chief financial officer and then a director of public relations -- thus meeting a pair of major needs he identified for the organization when he accepted his new post.

The former hire helped effectively cut UT's athletics budget by almost $2 million; the latter aided Hamilton's emphasis on customer service initiatives by offering more personal contact and exposure to Tennessee fans and extended national media.

"Tennessee has a tremendous fan base, and I want to ensure we do everything we can to create a fan-friendly environment," he said.

One of Hamilton's first tasks as athletics director was the launch of "Ask Mike," an e-mail hotline that allows fans quick access to Hamilton for their comments, suggestions and concerns through the UT athletics Web site.

Hamilton also instituted a fan information system -- both outside Neyland Stadium and within Thompson-Boling Arena -- of booths manned by UT staffers to help fans find their way around. A promotional highlight of the 2003 football season was celebration of the "25 Millionth Fan" to enter Neyland Stadium since official records keeping began.

In his first full year as AD, Hamilton made a point to be accessible to Tennessee fans, speaking to more than 75 civic organizations, community groups and university organizations and participating in nearly 100 print, television and radio interviews.

From the day of his appointment, July 1, 2003, Hamilton kept a busy schedule consistent with his desire to run a tight and effective ship.

Saying he was "energized" when he accepted the athletics director's position, Hamilton continues to provide new and exciting ventures for the Volunteer Family to experience.

He initiated a "Letterman's Reunion Weekend," set for the football season opener Sept. 5 against UNLV that includes retro jerseys for the Vols as well as invitations to all former Tennessee football players and their families to return to Knoxville for a weekend of get-togethers and fellowship.

All part of Hamilton's new customer service platform.

"I take the legacy of University of Tennessee athletics very seriously, with names like Nathan Dougherty, Gen. Robert Neyland, Bob Woodruff, John Barnhill and Doug Dickey," Hamilton said. "It's a dream job for me, but also a big responsibility."

FIVE CORE VALUES

- Complying with NCAA and SEC rules;
- Competing for championships;
- Running a financially sound operation;
- Graduating student-athletes; and
- Continuing a pattern of service to the community and state, with the athletics department as a positive role model.

Hamilton also has begun a master planning process for Neyland Stadium along with feasibility studies for Thompson-Boling Arena and Lindsey Nelson Stadium. The initial portions of Neyland Stadium were built in 1921, and UT fans have shown a great deal of interest in Hamilton's plans for the campus showpiece. Early improvements have begun, but major renovations will not happen before he has heard and analyzed the input from the Tennessee family.

On his plate each day are such projects as final construction of the McKenzie Center, the "front door" of the athletics department, the Allan Jones Intercollegiate Aquatic Center, the football locker room at Neyland Stadium, as well as plans for improvements to Thompson-Boling Arena and the soccer, softball and baseball facilities.

Communications -- both internal and external -- are of extreme importance to Hamilton and his management staff. Tennessee's newest athletics director recently renegotiated the department's media contract with Host Communications, resulting in immediate and substantial increases in annual income.

He also initiated with women's athletics director Joan Cronan monthly departmental staff meetings, involving all athletics employees from both the men's and women's sides to better bridge the gap between the two sectors. This move coincided with his early hires and with the recent consolidation of two assistant AD positions into one for marketing the entire UT athletics department.

Also on his mind are what he identifies as "five core values" that guide his daily tenure as AD:

- Complying with NCAA and SEC rules;
- Competing for championships;
- Running a financially sound operation;
- Graduating student-athletes; and
- Continuing a pattern of service to the community and state, with the athletics department as a positive role model.

Under Hamilton's leadership, Tennessee experienced its best year ever in fundraising in fiscal year 2004 and successfully completed the STEP UP campaign, exceeding the goal of $44.25 million by raising a record $48.61 million in the department's first comprehensive capital campaign.

Hamilton previously filled the position of Senior Associate Athletics Director for External Operations, earning that promotion in September 2002, and has been on the UT staff since 1992.

In his former senior associate athletics director's post, the title carried full responsibility for UT's annual donors' program as well as all capital and planned giving. He assumed additional responsibilities in 2002-03 for men's basketball and athletics marketing and promotional efforts.

Gifts to the Volunteer Athletics Scholarship Fund (VASF) alone increased from $4 million a year prior to Hamilton's arrival to $13 million in 2003. Total development gifts -- including VASF annual gifts, capital fund-raising, endowment and gifts-in-kind -- will increase again by $2.5 million in 2004 to better than $23 million overall.

Hamilton was honored in the spring of 1998 when the National Association of Athletic Development Directors named him National Fundraiser of the Year.

The 41-year-old Hamilton, who grew up in Brevard, N.C., served as assistant director of the Deacon Club at Wake Forest University before joining the Vols staff in 1992. He earlier had served as a graduate assistant in fundraising at his alma mater, Clemson University.

"We interviewed and evaluated Mike on the same basis as all the other candidates we measured for the UT assignment," said Dr. Charles Knapp of Heidrick & Struggles, a consultant firm that assisted UT's search for a new athletics director. "We recommended him without reservation as having all the attributes to be successful. Mike Hamilton really measures up well with the very best athletics directors in the country."

> "I think Tennessee collectively has the best coaches in the nation and an athletics staff that's dedicated to supporting their endeavors."

During his time in the development office at Tennessee, additions to the campus landscape included: Neyland Stadium north end zone upper deck, east side sky boxes and JumboTron, Lindsey Nelson Stadium, Goodfriend Tennis Center, Thornton Athletics Student Life Center, renovations to Tom Black Track and the Tennessee Boat House.

"I think Tennessee collectively has the best coaches in the nation and an athletics staff that's dedicated to supporting their endeavors," Hamilton continued. "We have an outstanding support base that gives us an opportunity to be successful on a national level. I certainly want to keep that tradition moving forward, even though I know there are challenges always in front of us to remain at the top.

"It had been a goal of mine to become an athletics director at some period during my career. The realization of that goal at the University of Tennessee was the fulfillment that any athletics administrator would hope to obtain."

In addition to improving his management skills as an associate AD, Hamilton also took advantage in 2001 and 2002 of planned programs like the Athletic Director's Institute in Dallas. The institute, sponsored by the Division I-A Athletic Director's Association, is a three-day seminar for associate and assistant athletics directors from Division I-A programs around the country who are being groomed to become athletics directors.

"Mike is somebody that has impressed me in a major way," said Dutch Baughman, the association's executive director.

"His ability to be open-minded about the institute impressed me so much that several years ago I asked him to return to our annual meeting a few months later and relate his experiences. He stepped right up there and delivered an unbelievably good presentation."

Hamilton is active in the community, serving as a board member for the Knoxville Area Chamber Partnership and most recently as the chair of its annual membership campaign. He also is actively involved with Bethany Christian Services and the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame. In June 2004, he was selected to Leadership Knoxville Class of 2005.

Hamilton and his wife, the former Elizabeth Merrill, also from Brevard, are parents of an 8-year-old daughter, Madison, and a 5-year-old son, Matthew.

Gary Wyant

Executive Associate Athletics Director

Gary Wyant was named Executive Associate Athletics Director in August 2002. He serves as the top aide to Athletics Director Mike Hamilton after four years as Senior Associate Athleitcs Director and five years as chief of staff for head football coach Phillip Fulmer.

Wyant combines the insight he gained as a football coach with the business acumen acquired in 15 years as a banker to assure the administrative processes move along on schedule.

The Wichita, Kan., product oversees the daily operations of the athletics department and serves as liaison between UT and both Adidas and Action Sports Media. He was instrumental in the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center project and currently is focusing his attention on a new aquatics center for the Vols.

Gary starred as a multiple sports standout at East High School. He was a quarterback on the football team, a regional high school wrestling champion in 1957 and the state baseball batting champ in 1958.

At Wichita State University from 1958-61, he played quarterback his freshman and sophomore seasons and defensive back his final two years. Wyant then went directly into college coaching the following season and worked his way up to defensive coordinator by 1965.

His first stint at UT came as a defensive backfield coach from 1971-75. He left Knoxville for a job with Texas Tech in 1976 and closed out his coaching career one year later, after which he became affiliated with a bank in Sparta, Tenn. Coaching stops prior to coming to Tennessee included serving as both an assistant and defensive coordinator at Florida State from 1966-69 and as a defensive secondary coach at Georgia in 1970.

David Woodall

Senior Associate Athletics Director

David Woodall, whose association with Tennessee athletics traces back to his service as football manager, was named Senior Associate Athletics Director in August 2002.

Woodall's responsibilities through the years have included such assignments as football administration, ticket coordination, game management, finance fund raising, souvenirs and concessions.

A Jackson native, Woodall, 51, began his affiliation with the athletics department as head football manager for the 1973, 1974, 1976 and 1977 seasons. Upon graduation from UT in 1975, Woodall stayed in school and completed his law degree in 1978. He passed the bar exam for the State of Tennessee during that year.

After three seasons as administrative aide for the football coaching staff, Woodall moved into ticket coordination at UT and served as Assistant Game Manager on the staff of Gus Manning. He coordinated installation of the department's computer ticketing system in 1983 and later upgraded the network to include fund raising in 1987.

Woodall was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Tickets and Finance in 1988 and became an Associate Athletics Director for Event Management, Souvenirs, Concessions, Tickets and Finance in 1996.

Upon being named a Senior Associate, Woodall's duties began to encompass both the men's and women's departments, especially in the area of competition and service contracts and corporate partner agreements.

Bill Myers

Chief Financial Officer

Bill Myers holds the position of Chief Financial Officer for the UT men's and women's athletics departments. Myers began his new duties in September 2003.

He reports directly to Athletics Directors Mike Hamilton and Joan Cronan, with oversight responsibilities in budgeting, coordination of accounting, financial and capital expenditures, management of cash flow and risk management. He also handles internal and external audits of financial information.

A Seymour native, Myers came to UT in July 1998, serving two years as Assistant Director of Development. He managed the daily operations of the Volunteer Athletic Scholarship Fund, assisting in ticket assignment and working with donors. He also oversaw the Collegiate Club and managed a network of 130 volunteers. He was Associate Director of Development from January 2000 to May 2001, overseeing the VASF and helping coordinate the Big Orange Caravan.

Myers became Director of Annual Giving from May 2001 to August 2002, managing the VASF to an all-time giving high of $13.26 million and overseeing daily operations of the annual giving program. He was named Assistant Athletic Director for Development in August 2002, with oversight of the office of Assistant Director of Development and five student workers in the Development Office.

Myers is a 1992 UT graduate in business administration and finance, and earned his master's degree from UT in education, human performance and sports studies in 1997.

He is married to the former Rachel Keys of Gray, and they have a 1-year-old daughter, Kate.

Athletic Administration

Brad Bertani

Associate Athletics Director

Compliance

Brad Bertani assumed the position of Associate Athletics Director for Compliance in February.

Bertani, 35, came to UT from Marshall, where he held the same position since January 2002. Prior to his Marshall employment, Bertani worked four years as a membership services representative for the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Bertani served as an athletics compliance and academic coordinator at the University of Detroit Mercy from 1994-97, and before that spent six months as assistant to the compliance director at Ohio State University.

He earned his bachelor's degree in political science from Denison University in 1991, and then completed a master's in sports administration at Ohio University and his law degree at Capital University in 1994.

Bertani is married to the former Gretchen Harris of Columbus, Ohio. They have three children, Lydia, 7, Joey, 3, and Lindsey, 1.

John Currie

Associate Athletics Director

External Operations

John Currie was named Associate Athletics Director for External Operations in June after serving as Associate AD for Development since 2002.

In August 2003, Currie's responsibilities were expanded to include leadership of UT's athletics marketing and ticketing offices. In the 2003-04 fiscal year, VASF donors, Vol ticket customers and corporate sponsors invested more than $50 million in support of UT student-athletes.

Currie first came to UT in 1997 as executive director of the VASF. After a two-year stint at Wake Forest, he returned to the Vols in August 2000 as Assistant AD for Development. Currie also served as campaign director for the recently completed "STEP UP" campaign that exceeded its goal and reached a $48.6 million total.

President of the SEC development directors for 2004-05, Currie earned his master's in sports management from UT and also is a 1993 Wake Forest University graduate. He and his wife, Mary Lawrence, have two children, Jack and Virginia.

Harris D. (Bud) Ford

Associate Athletics Director

Media Relations

A 39-year veteran of his profession, University of Tennessee graduate Bud Ford was promoted in April 2000 to the position of Associate Athletics Director for Media Relations. He was elected to the CoSIDA Hall of Fame in May 2001.

Ford began his career as a part-time employee in the Vols publicity office while he completed undergraduate studies. He then pioneered the position of full-time Assistant SID in 1966 upon completion of his degree in retailing. For the next 35 years, he worked alongside CoSIDA Hall of Fame member Haywood Harris. In January 1988, Ford was promoted to Sports Information Director and in March 1989 was named Assistant Athletics Director for Sports Information.

Ford works with an expanded staff of full-time and student employees in meeting the needs of the media who cover the Vols. Under Ford's direction, Tennessee's publications have received more than 35 "Best in the Nation" honors.

David Blackburn

Assistant Athletics Director

Development

David Blackburn filled the Assistant Athletics Director for Development position in August 2003. The 12-year athletics department veteran previously had served a five-year stint as Assistant AD for Football Administration, working closely with head coach Phillip Fulmer.

A Loudon native, Blackburn's duties revolve around the Volunteer Athletic Scholarship Fund's annual giving program, including its network of volunteers and related activities. He is responsible for the operations of the development office and donor services.

Blackburn, 38, graduated from UT in 1989 after serving two years as head football student manager. His first full-time position on the football staff was as assistant recruiting coordinator, followed by dual responsibilities as administrative assistant for football and manager of recruiting compliance for all men's teams.

Chris Fuller

Assistant Athletics Director

Sales & Marketing

Chris Fuller joined the UT staff in June as Assistant Athletics Director for Sales and Marketing.

He accepted responsibility for cultivating corporate partner relationships, developing and implementing season ticket and group sales and developing marketing and promotional plans for men's and women's athletics.

Most recently, Fuller served as a consultant for the Mid-American Conference, Bowling Green State University and Troy State University. Prior to that, he served as vice president of collegiate marketing for the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Fuller previously served as director of business operations and university services for ACC Properties, and was assistant sports marketing director at North Carolina.

Bill Higdon

Assistant Athletics Director

Event Management

Bill Higdon was named in 1992 as assistant athletics director for event management.

Higdon, a UT graduate, has been on the Vols staff since 1975, serving first as football recruiting coordinator and then as senior administrative assistant for Tennessee's football office.

A Knoxville native, Higdon earned a master's degree from Western Kentucky University, where he was an assistant coach on the 1971 NCAA Final Four team.

Higdon is married to the former Susan Wolcott. They have two children, Julie and David.

Mike Rollo

Associate Athletics Director

Facilities

Mike Rollo, affiliated with Vol athletics since his undergraduate days, was promoted in September 2002 to Associate Athletics Director for Facilities. The job change ended Rollo's 30-year tenure with the UT athletic training staff.

A Kingston native, Rollo was appointed head athletic trainer in August 1992 shortly after the death of Tim Kerin and served from 2000-02 as Assistant Athletics Director for sports medicine. He worked with the Vols basketball team from 1976-92 while advancing through the ranks as student assistant trainer (1973-77), graduate assistant trainer (1977-80), assistant trainer (1980-86) and associate head trainer (1986-92).

Rollo's current role uses his experience and organizational abilities to lead the UT athletic facilities program, which currently is in the process of building, renovating and expanding facilities benefiting 17 of UT's 20 sports teams.

Rollo, 47, earned his B.S. degree in education in 1977 and received an M.S. degree in 1981, both from UT. The Tennessee Athletic Trainers Society named him Trainer of the Year in 2001.

Carmen Tegano

Associate Athletics Director

Administration

Carmen Tegano is Associate Athletics Director for Administration. His primary responsibilities are management of the baseball program and working with the office of development in the area of fundraising and endowments from former student-athletes.

Tegano has been with the Athletics Department since 1985 and was previously the Associate Athletics Director for Student Life.

Tegano holds a doctorate from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University (Virginia Tech), where he served as assistant athletics director before joining the Tennessee staff. He coached at both the high school and college levels prior to entering athletics administration in 1980. Tegano is an adjunct professor at Tennessee and has taught numerous courses in the area of athletics administration and leadership.

He and his wife, Deborah, have two daughters, Rachel and Mary Katherine.

Tyler Johnson

Operations

Tyler Johnson was named Assistant Athletics Director for Operations in June 2002. He has served on the athletics department staff since 1995.

Johnson, 35, has responsibilities that include managing the department's scholarship program, squad lists and other day-to-day operations.

He served most recently as associate director of the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center in the areas of academic advising and eligibility for football and baseball. He also had responsibility for building management and supervision.

Johnson is a 1994 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, La Crosse, with a degree in physical education teaching and a minor in coaching competitive athletics. He earned his master's degree from UT in sport management in 1995.

Dara Worrell

Assistant Athletics Director

Tickets

Dara Worrell was promoted in August 2002 to Assistant Athletics Director for Tickets after spending five years as Lady Vols Assistant AD for Tickets and Business. She oversees the ticket processing responsibilities for both the men's and women's athletic programs.

Worrell got her start at Tennessee in 1993 as a marketing/promotions intern with the Lady Vols. Worrell then served as an administrative intern with women's athletics during the 1994-95 season before being named the ticket/business manager, a post she held for five years.

A 1993 graduate of Tennessee Technological University, Worrell earned her bachelor's in business administration/marketing. While at Tech, she served as a manager for the women's basketball team, coached by her father, Bill.

The Cookeville native is an August 1994 recipient of a UT master's degree in recreation/sport management.

Tiffany Carpenter

Director

Public Relations

Tiffany Utsman Carpenter serves as Director of Public Relations for the UT Athletics Department. In this position, she is responsible for developing and implementing public relations strategy for the department.

The Bristol native previously served as account supervisor for Atkinson Public Relations and as an account executive at The Ingram Group, both in Nashville. She also has assisted with the launch of the Nashville Predators and served as community and media relations advisor for the American Basketball League's Nashville Noise.

Carpenter is a 1996 UT graduate with a bachelor's degree in public relations. She is married to Allen Carpenter of Knoxville.

Scott Rabenold

Director

Capital Support

Scott Rabenold has been UT's Director of Capital Support since October 2002, with an emphasis on athletics department fund raising.

A Montezuma, Iowa, native, Rabenold came to UT from the University of Memphis, where he spent 2001-02 as assistant AD for annual giving. He previously served as assistant director of the Wake Forest Deacon Club from 1998-2001.

The 1997 University of Iowa graduate played basketball for the Hawkeyes from 1993-98, participating in two NCAA tournaments. He earned his MBA from Drake University in 2000.

Rabenold is married to the former Sarah Hotchkiss of Eldridge, Iowa. They have a 1-year-old son, Spencer.

TRACK AND FOOTBALL ATHLETES

Two-sport athletes at UT enjoy a long history. In the modern era, track and field coupled with football make a natural combination -- their seasons occur in different parts of the year, they demand speed, strength and proper technique, and they allow an athlete to be challenged in dual capacities.

"For those exceptional young men who want to combine football with track and field, the University of Tennessee offers a special opportunity," Phillip Fulmer said. Current Vols who have spent time in both sports include Robert Boulware and Jonathan Wade.

Former two-sport athletes at UT who went on to careers in professional football:

Reggie Cobb, Tampa Bay (1990), RB/Jumps
Richmond Flowers, Dallas (1969), WB/Hurdles
Willie Gault, Chicago (1983), WR/Sprints, Hurdles
Sam Graddy, Denver (1987), WR/Sprints
Anthony Hancock, Kansas City (1982), WR/Hurdles
Terry McDaniel, Oakland (1988), DB/Sprints
Anthony Miller, San Diego (1988), WR/Sprints
Stanley Morgan, New England (1977), WR/Sprints
Tom Myslinski, Dallas (1992), OL/Shot Put
Carl Pickens, Cincinnati (1990), WR/High Jump
Darwin Walker, Arizona (2000), DT/Shot Put

FIFTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS

The Volunteers completed a winning season in 2003 for a 15th consecutive year, extending the school record that eclipsed the old mark of 12 established from 1965-76.

Head coach Phillip Fulmer played a part in the former streak as well, both as a player and graduate assistant coach at UT from 1968-73.

Tennessee has won at least eight games each season during the 15-year run, joining Michigan (19) and Florida State (17) as the three teams with such a streak. UT also has managed to post a winning conference mark each year during that span.

VOLS A HOLIDAY FAVORITE

Tennessee football is a regular on college football's postseason bowl menu. The 2003 season marked the Vols' 44th all-time bowl appearance. Tennessee's invitation to the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl was its 15th straight bowl appearance, the longest stretch in school history.

Thirteen of those bowl bids have been to games played in the month of January, including eight of the last nine.

VOLS RATED IN PRESEASON POLLS

Here's a look at how various national magazines view the 2004 Vols heading into this season, both nationally and in the SEC.

Lindy's pegs Tennessee No. 10 nationally and second in a very tough SEC Eastern Division. Southeastern Football Saturdays also tabs the Vols 10th nationally and third in the SEC East. UT is a No. 12 pick nationally by Street & Smith's, 16th by Blue Ribbon and 18th by Athlon's.

Tennessee is a second-place choice in the SEC East by College Football News, The Sporting News and Birmingham News and winds up a consensus second-place selection behind Georgia for divisional honors.

Individual awards include preseason All-America nods to punter Dustin Colquitt (Athlon's, Blue Ribbon) and Kevin Burnett (Playboy). Offensive tackle Michael Munoz is a consensus All-SEC selection and a second-team All-America pick by Lindy's, while tailback Cedric Houston, defensive end Parys Haralson and linebacker Kevin Simon rated second-team All-SEC selections by the various publications.

83 Victor McClure

Senior, 2L
Tight End
Hixson

Full name: Victor Michael McClure ... Tennessee's tight end starter from last year has two full seasons under his belt at what recently was new position ... Made switch before 2002 campaign from offensive lineman ... Finished last year by making seven starts, including season opener ... Had first career reception against Miami, an 11-yard catch for first-down yardage ... Expects to be bigger factor in offense this season after solid performance during spring ... Once regarded as most athletic of Tennessee's heralded offensive line, so move to tight end took advantage of agility ... Appeared in every game each of last two years ... Blessed with needed size for blocking tight end ... Coach Adkins' evaluation: "Victor's a guy who played well for us last year. He didn't have a lot of catches but now seems to be more involved in the offense." ... Born: May 28, 1981.

CAREER - Games/Started: 28/7 ... 2003 - Games/Started: 13/7 ... Built for blocking, stocky guard-turned-tight end enhanced Tennessee's rushing attack in 2003 ... Started first game as Vol in season-opener against Fresno State ... Started seven games during season (UT's offense opened in three-wide formation other six contests) ... Had first career reception against Miami, an 11-yard grab for first-down yardage ... 2002 - Games/Started: 13/0 ... Slated to be part of offensive line but lack of depth at tight end forced his move to outside ... Athletic ability and quickness enabled him to make transition to provide valuable blocking assistance on short yardage and other running situations ... Helped lead way in Vols' final scoring drive against South Carolina ... Vols continually ran behind his blocking during 17-play drive ... 2001 - Games/Started: 2/0 ... Saw playing time in both Memphis and Vanderbilt contests ... 2000 - Redshirted ... HIGH SCHOOL - Class 5A All-State selection, along with All-Tri-State and All-Region honors ... As senior, McClure recorded 65 tackles including 12 tackles for loss and five sacks as defensive end ... Also had two fumble recoveries and eight quarterback pressures ... Played tight end as junior and offensive tackle as sophomore and senior ... Coach at Soddy-Daisy High School: Glen Ryan.

95 Tony McDaniel

Sophomore, 1L
Defensive Tackle
Columbia, S.C.

Full name: Anthony Dewayne McDaniel ... This talented lineman has tools in place to make immediate impact ... Size and speed give him immense potential ... Played in 11 games last season as true freshman and bracketed for starter's slot along with Justin Harrell entering fall drills ... Coach Brooks' evaluation: "Tony has as much upside as any defensive tackle we've got on our team. He's a talented guy and we have to find a way to get the very best out of him every down he's in the game." ... Born: Jan. 28, 1985.

CAREER - Games/Started: 11/0 ... 2003 - Games/Started 11/0 ... Provided much-needed depth on defensive front ... Played in 11 games and logged seven tackles during season ... His solo stop vs. Vanderbilt was good for 2-yard loss ... HIGH SCHOOL - Named to The (Columbia) State's Class AAAA/AAA All-Area Team ... Rated by TigersIllustrated.com the No. 1 defensive lineman in South Carolina and the No. 9 overall prospect in South Carolina ... As senior, had nearly 100 tackles with 15 sacks en route to becoming All-State selection and participant in annual Shrine Bowl Game ... Coach at W.J. Keenan High School: Ernie Hughes.

NOVEMBERS TO REMEMBER

Tennessee has been dominant in the month of November over the last 19 years, compiling a 73-4 record. Since 1985, the Vols are 42-2 at home and 31-2 on the road during the Thanksgiving month.

Three of the Vols' November setbacks since 1985 have come by five points or less, including a 34-29 home loss to Notre Dame in 1990. The Fighting Irish were ranked No. 1 in the nation at game time. Tennessee also lost 21-17 at Memphis in 1996 and 28-24 at Arkansas in 2000. Top-ranked Miami (Fla.) dealt Tennessee a 26-3 defeat in 2002.

Under Phillip Fulmer, Tennessee is 42-3 in November, including six victories against nationally ranked opponents.

VOLS ALWAYS A HIT IN THE NFL

Tennessee remains one of the top schools nationally in supplying talent to the National Football League. The 2004 NFL Draft saw four Volunteers taken as UT maintained its rank atop the collegiate list for drafted players since the end of Phillip Fulmer's first full coaching season.

Tennessee's drafted players were Gibril Wilson to the New York Giants, Troy Fleming to the Tennessee Titans, Mark Jones to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and Scott Wells to the Green Bay Packers. The SEC had 42 players chosen, including a nation-leading 20 players selected in the first three rounds.

UT's 72 players selected since the 1994 NFL Draft -- which followed the end of Fulmer's first season at Tennessee -- leads the nation. Close behind the Vols are Ohio State with 71 and Florida State at 69.

Nick Wilson

David Yancey

The Volunteer Squad

On the Volunteer Squad...

"One of the rewarding parts of my job is to have the opportunity to coach our non-scholarship athletes. It is really fun to see these young men, who often work themselves into a key part of our team, come in with great enthusiasm and passion for Tennessee football.

"Many times it is only a little maturity, added strength level and extra coaching that blossoms them into contributors to our program. Some develop into scholarship athletes and continue as pro football players, while others may have limited playing time in striving toward their degree. Each reflects the attitude and desire that make college football special.

AT KNOXVILLE: Tennessee leads 1-0
AT RUSTON: No Meetings
AT NEUTRAL SITE: No Meetings

Series Notes

- The Vols hold a 61-16-3 (.781) record in Homecoming games. Last year the Vols earned a 23-6 win over Duke at Homecoming.

- Tennessee won the only other meeting with the Bulldogs, a 50-0 decision in the 1993 season opener. It was the first season opener under head coach Phillip Fulmer.

- This is the second consecutive season Tennessee has played a team from the Western Athletic Conference. Last year the Vols defeated Fresno State 24-6 in the home opener.

- Tennessee holds a 14-1 (.933) record against current members of the Western Athletic Conference. This is just UT's second game against a WAC opponent in the last 10 years.

AT ATHENS: Tennessee leads 8-7-1
AT NEUTRAL SITE: No Meetings

Series Notes

- Tennessee has won nine of the last 13 meetings dating back to the 1989 season. However, the Bulldogs have won the last four games between the schools.

- Two of Tennessee's last three road losses have come at Georgia's Sanford Stadium.

- Georgia's four-game winning streak against the Vols is tied for the second-longest ever. From 1909-1924 the Bulldogs won five consecutive contests against Tennessee. The Vols own the longest winning streak in the series, winning nine in a row from 1989 through 1999.

- Tennessee, Georgia and Florida are the only three schools to represent the SEC's Eastern Division in the SEC Championship game. Last year the Bulldogs fell to LSU 34-13 in the conference championship game.

Series Notes

- The Alabama series is one of the oldest in the history of Tennessee football as the two squads will be playing for the 87th time this season. Alabama is the permanent SEC Western Division opponent the Vols face each year.

- Tennessee and Alabama have met on a yearly basis since 1928 with the exception of the war year in 1943.

- Tennessee has won eight of its last nine meetings with Alabama.

- UT's 51-43 five overtime win in Tuscaloosa last year is Tennessee's second-longest game ever. In 2002 the Vols played six overtimes in a 41-38 victory over Arkansas.

- Alabama (21) and Tennessee (13) rank first and second, respectively, in number of SEC championships. The Crimson Tide (51) and the Vols (44) also rank first and second in the NCAA for number of bowl game appearances.

- Alabama (1992) and Tennessee (1998) both won national championships in the 1990s. In all, Alabama has won 12 national championships and Tennessee has won six.

Series Information

SERIES RECORD: Tennessee leads 18-2-2
AT KNOXVILLE: Tennessee leads 12-0
AT COLUMBIA: Tennessee leads 6-2-2

Series Notes

• The Vols hold an 11-1 (.916) record against the Gamecocks since South Carolina joined the Southeastern Conference in 1992. Tennessee has won 11 consecutive meetings and 16 of the last 17.

• Tennessee head coach Phillip Fulmer got his 100th career victory in the 2002 contest, an 18-10 Tennessee win at Columbia. Fulmer is 11-0 all-time against South Carolina.

• The last four games between the Vols and the Gamecocks have been decided by eight points or less. In 2000 the Vols rallied for a 17-14 win on a Travis Henry touchdown with 26 seconds left in Columbia. In 2001, Travis Stephens broke a 10-10 tie on a 1-yard run with 7:52 remaining for a 17-10 UT win at Knoxville. In 2002, the Vols held the Gamecocks to just 45 yards passing to notch an 18-10 victory at Columbia. UT took a 23-20 overtime win in 2003.

• South Carolina's last victory against Tennessee came in 1992 when the Gamecocks upset the No. 16 Vols 24-23 at Columbia on Halloween. South Carolina's only other win in the series came in 1903 by a 24-0 score.

Series Information

SERIES RECORD: Tennessee leads 4-2
AT KNOXVILLE: Tennessee leads 2-1
AT SOUTH BEND: Tennessee leads 2-1
AT NEUTRAL SITE: No Meetings

Series Notes

• Notre Dame's last visit to Knoxville resulted in a 38-14 Tennessee win Nov. 6, 1999. Tee Martin threw three touchdown passes while Travis Henry ran for 132 yards and a score.

• Tennessee won its third straight game against the Irish with a 28-18 victory in South Bend in 2001. A 1-yard touchdown run by quarterback Casey Clausen on fourth down with 35 seconds left sealed the win for the Vols.

• The 1991 meeting between Tennessee and Notre Dame netted one of the greatest comebacks in UT history. The Vols escaped Notre Dame Stadium with a 35-34 victory Nov. 9, 1991. UT trailed 31-7 in the second quarter before outscoring the Irish 28-3. Jeremy Lincoln partially blocked a Notre Dame field goal attempt on the game's final play to seal the victory.

Series Information

SERIES RECORD: Tennessee leads 66-26-5
AT KNOXVILLE: Tennessee leads 34-9-1
AT NASHVILLE: Tennessee leads 32-17-4

Series Notes

- Tennessee has won the last 21 meetings in the series dating back to 1983. The winning streak for the Vols is the longest for either team. It is the third-longest current streak over a major opponent in Division I-A. Only Notre Dame over Navy (40) and Nebraska over Kansas (35) have longer streaks.

- The Vols have won the last 14 meetings with the Commodores at Neyland Stadium and 21 of the last 22.

- Vanderbilt's last win over the Vols came in 1982, a 28-21 decision at Nashville.

- This season's game marks the 98th time Tennessee and Vanderbilt will meet. It is the second longest rivalry for the Vols behind Kentucky.

- Vanderbilt has not won consecutive games against Tennessee since back-to-back wins in 1925 and 1926. Those years concluded a six-game series win streak by the Commodores.

- Tennessee head coach Phillip Fulmer served as an assistant at Vanderbilt in 1979.

SEC Championship

DECEMBER 4 • AT ATLANTA • GEORGIA DOME (71,500)

The Southeastern Conference's Eastern and Western Division winners will meet in Atlanta's Georgia Dome to battle for the league championship and the right to represent the conference in the Bowl Championship Series. The 13th annual title game is set for December 4 and will be nationally televised by CBS Sports.

The game is a result of conference expansion, which saw Arkansas and South Carolina become the first members added in SEC history. Under NCAA regulations, a conference with 12 members may play a 12th football game to determine its champion, provided the regular season is played in divisions.

The participants of the game are determined each year during the eight-game regular-season conference schedule as the teams with the best overall SEC winning percentage in each division.

The LSU Tigers won last year's championship game by defeating the Georgia Bulldogs 34-13. LSU won its second SEC Championship in three years. The Tigers went on to win the national championship with a 21-14 victory over Oklahoma in the Nokia Sugar Bowl.

The Southeastern Conference

Mike Slive
Commissioner

In the ever-changing world of intercollegiate athletics, the tradition of excellence in the Southeastern Conference has remained constant.

When the SEC was formed in 1933, college football was still in its infancy. Numbers on uniforms were not yet mandatory and helmets were optional. If there was more than one incomplete pass in a team's series, that team was penalized five yards.

One year later, in 1934 - before the advent of the Associated Press and United Press International polls - an SEC team, Alabama, was named a national football champion by four rating services - Dunkel, Houlgate, Poling and Williamson.

The SEC began play in 1933 with 13 teams, 10 of which continue to play today in the league. Only Georgia Tech, Tulane and Sewanee have dropped from the SEC since then and two schools - South Carolina and Arkansas - were added before the 1992 season.

It's this consistency that has made the Southeastern Conference a leader in college football.

SEC rivalries are some of the most revered in the country. Auburn and Georgia have met on the gridiron 107 times. Mississippi and Mississippi State have battled 100 times. Kentucky and Tennessee have played 99 times and Tennessee and Vanderbilt have met 97 times. And, rivalries like Alabama-Auburn, Georgia-Florida and Alabama-Tennessee are considered the fiercest in college football.

The SEC has maintained its place as one of the top conferences in college football by its vision and leadership. The SEC was the first to have a conference championship game, the first to have its own national television package and the first to have seven post-season bowl tie-ins.

Winning - on and off the field of play - is another SEC trademark. Since 1951, SEC teams have won 15 national championships. The 12 schools currently in the SEC have appeared in 331 post-season bowl games - the most of any conference in the country. The SEC has posted a winning non-conference record every year since 1933 with the exception of one season (1979).

Off the field, 255 football players made the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 2003. The SEC has had 126 of its own football student-athletes named to the Academic All-America first team since 1954.

The SEC also had three of the six Division I-A football players named National Football Foundation/College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athletes - Auburn's Dontarrious Thomas, LSU's Rodney Reed and Eli Manning of Mississippi.

The NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship, given to student-athletes who maintain a cumulative 3.0 grade point average during their collegiate careers and perform with distinction in varsity football, has been awarded to 64 former SEC gridiron standouts.

What's the best way to judge which conference is the best in the nation?

Is it the quality of the competition from top to bottom in a league? Year-in and year-out, the Southeastern Conference is one of the most competitive conferences in the country. In 2003, 19 SEC intra-conference games were decided by 10-points-or-less. More games were decided by 10-points-or-less in the SEC than were decided by 20 points-or-more.

The average margin of an SEC intra-conference game was 16.53 points per contest, fifth in the nation and second among BCS conferences.

Is it how a conference fares against non-conference competition? The SEC's 37-19 non-conference record in 2003 was the second best in the nation and only the ACC matched the SEC's five bowl wins last season.

Last season, the SEC had five victories against non-conference teams ranked in the final wire service polls (#3 Oklahoma, #5 Miami, Fla., #12 Texas, #18 Purdue, #22 Clemson), with all victories either taking place on a neutral field or on the opponents' home turf.

This season, the SEC had five teams ranked in the final Top 25, matching the Big Ten as the most in the nation. In the last seven seasons, the SEC has had 36 teams ranked in the final Associated Press poll, more than any other conference in the nation.

Is it competing for the national championship? LSU won the national championship in 2003 with a 13-1 record and a 21-14 victory over Oklahoma in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. It was the SEC's 15th national championship and the league's fourth national title since league expansion in 1992.

In fact, the SEC's four national crowns since 1992 have been won by four different teams - Alabama (1992), Florida (1996), Tennessee (1998) and LSU (2003). No other conference has had as many as two different teams win national championships since 1992.

Is it playing in front of capacity crowds on fun-filled Saturdays with a tradition that is unparalleled? The SEC, for the 23rd straight season, recorded the largest total attendance figures in the nation with more than 6.1 million fans attending games at SEC stadiums in 2003. SEC stadiums were filled to an NCAA-high 97.1 percent last season. Seven SEC teams were in the top 13 in the nation in average and total attendance.

Is it being the nation's most watched college football conference? The SEC is the only conference in the nation to have a nationally-network televised game each week during the season with its CBS Sports affiliation. The SEC is also showcased on most Saturday nights on ESPN and ESPN2 and Jefferson-Pilot Sports brings the SEC into the homes of SEC fans each weekend.

Is it seeing the most talented student-athletes perform each week during the season? In 2003, 13 SEC players earned first-team All-America mention. The SEC also had the winner of the Maxwell National Player of the Year Award and the Johnny Unitas Award for the nation's top quarterback (Mississippi's Eli Manning) and the Lou Groza Award for the nation's top placekicker (Mississippi's Jonathan Nichols). Ten other SEC student-athletes were finalists for eight other awards.

Is the best way to judge a conference the quality of achievement both on the field and in the classroom? Last season, for the second year in a row, the SEC had three of the six student-athletes given designation as National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes - Auburn's Dontarrious Thomas, LSU's Rodney Reed and Eli Manning of Mississippi.

Reed also earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America mention and four other SEC student-athletes - LSU's Matt Mauck, Arkansas' Jerry Reith, Robert Wallis of Miss. State and Auburn's Thomas were second-team Academic All-Americans.

In 2003, 255 football student-athletes earned SEC Academic Honor Roll status, maintaining a 3.0 grade point average for the previous academic year or during his academic career.

BOWL CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES ENTERS SEVENTH SEASON

The Bowl Championship Series consists of the FedEx Orange, Nokia Sugar, Rose and Tostitos Fiesta Bowls. The conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and Southeastern Conferences. ABC-TV will televise the four Bowl Championship Series games.

The Bowl Championship Series guarantees a matchup between college football's top two teams in a true national championship game.

Any Division I-A independent team or champion of Conference USA, Mid-American, Mountain West or Western Athletic conferences will be guaranteed a slot in one of the four BCS games should that team be ranked sixth or higher in the final BCS standings unless more than two teams meet this criteria. Should more than two be ranked in the top six of the standings, the BCS bowl selecting will have its choice of any two from that group.

Otherwise, any Division I-A team can qualify for selection in the BCS if they have won at least 9 college football games during the most recently completed regular season (not to include wins in exempted games) and are ranked in the top 12 of the final BCS standings.

At the conclusion of the 2004 regular season, the FedEx Orange Bowl will host the National Championship contest. The game will be played on Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. ET in Miami, Fla. The Orange Bowl shall select the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season standings.

2004-05 Bowl Schedule

Bowl Games Provide Revenue...

- This year 28 bowl games will distribute more than $187 million to NCAA schools. More than $820 million has been paid out in just the past five years and the bowls will conservatively payout more than $2.1 billion over the next 10 years.
- Almost all Bowl games are non-profit organizations. The more revenue the bowl brings in through ticket sales, sponsors, etc. the more money can be paid to NCAA schools.

Bowl Games Are Tradition...

- Bowl games have been a part of college football for 90 years. They have provided some of the greatest moments in college football history and add to the pageantry, color and excitement of the game. Bowl games are as much a part of the tradition of college football as any other aspect of the game.
- The addition of bowl games has provided opportunities for more schools to participate in the "bowl experience." That means more student athletes, coaches, cheerleaders, band members, halftime performers, administrators, alumni, college football fans and communities can be a part of this unforgettable experience. College football bowl games offer these people memories that can last a lifetime.
- No other intercollegiate sport plays as few regular season games as football and every game means something, conference championships mean something.

Bowl Games Are Popular...

- Total attendance increased this past year as a record of more than 1.45 million fans attended 28 bowl games. The average capacity-filled of the bowl stadiums was 89%. Fifteen bowls were at least 90% filled. Thirteen bowls were at least 99% filled.
- Average attendance was up 3.2% this past year. Of the 20 current bowls that have been played at least five years attendance was up and stadium capacity was at 95.2%. Newer bowls don't have the benefit of years of building a local base of support.
- The combined TV audience for the 28 bowls was an average of 117 million households and 17 games saw increases in TV viewer-ship.

Bowls Benefit Communities...

- Bowl games generate an estimated $1.1 billion dollars worth of economic impact for their host communities each year. This does not include the value of exposure.
- Bowls benefit not only NCAA institutions but local causes and charities. Many bowls contribute in excess of $100,000 annually to charitable causes and host camps for disadvantaged youth.

TIMELESS TRADITION

James Banks caught this overtime toss for a 23-20 victory over South Carolina.

Parys Haralson and the Vol defense smothered Florida for UT's second straight win in Gainesville.

Vols Ride Late-Season Winning Streak to Capture Share of SEC Eastern Division Crown

Not at all happy about Tennessee's disappearance from the ranks of national powerhouses the previous season, Phillip Fulmer attacked the problem with his tried-and-true emphasis on hard-nosed football and returned the Vols to championship form in 2003.

Sharing in a three-way deadlock for the Eastern Division crown of the Southeastern Conference, the Vols were denied a trip to the title game by a tie-breaking rule that gave the nod to Georgia.

When the regular season ended with a 20-7 victory over arch foe Kentucky at Lexington, the Vols had forged their way back into the top 10 ranks of college football.

The return to good health and vitality of a crackerjack linebacker trio keyed the season-opening 24-6 victory over Fresno State at Neyland Stadium. Kevin Burnett, Kevin Simon and Robert Peace rebounded from 2002 injuries to stifle the Bulldogs, who were held to 117 yards total offense. For the first time since 1998 and only the seventh time in school history, the Vols held their opponent to minus rushing yardage. Cedric Houston ignited the running game with a 161-yard performance on 19 carries. Tennessee registered touchdowns each of the first three quarters and sealed the win with James Wilhoit's first career field goal in the final period.

Another 100,000-plus audience took in the Marshall game at Neyland Stadium, still wondering how complete a comeback Tennessee had effected since the previous season. Marshall made it terribly uncomfortable until star quarterback Stan Hill was injured, setting the stage for the Vols to dominate the fourth quarter and walk away with a 34-24 victory. In addition to the final tally, there were other encouraging signs of a Tennessee resurgence, including a 160-yard effort by tailback Cedric Houston and a three-touchdown passing display by Casey Clausen. The Vols accounted for six sacks, three of them by Kevin Simon. Dustin Colquitt pinned two punts inside the Marshall 5.

Trailing 3-0 as the clock clicked off the final seconds of the first half, Tennessee stunned 90,332 mostly hostile fans at Florida Field with a play that shifted momentum drastically…and for keeps. Clausen heaved a 48-yard pass goalward off the fingertips of Mark Jones and into the waiting arms of James Banks. Suddenly trailing by 7-3, the Gators never regained the edge they enjoyed through most of the first half. The 24-10 UT victory marked the second straight win for the Vols in Gainesville. Simon's ubiquitous play at linebacker was documented by 16 tackles credited to him. Tennessee's widest margin, 17-3, came when Jabari Davis dived across for a third-quarter score. The Gators were held without a touchdown until the 14-minute mark of the final period.

Tennessee lost the battle of statistics against South Carolina, but General Robert Neyland never worried about that kind of thing anyway. Neither did Fulmer, who joined 107,881 fans in celebrating a 23-20 overtime win over the Gamecocks. Four straight carries by Houston moved the ball to the South Carolina 4 after the visitors had gone ahead in the extra period on a 24-yard field goal. Clausen found Banks in the corner of the end zone and lifted a pass that Banks pulled in for the winning touchdown. A phenomenal punting performance by Dustin Colquitt served to nullify South Carolina's offensive production, which outdid the Vols, 371 yards to 266. Colquitt averaged 51.7 yards and parked three of his kicks inside the 10.

Auburn dominated the first three quarters so decisively that the Tigers were stunned in the fourth quarter to find the Vols trailing by only a touchdown and in possession of the ball. The Jordan-Hare Stadium crowd of 86,063 gave a gasp of relief only when defensive back Carlos Rogers intercepted a Clausen pass to snuff out a rally that was threatening to send the game into overtime. As it turned out, Clausen's pinpoint marksmanship in the closing minutes was unable to overcome Carnell Williams' brilliant running, which accounted for 185 yards and was the primary factor in the Tigers' 28-7 lead early in the final period. Tennessee's running game was virtually non-existent as the Vols were held to a measly 10 yards net on the ground in the 28-21 Auburn victory.

Georgia coach Mark Richt called it the biggest momentum swing he had ever seen, an assessment not likely to be challenged by the Tennessee Vols or the 107,517 fans packed into Neyland Stadium for the matchup of SEC title hopefuls. Of all the revolting developments. As the end of the half approached, Georgia holding to a 13-7 lead, Tennessee was marching toward a touchdown that would have put the Vols in the lead at intermission. With the ball at the Bulldogs 1, Clausen and Troy Fleming collided in the backfield. Georgia safety Sean Jones scooped up the fumble and ran 92 yards for a touchdown. For all practical purposes, that ended the ball game. Tennessee came out looking dead in the second half and suffered a 41-14 setback, a humbling loss that in an odd way maybe inspired the Vols to stage a resurgence late in the season.

Appreciation for Clausen's skills and his gamesmanship increased perceptively when he became the central figure in a five-overtime, come-from-behind 51-43 victory over Alabama at Tuscaloosa. The quarterback's heroic tale began in the drama of the closing two minutes of regulation when Clausen directed an 86-yard touchdown drive that sent the game into overtime tied at 20-all. With both squads fighting fatigue during the nearly five-hour marathon, Clausen and Jason Allen made the plays that gave the decision to the Vols. Clausen snuck across from the one, and Allen tipped away Alabama's final pass. A defensive stand that denied Alabama a first down late in regulation play will be long remembered as a key element in the victory.

The final score was 23-6, which sounds like a typical Homecoming-style victory over an overmatched opponent. But to the man the Vols will let you know there was nothing routine about their joust with Duke. The Blue Devils fought to a halftime tie and only trailed 9-6 as the final period began. Fleming forced a fumble, recovered by Corey Larkins, early in the fourth quarter, and the floodgates finally opened for the Vols to post a 17-point victory. A four-yard touchdown pass from Clausen to Chris Hannon and Gerald Riggs' 12-yard scamper accounted for the fourth-quarter scoring. Davis ran for a season-high 113 yards to pace the running game. Colquitt brightened his All-America prospects with a 49-yard average on five punts.

Passing up an almost certain field goal, Fulmer rolled the dice at the end of the half for a touchdown that produced a 10-6 victory over Miami, snapping the Hurricanes 26-game winning streak at the Orange Bowl. The Vols, deadlocked at 3-3, marched to the Miami 2, abetted handsomely by two 15-yard penalties against the Hurricanes. On fourth down, Fulmer elected to go for the touchdown. He called on Derrick Tinsley to execute an end-around, placing his faith in the versatile Georgian. Tinsley sprinted to his right and crashed across the goal to put Tennessee ahead, 10-3, at intermission, Miami's last threat in the second half was stopped short when Gibril Wilson picked off a hurried Hurricanes pass.

The meeting with Mississippi State before a crowd of 104,233 still toasting the victory over Miami turned into a track meet for the previously subdued offense. The coming-out party featured Clausen's 21 completions for 342 yards and five touchdowns, nine receivers sharing in the bounty of his tosses and seven running backs having a hand in the 505 yards of total offense generated by the Vols. Clausen's touchdown production tied a school record shared by Andy Kelly, Heath Shuler and Peyton Manning. Hannon, one of numerous wide receivers coming into their own during the season, racked up touchdown catches of 10, 30 and five yards. The third quarter found the Vols playing to near perfection by scoring 24 points, blocking a punt and stopping the Bulldogs offense cold. State's 59-21 setback soured longtime head coach Jackie Sherrill's final visit to Knoxville.

Vanderbilt arrived in Knoxville encouraged by an impressive victory over Kentucky and evidence that the offense, with sophomore quarterback Jay Cutler in charge, was gaining maturity. But the youthful Commodores will have to wait a year for another crack at their in-state rival Vols. Tennessee pinned a 48-0 loss on the Commodores, whose hopes for an upset evaporated when the Vols tallied three touchdowns in the first quarter. The scores came on Tony Brown's 16-yard touchdown catch, Davis' seven-yard scoring burst and Jones 59-yard punt return. Jones made an unforgettable day out of his final Neyland Stadium appearance, catching three passes for 45 yards, returning five punts for 120 yards and bringing an interception back 51 yards.

Fulmer's observation he had never seen an easy game with Kentucky held water for another year as the Vols posted a 20-7 victory over the Wildcats on a cold, blustery afternoon at Commonwealth Stadium. The final score was an illusion as it related to the course of the game. UT's victory wasn't secure until Houston bulled his way across the goal from the 10 with 1:27 left. Houston's surge climaxed a time-consuming march that began at the 9:01 mark. The objective was ball possession, designed to knock the Wildcats out of a last chance to win. With a six-point lead, Tennessee deftly mixed its play selection and cashed in with first downs until Houston's clinching touchdown.

Much of Tennessee's success in 2003 — ranking sixth nationally at the end of the regular season, for one thing — was dissipated by a 27 -14 defeat sustained at the hands of Clemson in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. The largest crowd ever for an event in the Gerogia Dome, 75,125, watched the Vols give up a touchdown on Clemson's first possession and then engage in a futile game of catch-up the remaining 57 minutes. If one culprit could be cited in the Vols' demise, it would be the multitude of penalties inflicted on them. Tennessee was called for 10 infractions stepped off for 119 yards. One misdeed in particular wounded the Vols gravely, an unsportsmanlike conduct violation that ended a third-period drive which had reached the Clemson 2. The Vols never got back into gear.

A determined Derrick Tinsley fought his way across the goal line on this momentum-swinging play seconds before halftime at Miami. The score marked the game's only touchdown as the Vols went on to hand the Hurricanes a 10-6 loss in the Orange Bowl.

Tennessee's 2003 season opener was football the way Volunteer fans like to see it.

The 12th-ranked Vols dominated the ground with 274 yards and held the potentially dangerous Fresno State offense to minus-1 yards rushing for a 24-6 win at Neyland Stadium.

Cedric Houston had his best performance in an orange uniform as he rushed for a career-high 161 yards on 19 carries. He had 95 yards in the first quarter alone, carrying the ball six straight times in Tennessee's second drive of the game.

"As far as my running goes, I give all the credit to my offensive line and fullback Troy Fleming," Houston said. "The offensive line made my job a whole lot easier. They had holes everywhere, so I just had to pick one."

Backup Jabari Davis also made an immediate impact when he knifed 44 yards through the Bulldogs' defense to the checkerboard on his first carry of the season. He finished with 84 yards on 12 carries.

"We ran the football well," head coach Phillip Fulmer said. "I think we're going to be a good running team. I don't think we ran as well as we're capable of running."

Tennessee's defense also answered the call with a choking performance on Fresno State's running and aerial attacks by keeping the Bulldogs' offense scoreless. With a completely new defensive line and a healthy corps of linebackers, the Vols held the Bulldogs to only 117 yards of total offense compared to Tennessee's 433. Fresno State converted just four first downs.

Casey Clausen air strikes to James Banks set the tone for the Vols' first drive. Banks, who splits time between quarterback and receiver, hauled in three balls for 56 yards during the drive and caught Tennessee's first touchdown pass of the season, a 9-yard heave to the left sideline for a 7-0 early lead.

After Davis' touchdown scamper, Clausen hooked up with Tony Brown for a 5-yard score and a 21-0 third-quarter lead. Freshman kicker James Wilhoit added a 40-yard field goal for Tennessee in the fourth after missing two shorter kicks earlier in the game.

Fresno State's only points came with 7:14 to play when Richard Marshall intercepted a Clausen pass and took it 81 yards for a touchdown. The extra point, however, wasn't attempted due to a bad snap.

Indeed, it was an impressive win, considering some of the 2002 struggles and the questions surrounding the Vols' capabilities on both sides of the ball. But Fulmer noted there were aspects of his team that may need more improvement before the Vols head into SEC action.

GAME NOTES

* Tennessee improved to 79-22-6 (.766) all-time in season openers, with a nine-game win streak dating to 1995.
* In home openers, Tennessee improved to 83-18-5, (.806) with a 14-1 record in the last 15 home openers.
* Cedric Houston rushed for a career-high 161 yards on just 19 carries, breaking his old mark of 149 yards on 32 carries against Mississippi State in 2002.
* Tennessee's 274 yards rushing bettered 2002's season-high 242 vs. Vanderbilt and was the most for the Vols since 290 vs. Arkansas in 2000.
* The game marked the first time the Vols held an opponent to negative rushing yards since defeating Florida (-13) in 1998, and it was just the seventh time in school history.
* Tennessee recorded four sacks in the game: Kevin Burnett and Kevin Simon shared one while Gibril Wilson, Constantin Ritzmann and Mondre Dickerson each had individual sacks.

Vols Corral Thundering Herd in First Meeting of Division I-A's Top Coaches

Tennessee	34

Tennessee's Phillip Fulmer won the duel of the nation's most successful active coaches as his No. 12 Volunteers edged Marshall 34-24 at Neyland Stadium.

Casey Clausen passed for 235 yards and three touchdowns, while James Wilhoit kicked two fourth-quarter field goals in the victory.

Thundering Herd coach Bob Pruett entered the game owning Division I-A's best winning percentage at .862, with Fulmer second on the list behind a mark of .806.

"I take my hat off to Coach Pruett and Marshall," Fulmer said. "They did a fabulous job coming in here and playing well. This was a good game for us before the SEC schedule to play a tough team like Marshall."

The Vols had their hands full with the Thundering Herd in the early going, with Marshall taking a 10-7 lead in the second quarter.

But a 35-yard punt return by Rashad Baker, combined with a 15-yard personal foul on the Herd, started Tennessee's final drive of the half at the Marshall 27. It took only one play for Clausen to put the Vols on the board again when he hit Tony Brown over his shoulder in the corner of the checkerboard for a 14-10 lead at the break.

The Vols and Herd traded shots in the third quarter. Both of UT's scores were set up courtesy of runs by Cedric Houston, who finished the game with 160 yards on 26 tries. His scamper down the right sideline for 56 yards set the table for Jabari Davis' 2-yard leap over the line for a score. A 35-yard Houston run on the Vols' next possession was the foreword to Clausen's 3-yard pass to Troy Fleming.

Marshall found the end zone as well, with quarterback Stan Hill hooking up with Darius Watts for 13 yards and Josh Davis for 65 yards down the right sideline to make it 28-24 Tennessee headed into the fourth.

Davis led the Herd with 123 yards receiving, while Watts had 109 electrifying yards on nine catches. Hill finished with 242 yards passing, and also collected a 34-yard run in the first quarter.

Marshall, however, was forced to play the final stanza without Hill, who was injured celebrating Davis' touchdown. The loss of the quarterback left Tennessee in control of the fourth quarter, when Wilhoit nailed field goals of 42 and 35 yards to ice the 10-point victory.

"We definitely picked it up today - in the passing game as well as the running game," said Clausen, who finished 21-of-33 in the air. "We started off slow, and that's one thing that we'll have to watch on film and see what happened there. But after the first quarter, we picked it up and started making some plays downfield."

Tennessee's linebackers made the plays in Marshall's backfield, assuring a full recovery from last year's injuries. They had five of the Vols' six sacks, with Kevin Simon totaling three.

Dustin Colquitt also lived up to his accurate billing, landing two punts inside the Marshall 5.

GAME NOTES

* The game marked the first meeting between Tennessee and Marshall.
* Casey Clausen threw three touchdowns for the first time since passing for three scores against Rutgers in 2002.
* Clausen's 16-yard run in the second quarter was the longest of his career, breaking his old mark of 15 yards against Kentucky in 2001.
* Cedric Houston rushed for more than 100 yards for the seventh time in his career with his total of 160 yards.
* Tennessee improved an 81-5-2 mark since 1990 when having a running back rush for more than 100 yards.
* UT recorded six sacks (-56) in the game, the most since recording nine against Southern Mississippi in 2000.
* Kevin Simon had three sacks (-28) to tie for second on Tennessee's single-game sack chart.
* Dustin Colquitt earned SEC Special Teams Player of the Week honors for his 50.8-yard average in the game. He twice pinned Marshall inside the 5 and had a 63-yarder.

With no time on the clock and plenty of time in the pocket, Casey Clausen stepped up and launched a 48-yard heave. The throw was aimed at the right side of the end zone as the first half ended.

Mark Jones tipped it. James Banks caught it.

"It was huge," Banks said of the play that led to Tennessee's 24-10 win over Florida at steamy Ben Hill Griffin Stadium.

He was talking about the football as it bounced his way, but his words easily could describe the play, the game and the rivalry. "My eyes looked like I was in a horror movie. You dream about that kind of stuff."

Banks' heavenly touchdown gave No. 12 UT a 7-3 lead at the half and the momentum to out-tough No. 17 Florida. It was the Vols' second consecutive win in Gainesville, a first for a Tennessee team since 1953-55.

"I can say this is a huge win for us," Vols' coach Phillip Fulmer said. "This is just another step in the right direction. There are a lot of good things about this football team, but the best things are their attitude, their work ethic, their coachability and their responsiveness."

It was that responsiveness the Vols showed after the miracle end to the first half. Clausen, who boosted his record to 11-0 as a starter on the road, gave an inspirational speech at half-time to fire up Tennessee's sluggish offense.

It worked.

"Casey Clausen showed leadership in the locker room and put the team in the mood to come out in the third quarter," said Jabari Davis, who filled in for a banged up Cedric Houston. "Casey's leadership he has on the road helps."

GAME 3

The Big Orange defense stalled Florida's second half opening drive, and the offense proceeded to eat the clock. The Vols took 11 plays to drive 18 yards, but wasted 4:11 on the clock before a James Wilhoit 51-yard field goal – the longest of his young career – pushed Tennessee's lead to 10-3.

Davis carried the load the rest of the game. After Clausen found freshman Bret Smith for a 57-yard gain to the 1, the junior tailback's trademark leap over the top made it 17-3.

Facing third-and-18, Florida's Ingle Martin found Kelvin Kight down the sideline for a 24-yard gain to end the third quarter. The new-found life pushed the Gators into the end zone in just 2:10 for their only touchdown when DeShawn Wynn split the middle for 5 yards on the ground to make it 17-10.

But the Vols responded with a five-minute drive, led by Davis and capped by his 9-yard blast through defenders for the game's final touchdown. He led all rushers with 78 yards.

Tennessee held Florida to 73 yards on the ground and limited the Gators 43.7 points below their season scoring average entering the game. Linebacker Kevin Simon dominated with 16 tackles, while end Parys Haralson recorded both the Vols' sacks.

Vols Cash in on Banks' Touchdown Catch to Slip by Gamecocks in Overtime

Tennessee 23
South Carolina 20

GAME 4

James Banks noticed the one-on-one coverage. So did Casey Clausen.

And they both took advantage of the situation.

Clausen dropped three steps and heaved a perfect lob to the right corner of the end zone to Banks for the game-winning touchdown as No. 8 Tennessee squeaked by South Carolina 23-20 in overtime at Neyland Stadium.

Tied at 17, South Carolina's Daniel Weaver connected on a 24-yard field goal to end the Gamecocks' overtime possession to give them the advantage.

But Tennessee responded by pounding the running game. Cedric Houston carried the ball four straight times to move the Vols to USC's 4. It was third-and-3, and another run appeared obvious to the fifth-largest crowd (107,881) in Neyland history until Clausen checked off and changed the play.

"I looked over at James and told him I was coming to him," Clausen said. "Big players make big plays, and it was a big win for us."

The victory was huge considering South Carolina's statistical domination. Tailback Demetris Summers used direction-changing runs to confuse the Vols' defense en route to 158 yards on the ground. It was the first time a back rushed for more than 100 yards against Tennessee since Miami's Willis McGahee had 154 in 2002, and the most since Nebraska's Ahmand Green had 206 yards in the 1998 Orange Bowl.

South Carolina gained 100 more yards than Tennessee, ran 16 more plays than the Vols and collected eight more first downs. The Big Orange, however, dominated in field position thanks to punter Dustin Colquitt, who punted seven times for a 51.7-yard average. Five of his punts flew more than 50 yards and he placed three of his kicks inside USC's 10.

"Sometimes you win a game like that where you are outplayed," Tennessee coach Phillip Fulmer said. "Dustin won the game tonight. We had field position because of our punter, and they didn't."

Tennessee began the battle in Gamecock territory when Marvin Mitchell blocked South Carolina's punt and Derrick Tinsley recovered on the USC 10. Two plays into the Vols' first possession, Clausen hit C.J. Fayton on the side of the checkerboard over a Gamecock defender's head to make it 7-0.

Carolina responded with a touchdown on Daccus Turman's 1-yard run that began the first-half offensive chess match. Houston made the next move for UT with a 3-yard touchdown run, his first score of the year. Then it was an 89-yard drive by South Carolina, capped by a 1-yard Dondrial Pinkins pass to Hart Turner for seven points. James Wilhoit booted a 33-yard field goal to give the Vols a 17-14 halftime lead.

That, however, was all Tennessee's offense could muster the rest of the regulation. South Carolina's wasn't much more productive, save Weaver's 37-yard field goal to tie it up with 5:15 left in the third.

GAME NOTES

* Tennessee improved to 4-0 for the first time since 1998, when it went 13-0 and won the national championship.
* The Vols upped their record to 3-1 in overtime games, including a 3-0 mark at Neyland Stadium.
* In the three overtime wins by Tennessee, the score at the end of regulation was 17-17.
* Tennessee leads the all-time series with USC 18-2-2 and has won the last 11 meetings. Each of the last four games have been decided by eight points or less.
* C.J. Fayton's 9-yard touchdown catch was his first of the season and his first since catching a 2-yard score from Casey Clausen at South Carolina in 2002.
* Dustin Colquitt averaged a career-high 51.7 yards on seven punts, three of which landed inside the USC 10. His efforts earned him SEC Special Teams Player of the Week for the second time this year.
* Marvin Mitchell's blocked punt was Tennessee's first block of the season and led to a touchdown. Derrick Tinsley recovered for the Vols.

There was a lot of rock pounding, but it wasn't what Tennessee had planned.

The Tigers beat the No. 7 Vols at their own game, and then brushed off a fourth-quarter rally by the men in orange to hang on to a 28-21 win at Jordan-Hare Stadium.

Auburn turned the tables on traditional Tennessee football and rushed for 264 yards, led by Carnell Williams' 185 bruising yards on 36 carries. Meanwhile, the Tiger defense held a firm grip on the Vols' ground game, holding Tennessee's attack to a mere 4 yards.

"Obviously, this is not what we wanted," Tennessee coach Phillip Fulmer said. "We knew they would run the ball. They rushed better, obviously, than what we had prepared for."

The Tigers had their way with things in the early going. They burst out of the gates to a 14-0 lead thanks to a 10-play, 80-yard march to open the game and a seven-play, 85-yard drive on their second possession. Ronnie Brown's 6-yard run and Jason Campbell's 29-yard pass to Ben Obomanu capped the respective drives, and the Vols played catch-up the rest of the way.

"We wanted to come out and have a good start," Campbell said. "We gained a lot of momentum in the opening quarter."

Both teams stalled in the second quarter until Tennessee opened up an all-out aerial attack with 2:32 left in the half with the ball on its own 16. Casey Clausen, who finished the game with 355 yards, was 7-of-8 passing on a drive that ended with a Jabari Davis touchdown leap to cut the margin to 14-7 at halftime.

GAME 5

The momentum, however, didn't last as James Wilhoit missed a 50-yard field goal on the Vols' opening possession of the second half. In response, Auburn leaned on its running game for 11 straight plays, capped by Williams' 1-yard score.

The Tigers tacked on another touchdown in their next possession when Campbell found Cole Bennett for an 8-yard scoring reception and a 28-7 fourth-quarter advantage.

But the Vols weren't finished. Clausen again unloaded his arsenal and cashed in on a 16-yard touchdown pass to Mark Jones, the first offensive score of Jones' career. Auburn had a rare three-and-out, and Clausen again put the Vols on the scoreboard, this time on a 28-yarder to Chris Hannon for his first career score.

With less than two minutes to play, Clausen threw three incomplete passes before connecting with Hannon for 22 yards on fourth-and-14. Two plays later, Clausen ran for a first down, and an personal foul took it to the Auburn 29.

It was Auburn's first win over Tennessee since 1988.

GAME NOTES

* UT's loss ended a six-game SEC winning streak for the Vols and snapped a four-game winning streak over Auburn.
* Auburn now leads the series 23-21-3, but Tennessee is 5-1-1 in the last seven games of the series.
* The Vols' loss was the first defeat for QB Casey Clausen in an opponent's stadium, dropping his record to 11-1.
* Clausen's 47 pass attempts were a career-high, and his 30 completions tied a career-best.
* Tony Brown's 78 receiving yards were a career-best.
* Mark Jones' 24-yard reception in the first quarter was the longest of his career, and his 16-yard TD reception in the fourth quarter was the first of his career.
* Chris Hannon set career-highs in catches (5) and yards (95) and caught his first-career TD in the fourth quarter.
* Tennessee's 4 rushing yards was the lowest total since Phillip Fulmer became head coach in 1992.

Bulldogs Better Vols After First-Half Gamble Goes Haywire at the Goal

Georgia 41

GAME 6

Georgia capitalized on a peculiar score to end the first half and then rolled past Tennessee 41-14 in what was billed as a heavyweight title bout for the SEC Eastern Division lead.

Trailing 13-7 with 3:19 left in the second quarter, the No. 13 Vols rode the arm of Casey Clausen to the UGA 1. Tennessee's quarterback was 6-of-7 on the drive and also scrambled for four yards. Georgia had three personal foul penalties for 44 yards to aid the march.

But it all came down to a botched handoff.

Clausen tried a quarterback sneak before being stopped short on a second-and-goal play. After a Tennessee timeout with :07 showing on the clock, Clausen's handoff to Jabari Davis never made it. Clausen and fullback Troy Fleming collided and the ball popped free. Georgia safety Sean Jones scooped up the loose pigskin and raced 92 yards for a touchdown, turning the tables and making it 20-7 at the half.

"The last play of the half was the largest momentum swing I've ever seen." Georgia coach Mark Richt said of the recovery. "We could have been down one, but we were up 13."

The Vols never recovered.

Georgia forced a Tennessee punt to open the second half, then marched 83 yards behind the nearly perfect David Greene, who went 22-of-27 on the night for 228 yards. Michael Cooper capped the drive by dashing 6 yards to the right corner, outrunning the Vols' defense to paydirt.

It was 27-7, and the rout was on.

Tennessee's next play was intercepted by Georgia's Odell Thurman at the UT 31 and returned to the 5. It took the Bulldogs three plays before Tyson Browning's 8-yard run made it 34-7.

The Vols' next drive lasted two plays before Robert Geathers picked off a Clausen deflection at the UT 22. The Bulldogs needed only one play for Kregg Lumpkin to scamper into the end zone for a 41-7 lead with 6:34 left in the third quarter.

Bret Smith tacked on a touchdown for the Vols with 46 seconds left in the game when he caught a 15-yard pass from C.J. Leak. It was the first-ever UT score for both players.

"We as seniors have to show a lot of leadership and keep this team together," linebacker Robert Peace said. "There is still a lot of season ahead. I still believe in this team and I believe we can have a lot of success."

Georgia jumped out to a 10-0 lead to start the game thanks to a 32-yard field goal by Billy Bennett and an 11-yard touchdown pass from Greene to Michael Johnson.

Tennessee responded with a 90-yard touchdown bomb from Clausen to Mark Jones. Jones pulled the ball away from a defender near midfield, and then ran to the checkerboard for the longest pass play in Tennessee history.

Bennett added a 44-yard field goal for Georgia before the momentum-swinging fumble to end the first half.

GAME NOTES

* Casey Clausen's 90-yard touchdown pass to Mark Jones was the longest pass play in Tennessee history, surpassing an 87-yard completion from Andy Kelly to Carl Pickens vs. Auburn in 1991.
* The 90-yard TD strike was the third-longest Tennessee play from scrimmage, behind runs of 99 yards by Kelsey Finch vs. Florida in 1977 and 91 yards by Dick Dodson vs. Transylvania in 1927.
* Jones' 117 yards receiving made him the first Vols receiver to go over 100 yards in a game during the 2003 season.
* C.J. Leak's 15-yard TD pass to Bret Smith was the first of his UT career. It also was Smith's first score.
* The game marked Georgia's fourth consecutive win against Tennessee. The Bulldogs trail UT in the all-time series 17-14-2.
* Georgia scored 24 points in the game off four Tennessee turnovers - two fumbles and two interceptions.

No wonder this is one of college football's greatest rivalries.

Led by quarterback Casey Clausen, No. 22 Tennessee orchestrated an 86-yard drive in the final two minutes of regulation to tie the game at 20. The Vols then out-dueled Alabama in five overtimes to take a heart-pounding 51-43 victory at Bryant-Denny Stadium.

"This is a great win for us," said Tennessee coach Phillip Fulmer. "Our coaches and players showed a lot of character. These kids have been through a lot, and I think it's something we can build on."

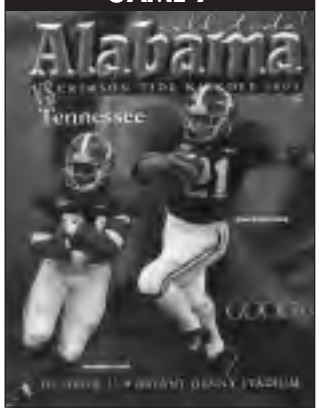
Clausen's character was displayed during UT's last drive before overtime when the Vols were without a timeout. He went 7-of-9 through the air, including a 1-yard TD pass to fullback Troy Fleming with 25 seconds remaining.

In the fifth extra period, he scrambled right and dove for the end zone only to be inches shy. The next play, Clausen called his own number and followed center Scott Wells' block into the end zone to put the Vols ahead for good.

"There's not a tougher-minded quarterback in the country than Casey Clausen," Fulmer said. His senior quarterback finished the game 23-of-43 with 283 yards, four passing touchdowns and one on the ground.

Alabama had one last push, but Tennessee's defense wouldn't let the Tide get a first down. On fourth-and-2 from the 17, UT corner Jason Allen deflected Brodie Croyle's pass in the end zone to cap the game just before the five-hour mark.

GAME 7



Tennessee's defense came up big on more than just the final play. It held Alabama on two goal-line stands – one on the 2 that resulted in a blocked Alabama field goal, the other early in the fourth with the game tied at 13.

But perhaps the most important stop was when Alabama needed a first down to run out the clock just before the Vols' game-tying drive. Leading 20-13 and needing only 2 yards to secure a win, the Tide's Shaud Williams was stopped on three consecutive runs, forcing Alabama to punt and giving Tennessee the last chance it needed to tie.

Both teams kicked field goals in the first half before UT's James Banks lined up at quarterback and sprinted 25 yards on a draw for a third-quarter touchdown. James Wilhoit added a 38-yard field goal, and it was 13-6 Vols.

Alabama responded with two touchdowns to lead 20-13 before Tennessee tied the game.

The extra periods were brief chess matches, with both teams alternating the advantage. Clausen had a 6-yard toss to Derrick Tinsley. Croyle threw a 6-yarder to Dre Fulgham.

Alabama got two 12-yard scoring runs from Tim Castille and Williams in the second and third overtimes, respectively. Tennessee got two scores from Banks – receptions of 5 and 25 yards, respectively – to even the game. Field goals were traded in the fourth overtime before Tennessee won the marathon in the fifth.

Devils Go Blue When Fourth Quarter Fumble Leads to Vols' Homecoming Win

Tennessee 23
Duke 6

GAME 8

Homecoming always has a little excitement for everyone and, for three quarters, this year's game was no different.

No. 19 Tennessee clung to a three-point lead before shutting out Duke in the second half and scoring two fourth-quarter touchdowns for a 23-6 Homecoming triumph.

"We just have to make it exciting, don't we?" Vols linebacker Kevin Burnett said.

Though Tennessee held the upper hand most of the game, it never really cashed in until the opening minutes of the fourth quarter. The Vols punted to Duke's Jamin Pastore, but UT fullback Troy Fleming hit him on the return, forcing a fumble. Backup tailback Corey Larkins recovered and the Vols took over on Duke's 37-yard line.

The six-play drive ended when Casey Clausen found Chris Hannon over the middle for a 4-yard touchdown and a 16-6 Tennessee lead.

"Initially it was a running play, and Casey checked it off because he saw something in the middle," Hannon said of his scoring play. "When he gave me the signal, I looked in the middle and saw that it was a good call."

Duke got good field position when Senterrio Landrum returned the ensuing kickoff to the 46. Chris Douglas carried the ball seven of the drive's 10 plays, taking the Blue Devils to the UT 20, but Matt Brooks' second consecutive missed field goal took the fire out of the Devils.

Clausen hit James Banks for 42 yards, then tailback Gerald Riggs carried the Vols into the checkerboard on consecutive runs of 13 and 12 yards -- the scoring play going straight through the middle of Duke's defense for some extra cushion.

"The game was won on momentum," said Duke defensive tackle Matt Zielinski, who had three tackles for loss. "They had a momentum swing there, and they just carried it into the final minutes of the game. It wasn't just the fumbled punt, but it was the defense letting them drive the field and score on the short field."

Vols tailback Jabari Davis, who started in place of injured Cedric Houston, set the tempo for the Tennessee offense. He finished with a season-high 113 yards on 17 carries. Douglas led Duke with 128 yards on 29 carries.

The Blue Devils had their chances. After a scoreless first quarter, field goals were traded, and Tennessee added a second for a 6-3 lead. Duke's Matt Brooks nailed a 37-yarder to close the half with the teams tied at 6 apiece.

James Wilhoit added another field goal for the Vols for a 9-6 third-quarter lead. But Duke's ground attack of Douglas and Cedric Dargan carried to a first-and-goal from the UT 2.

Douglas lost a yard and then an illegal procedure penalty pushed Duke back to the 8. An incomplete pass and a Mondre Dickerson quarterback sack made it fourth down from the 17.

Tennessee walked directly into the eye of Miami's storm and came away victorious as the No. 18 Volunteers stunned the sixth-ranked Hurricanes 10-6 at the Orange Bowl. The upset snapped Miami's 26-game home winning streak and gave it its second consecutive defeat in 2003.

Facing fourth-and-goal from the 2 as the first half closed, Tennessee coach Phillip Fulmer loosened his collar and ditched kicking a field goal. Instead, he put the ball in the hands of the versatile Derrick Tinsley, who took Casey Clausen's handoff and raced to the right side of the end zone on an end-around for what turned out to be the game-winning score with 20 seconds left in the second quarter.

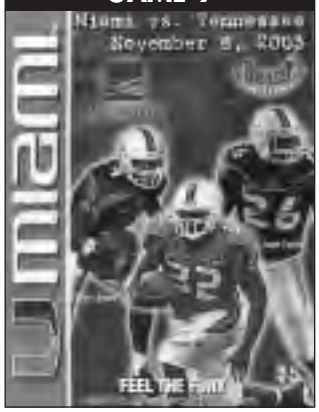
"I thought we could make it, and I felt we needed to make a statement that we were down here to win the football game," Fulmer said. "We had no fear of the Hurricanes and what they've accomplished."

Miami bounced back from the 10-3 halftime deficit to kick a 22-yard third-quarter field goal, but it would get no more as the Vols' defense stood tall the rest of the game to hang on to the four-point win.

Neyland's Game Maxims were vital in Tennessee's upset win.

The team that makes the fewest mistakes will win: Miami had 12 penalties for 121 yards, threw two interceptions and gave up two fumbles.

GAME 9



Play for and make the breaks, and when one comes your way, score: Tinsley's touchdown would not have been a score if it weren't for a 15-yard personal foul slapped on Miami for roughing UT punter Dustin Colquitt on fourth-and-15 from the UT 35. The penalty resulted in a UT first down, and eventually the touchdown.

Protect our kickers, our quarterback, our lead and our ball game: Tennessee's defense held Miami scoreless the final 25:24, forcing two fumbles and collecting an interception.

Press the kicking game. Here is where the breaks are made: When Tennessee punted to Miami with 2:27 remaining in the game, the idea was for one final defensive stand. However, Miami's Sean Taylor, who was forced to backpedal under Colquitt's 56-yard punt, dropped the football. Tinsley pounced on it for the Vols, and the game was sealed.

The Hurricanes, who eclipsed the Vols in total yardage 321-170, were 2-of-3 in the red zone, twice settling for a field goal. Turnovers also plagued the scoring effort. Quarterback Brock Berlin's fumble was on the UT 38, and his second pick was on the UT 7.

Jon Peattie hit a 31-yard field goal on Miami's first drive, but Wilhoit responded with his 41-yarder in the second for a 3-3 tie. The Vols then took 9:19 to drive the field for the game's only touchdown.

GAME NOTES

* Tennessee's win gives the Vols a 2-1 advantage in the all-time series against Miami, 1-0 at the Orange Bowl.
* The Vols' win snapped Miami's 26-game home winning streak in the Orange Bowl, dating back to a 27-23 loss to Penn State Sept. 18, 1999. It was Miami coach Larry Coker's first home loss.
* Tennessee held Miami without a touchdown for the first time at home since a 38-3 loss to Florida State in 1984.
* The Vols' defense forced four turnovers in the game - two interceptions and two fumbles.
* UT quarterback Casey Clausen completed a season-low 11-of-18 passes for 81 yards.
* Clausen improved to 13-1 in opponents' home stadiums, tying former Vol QB Peyton Manning for the most career road wins by a UT quarterback.
* Clausen moved past Steve Tanneyhill for ninth on the SEC's all-time passing list at 8,609 yards.
* Kevin Simon had his first career interception. J.T. Mapu had his first career fumble recovery. Gibril Wilson had his first career interception, stopping a potential Miami scoring drive.
* Tennessee's second-quarter touchdown drive lasted 15 plays for 9:19, the longest drive of the season.
* The Vols' possession time in the first half was 20:34, compared to the Hurricanes' 9:26.

Offense Flies Past State as Clausen Finds Hannon Three Times in Thrashing

Tennessee 59
Mississippi State 21

GAME 10

Casey Clausen and the No. 9 Vols unleashed their most explosive offensive production of the season in a 59-21 blitz of Mississippi State at Neyland Stadium.

Clausen was 21-of-34 for 342 yards and five touchdowns, tying a school mark for most touchdown passes in a game. It was the fourth consecutive game in which Clausen did not throw an interception, marking 125 straight pass attempts.

"We came out and we executed, and when we had opportunities to make plays, we made those plays," Clausen said.

Receiver Chris Hannon was a highlight reel, turning his first three catches into touchdowns for his first multi-touchdown reception game.

Tailback Jabari Davis also had a strong outing. He rushed nine times for 67 yards, including a 42-yard breakaway. The junior also scored two touchdowns in goal-line situations.

"Offensively, this was the best showing we've had for execution," said Tennessee coach Phillip Fulmer, whose team outgained the Bulldogs 535 yards to 288. "Through the first three quarters, before we took our starters out, we had the complete performance we've been looking for, except for the (kick) returns."

The third quarter proved to be the best 15 minutes of the season for the Vols. They put up 24 points and held the Bulldogs to just one first down and minus-5 total yards. Already leading 28-7, Tennessee began the period with runs by Davis, including his 42-yarder, and Gerald Riggs before Clausen found Hannon for 30 yards and a score.

Tennessee's O.J. Owens blocked an MSU punt and Troy Fleming recovered it at the 1. It was Davis over the top, and the Vols were up 42-7.

On UT's ensuing possession, James Banks caught a 50-yard pass over the middle to set up Hannon's third score in as many tries. Tennessee tacked on a James Wilhoit 26-yard field goal after Marvin Mitchell's interception, and it was 52-7.

Fullback William Revill capped the fourth quarter's opening drive with a 12-yard sprint through the middle to make it 59-7 Vols. The Bulldogs added two late scores against Tennessee's second- and third-string defense.

"I think as a team this was the best game we've played all year," Clausen said. "Hopefully, we can build on that and continue to get better."

An 18-yard touchdown pass from Clausen to Hannon got things started for Tennessee in the first quarter. Mississippi State returned the favor on a 19-yard pass from Kevin Fant to Justin Jenkins to even things at 7. But that's as even as it got.

Tennessee all-purpose man Derrick Tinsley capped an 80-yard drive with a 12-yard scoring catch. Davis then leaped for his first touchdown and Mark Jones hauled in a 38-yard heave from Clausen to make it 28-7 before the Bulldogs could bark.

GAME NOTES

* The Vols improved their record to 26-15-1 against the Bulldogs, including wins in seven of the last eight games.
* Tennessee's 538 yards of total offense was a season-high for 2003, surpassing the 492 vs. Alabama.
* Casey Clausen tied UT's single-game record with five touchdown passes, a mark he shares with Andy Kelly, Heath Shuler and Peyton Manning. Clausen is the only Vol to accomplish the feat three times.
* It was Clausen's sixth career 300-yard passing game.
* Chris Hannon's three TD receptions tied UT's single-game mark held by six others.
* Derrick Tinsley scored his third touchdown in the last four games on a 12-yard pass from Clausen.
* State's first-quarter touchdown was the first allowed by Tennessee in eight quarters dating to the fourth period at Alabama.

GAME 11

Tennessee's Tennessee seniors bid farewell to Neyland Stadium and said so long to Vanderbilt as the No. 9 Vols blanked the Commodores 48-0 in the season's final home game.

Twenty-three seniors ran through the "T" for the final time, each receiving individual introductions during the pregame ritual. And, appropriately, the last Vol to be introduced was four-year starting quarterback Casey Clausen. But he still had some work to do.

Clausen threw for 262 yards and three touchdowns, spreading his passes among 12 different receivers. He also had 17 yards rushing and one score on a quarterback sneak. His second-quarter interception was the first pick in five games for the senior, setting a Tennessee record for 143 consecutive passes without an interception. It was also Tennessee's first turnover in 16 quarters, dating to the first quarter of the Alabama game.

"Midway through the season, I think confidence for a lot of our guys - particularly on offense - really picked up," Clausen said. "We're trying to get back to being a dynamic offense and being able to come out and put points up early."

Quick strikes were exactly what the Vols had against the Commodores, unloading 21 points in the first quarter and 20 in the second for a 41-0 halftime lead. Derrick Tinsley caught a third-quarter 7-yard touchdown pass from Clausen for the second half's only points.

The scoring, though, didn't all come from the offensive side. Senior Mark Jones left his mark on the field against Vanderbilt with a 58-yard punt return for a touchdown to put Tennessee up 21-0. Add his team-leading three catches for 45 yards and 51-yard interception return and Jones' 216 all-purpose yards topped Vanderbilt's 191 total offense yards.

"In the beginning of the year, it was kind of hard to grasp everything as far as offense and defense - and of course, my special teams assignments," Jones said. "But as the course of the season went on, I was able to pick up on it and condition myself well. By now it should be all downhill."

The Commodores couldn't keep up with Jones, or the rest of the Vols. James Wilhoit added two second-quarter field goals - one from 39 yards and one from 41. Between the kicks, Clausen hit Chris Hannon for a 38-yard scoring strike, then kept the football on a 1-yard sneak after Jones' interception.

As efficient as Tennessee was on offense, it was the defense that held Vanderbilt in check for the third straight shutout in the series. The Commodores never crossed midfield until the start of the fourth quarter, working their way to the Tennessee 26 before Antwan Stewart intercepted Jay Cutler's pass at the 3. Vandy also crossed midfield in the game's final drive.

"I'm really proud of this team as it has grown and gotten better," Tennessee coach Phillip Fulmer said. "I can't say enough about the senior leadership, especially of the captains."

GAME NOTES

* UT has won the last 21 meetings in the series, the longest in the series and third-longest in Division I-A.
* The shutout was the third consecutive game in which Tennessee has held Vanderbilt scoreless.
* Tennessee's 41 first-half points were the most it has scored since leading Arkansas 42-14 at halftime in 2000.
* Casey Clausen passed Peyton Manning to set the UT record for consecutive passes without an interception with 143, spanning five games.
* Clausen moved to No. 7 on the SEC's all-time passing yardage list with 9,213, and he became the second UT quarterback to surpass the 9,000-yard mark in a career.
* Mark Jones returned a punt 58 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter, the Vols' first punt return score in 2003.
* Jones recorded 216 all-purpose yards on three catches, five punt returns and an interception.
* UT had 23 seniors who played their final game in Neyland Stadium, with all of them being introduced individually as they ran through the "T" before the game.

Vols Clinch Tie for SEC East Crown After Freezing Wildcats in Season Finale

GAME 12

Tennessee scored 20 unanswered points in response to another early deficit in Lexington and closed the 2003 regular season with a 20-7 victory against Kentucky at frigid Commonwealth Stadium.

It was the Vols' 19th consecutive win against the Wildcats. Tennessee, however, has trailed in four of the last five games in the Bluegrass State.

The victory gave No. 7 Tennessee a share of the Southeastern Conference Eastern Division championship, along with Georgia and Florida. It was the Vols' fourth Eastern Division title in the last seven seasons. The win also gave Tennessee (10-2) its seventh 10-win season under coach Phillip Fulmer - more than any other UT coach.

"We're really glad to get the win," Fulmer said. "It wasn't easy, and it's never easy when Tennessee and Kentucky play. We're glad to be 10-2, and we're looking forward to whatever comes next."

Despite winning their final six games of the season, the Vols were denied an SEC championship game berth. Georgia won the three-way tiebreaker by virtue of being ranked highest of the three in the Bowl Championship Series and winning head-to-head versus Tennessee, its closest competitor in the BCS standings.

Before being concerned with postseason destinations, however, Tennessee had to de-claw the 'Cats.

Trailing 7-0, Vols tailback Jabari Davis pounded the way late in the second quarter as Tennessee drove 12 plays to the UK 15. James Wilhoit booted a 33-yard field goal to cut the Wildcats' lead to 7-3.

Tennessee's opening drive of the second half shifted the lead. Cedric Houston ran through the middle for 27 yards to the 18. Casey Clausen, who battled a respiratory infection, rolled out and found Mark Jones on the next play for an 18-yard touchdown to make it 10-7 Vols early in the third quarter.

"It was a naked bootleg, and I tried to stay alive out there," Jones said of the scoring play. "Normally I don't catch the ball (on that route), but the defender stayed inside and Casey made a good throw."

Wilhoit added another field goal in the fourth quarter, this time from 47 yards, to make it 13-7. And with less than two minutes to play, Houston capped an 87-yard day and a clock-eating drive with a 10-yard bulldoze through the middle for a touchdown to seal the game.

"The opening drive of the third quarter was a killer," Kentucky coach Rich Brooks said. "We had two penalties - one on third down that was critical. Then they take the lead, and their last touchdown, they broke a few tackles and got it in on us to put the thing totally out of reach."

The Wildcats drew blood first when Arliss Beach ran three straight times and broke the goal-line plane late in the first quarter for a touchdown, capping a 66-yard drive that spanned more than seven minutes.

GAME NOTES

* Tennessee's win was its 19th consecutive victory in the series, the longest in the series and fourth-longest streak in Division I.
* The Vols improved to 73-4 in November since 1985.
* Casey Clausen led the Vols to a 14-1 road mark as UT's starting quarterback, surpassing Peyton Manning's 13 road win mark.
* Clausen completed the regular season with a career-best 25 touchdown passes, including nine in the final three regular-season games.
* Tennessee held Kentucky to just 51 yards on 25 carries and a season-low 187 yards of total offense.
* Scott Wells made his 48th consecutive start at center, the third-longest streak by offensive linemen in the nation.
* Antwan Stewart and Rashad Baker made interceptions on consecutive Kentucky drives to keep the Wildcats from scoring after they got an early 7-0 lead. It was Baker's first pick of the season.
* Phillip Fulmer led the Vols to their seventh 10-win season during his tenure, the most for any Tennessee coach.
* The win tied Tennessee for the SEC East championship.

Tennessee's 10-win season full of surprising upsets, overtime thrillers and a six-game winning streak went bittersweet at the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl when Clemson dominated the sixth-ranked Volunteers 27-14 in the Georgia Dome.

Tennessee's aerial attack was on target as Casey Clausen set career and UT bowl records with 31 completions in 55 attempts. He finished with 384 yards and two scores, passing to 10 receivers in his final act as a Volunteer.

But it wasn't enough to tame the Tigers. Although Tennessee was considered the running team of the two, Clemson won the ground battle 153-38. Fullback and offensive MVP Chad Jasmin, who finished with a career-high 130 yards and one touchdown, set the tone.

With Clemson taking a 24-14 lead into the third quarter, Tennessee put together one of its longest drives of the season and threatened to slice into the gap.

Clausen drove the Vols from their own 20 to Clemson's 3-yard line behind an 8-of-10 passing performance that chewed eight minutes off the clock. On third-and-goal, Clausen fired a low bullet to receiver Mark Jones in the middle of the end zone with 2:45 left in the third quarter.

But the pass was ruled incomplete and a personal foul was assessed to Tennessee, pushing the Vols back to the Clemson 18-yard line.

"We helped them a lot, and that's my responsibility," said Tennessee coach Phillip Fulmer, whose team was penalized 10 times for a season-high 119 yards, including six 15-yard personal fouls. "On the penalties, you have to hope you have better control."

James Wilhoit missed his ensuing 35-yard field goal attempt, and the Vols were spent. They never got the ball past midfield again until less than a minute remained in the game.

Clemson tacked on a fourth-quarter 28-yard field goal for good measure.

"Basically, we couldn't get anything going offensively," said senior center Scott Wells. "My hat's off to Clemson. They had an excellent game plan for us."

"I congratulate Clemson," Fulmer said. "We worked hard and prepared well. I thought we were ready to play."

The Tigers took the first bite by marching 80 yards in less than two minutes. The initial scoring drive peaked with Duane Coleman's 8-yard run to make it 7-0. Aaron Hunt then added a 23-yard field goal for a 10-0 lead.

Tennessee cut the margin to three when Clausen paced an aerial attack with Chris Hannon to make it 10-7. Hannon caught three balls, including the 19-yard touchdown. But the Tigers stretched the gap with a drive that lasted just 1:55 as Jasmin's 15-yard run made it 17-7 Tigers.

It took Clausen and the Vols just four plays to respond when he hit Jones for a 30-yard touchdown pass to again cut the deficit to three, this time 17-14. But Clemson's 8-yard fumblerooski play confused the Vols and put Kyle Browning in the end zone to make it 24-14 at the half.

GAME NOTES

* The win by Clemson was its first in the series since a 14-0 victory in 1919. The Vols lead the all-time series 11-6-2, which dates to 1901.
* The game was the Vols' 44th bowl appearance, ranking second all-time in NCAA history.
* Tennessee was 4-of-13 on third-down conversions, averaging 11 yards to go on third-down plays.
* Mark Jones' five receptions tied a career-high.
* Troy Fleming's 55 yards receiving on seven catches was a career-high.
* Clemson's 24 first-half points were the most for a UT opponent all season, surpassing Georgia's 20 points.
* Jabari Greer played in his 51st career game to set a school record for games played.
* The crowd of 75,125 was the largest ever to see a sporting event in the 12-year history of the Georgia Dome.
* The Vols fell to 1-6-1 all-time when attempting 50 or more passes in a game.

Casey Clausen's 90-yard touchdown pass to Mark Jones against Georgia last year broke the Tennessee record for the longest pass play in school history.

Mark Jones' playmaking prowess enabled him to post Tennessee's longest punt return (58 yards for a TD vs. Vanderbilt) and interception return (51 yards vs. Vanderbilt) last season.

▶All-America Notes

★ Tennessee has had a total of 65 individual All-America selections, who have been recognized a total of 80 times.

★ Tennessee has had one three-time All-America selection, guard Bob Suffridge, chosen in 1938, 1939 and 1940. Thirteen (13) other Vols have earned All-America honors twice during their careers.

★ Thirty-one (31) Vols have earned consensus NCAA All-America honors.

★ The most honorees in one year were four, in 1939 and 1966.

★ The most consecutive All-America selections totaled 11 years from 1963-73, a total of 25 selections in all.

★ Tennessee has had one father-son combination All-America selection in Steve DeLong (1963-64) and son Keith DeLong (1988). Tennessee has had one brother combination, Johnny Majors (1956) and younger brother Bobby Majors (1971).

★ Two of Tennessee's All-Americas later became head coaches at their alma mater: Bowden Wyatt (1938) in 1955 and Johnny Majors (1956) in 1977.

★ Three of Tennessee's All-America selections made All-America in other sports. All-America punter Ron Widby (1966) was a basketball All-America in 1967. Former Olympian and wide receiver Willie Gault, who earned All-America honors on the gridiron in 1982 and was a track (indoor/outdoor) All-America in 1981-83. Richmond Flowers earned All-America honors in football (1967) and indoor/outdoor track (1968-69).

★ All-America selections Bill Johnson (1957), Bob Johnson (1967) and Peyton Manning (1997) also earned Academic All-America honors the same season.

Peyton Manning Scholarship

The University of Tennessee honors former Vol quarterback Peyton Manning each year by presenting a scholarship to a first-year student who will participate in UT's Honors program.

The scholarship is funded from gifts to the University garnered from Manning's academic awards, the UT Athletic Department's corporate matching grants program and other private gifts.

Manning's four-year career at UT (1994-97) produced a number of awards that generated $165,000 in scholarship funds. Among the awards were the Burger King-Vincent dePaul Draddy National Scholar Athlete of the Year, the Davey O'Brien Foundation Award and the American Honda Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

The Manning Scholarship covers the costs of tuition, room and board for a male or female student. The award is granted to a first-year student on the basis of academic achievement, leadership and community service.

1998-1999—Jay Stephen Burns (Bulls Gap)
1999-2000—Rebekah Ann Capps (Nashville)
2000-2001—Hampton Andrew Holcomb Jr. (Memphis)

Neyland Trophy

Gen. Robert R. Neyland Trophy Honorees

In 1967, the Knoxville Quarterback Club, seeking a way to honor Gen. Neyland's memory, established the Robert R. Neyland Memorial Trophy. This award is given annually by the Club to an outstanding man who has contributed greatly to intercollegiate athletics. The first presentation in 1967 included the man who hired Gen. Neyland in 1926 and his first All-America lineman, who later became head coach at Yale. The permanent trophy is displayed in the Tennessee Hall of Fame Exhibit in the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center.

General Robert Reese Neyland

Feb. 17, 1892 - March 28, 1962

The history and tradition of Tennessee football began under the tutelage of Gen. Robert Reese Neyland, a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. Neyland came to Tennessee as an ROTC instructor and backfield coach in 1925 and was named head football coach in 1926. From that date, Tennessee was in the college football business to stay.

Neyland's 1939 Vol team was the last to shut out each of its regular season opponents. Over the course of his career, 112 of his 216 opponents failed to score against his Tennessee teams. Tennessee still holds an NCAA record for holding opponents scoreless 71 consecutive quarters.

Neyland's teams won Southern Conference Championships in 1927 and 1932, piling up undefeated streaks of 33 and 28 games along the way, and SEC Championships in 1938, 1939, 1940, 1946 and 1951. In addition Neyland-coached teams won four national championships. The Vols were consensus national champions in 1951, won the Dunkel, Litkenhous, Boand, Houlgate and Poling National Championships in 1938, the Dunkel and Williamson crowns in 1940 and the DeVold and Dunkel crowns in 1950.

It was Gene McEver who kicked off the Neyland era with his 98-yard return of the opening kickoff in the 1928 Alabama game, a game the underdog Vols won 15-13. Each of his succeeding eras would be highlighted by similar big plays: Johnny Butler's 56-yard run against Alabama in 1939 and Lauricella's 75-yard run against Texas in the 1951 Cotton Bowl.

Neyland's 21-year record at Tennessee was 173 wins, 31 losses and 12 ties.

Neyland, who came to Tennessee as an Army captain and left as a brigadier general, brought one of the most efficient single-wing offenses in the country to go with an unyielding defense. He was brought to the head coaching position by Dean Nathan Dougherty with a simple injunction: "Do something about the series with Vanderbilt."

After Neyland's death in 1962, the University established the Robert R. Neyland Scholarship, academic scholarships awarded to non-athletes, many of whom are National Merit Scholars. The endowment for these scholarships now exceeds $1.5 million and 124 students have been the beneficiary of the awards.

The thoroughfare behind the stadium's South end, once called the river road, is now named Neyland Drive. More recently, the Vol football complex on campus was named for Neyland and Knoxville businessman B. Ray Thompson.

GENERAL NEYLAND'S MAXIMS OF FOOTBALL

1. The team that makes the fewest mistakes will win.
2. Play for and make the breaks and when one comes your way - SCORE.
3. If at first the game - or the breaks - go against you, don't let up...put on more steam.
4. Protect our kickers, our QB, our lead and our ball game.
5. Ball, oskie, cover, block, cut and slice, pursue and gang tackle... for this is the WINNING EDGE.
6. Press the kicking game. Here is where the breaks are made.
7. Carry the fight to our opponent and keep it there for 60 minutes.

IS IT NEE-land or NAY-land?

There has been continuing controversy over the pronunciation of the name N-E-Y-L-A-N-D. Here's the true story.

Charles Brakebill, former UT Vice-President for Development, was a part of the Neyland Scholarship program when it was begun after Gen. Neyland's death.

That's when Brakebill said he learned a lesson about the Neyland name and how to pronounce it. He had apparently called the General's wife, Peg, "Mrs. NAY-land." "She stood up and raised her knee and said 'Mr. Brakebill, first thing let's do is get my name straight.' She hit her knee about three times and said, 'It's NEE-land, just like my knee.' That stuck in my mind."

College Football Hall of Fame

The men depicted on these pages have received the highest honor the game of football accords—election to the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. They are among the most storied collegians and are enshrined in the 50,000-square-foot Hall of Fame completed in September 1994, in downtown South Bend, Ind. The partnership, which the city and the Foundation have forged, is dedicated to preserving the very best moments in college football and promoting the sporting world's highest standards of scholarship, citizenship and performance.

Gene McEver
Halfback 1928-29, 31
Bristol, Va.
Elected 1954

Gen. Robert R. Neyland said Gene McEver was "the best player I ever coached ... the best I ever saw." That may have locked his place in history, as did an October afternoon when McEver almost single-handedly propelled Tennessee from a mediocre program to a national tradition.

In his first year on the varsity, McEver made an immediate impact in the 1928 Alabama contest. Known as the "Bristol Blizzard," he returned the opening kickoff straight up the middle 98 yards for a touchdown and later caught a scoring pass from quarterback Bobby Dodd to virtually beat Alabama himself as the Vols went on to upset the heavily-favored Crimson Tide, 15-13.

The kickoff return and the game sealed his fate as one of the elite backs in Tennessee football on a squad dubbed the "Flaming Sophomores." The win, long heralded as the greatest in Vols history, propelled UT to national glory.

In 1929, McEver was a scoring machine on offense. In the final game of the regular season, he broke the goal line for five touchdowns and scored three extra points against South Carolina. The outburst helped him lead the nation in scoring with 130 points as the Vols' halfback. It also was in that season when McEver became the first Tennessee football player to reach All-America status, garnering a unanimous decision.

During his UT career, McEver was an All-Southern selection each year and became the first Tennessee player to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. With McEver on the field the Vols never lost a game, going 27-0-3 in his three years of participation with each tie coming to Kentucky.

Head Coach 1926-52
Greenville, Texas
Elected 1956 (Coach)

The history and tradition of Tennessee football began when Gen. Robert Reese Neyland arrived as an ROTC instructor and backfield coach in 1925 and was named head football coach in 1926.

Neyland, who came to Tennessee as an Army captain and left as a brigadier general, brought one of the most efficient single-wing offenses in the country to go with an unyielding defense. It was Gene McEver who kicked off the Neyland era with his 98-yard return of the opening kickoff in the 1928 Alabama game, a game the underdog Vols won 15-13. Each of his succeeding eras would be highlighted by similar big plays. Johnny Butler's 56-yard run against Alabama in 1939 and Hank Lauricella's 75-yard run against Texas in the 1951 Cotton Bowl.

Neyland's 1939 Vols were the last to shut out each of its regular season opponents. Over the course of his career, 112 of 216 opponents failed to score against his Tennessee teams and the Vols still own an NCAA record for holding opponents scoreless for 71 consecutive quarters.

Neyland's teams won Southern Conference titles in 1927 and 1932, piling up undefeated streaks of 33 and 28 games along the way, and SEC championships in 1938, 1939, 1940, 1946 and 1951. In addition, Neyland-coached teams won four national championships. The Vols were consensus national champions in 1951 and Neyland's 21-year record at Tennessee was 173-31-12.

Beattie Feathers
Bristol, Va.
Elected 1955

When Beattie Feathers stepped on the UT campus in 1931, he was being groomed to fill the shoes of legendary Vol Gene McEver. By the time Feathers walked off the field three years later, some say he did more than that.

"Beattie didn't think in terms of first downs, only in terms of touchdowns." teammate Freddie Moses said.

Many consider Feathers to rank among Tennessee's greatest. A key component in the single wing formation, the "Bounding Antelope" ran to paydirt with a 65-yard punt return in Tennessee's 13-0 1931 Charity Bowl win over New York University.

In Feathers' second season, he was an All-Southern selection, earning recognition for his storied punting duel with Alabama's Johnny Cain in a rain-soaked 7-3 Vols win. Feathers and Cain combined for 40 punts but it was Feathers who scored the winning touchdown late in the fourth quarter. f

In 1933, Feathers was the SEC's MVP as well as earning All-SEC and All-America, making him the only Tennessee player to be named All-Southern and All-SEC. During his time at UT, the Vols had two undefeated seasons and went 25-3-2 overall. They were declared 1932 Southern Conference champions.

Feathers then raced to NFL glory as well as the record books. In his rookie year of 1934 with the Chicago Bears, Feathers became the first NFL player to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a single season, finishing with 1,004. He averaged 9.9 yards per carry that year to establish a league record that remains untouched.

Herman Hickman
Guard 1929-31
Johnson City
Elected 1959

After entering Tennessee as a 203-pound freshman, Hickman boosted to 225 as a senior to anchor the Volunteers' line.

His dominating performance in the 1931 Charity Bowl caught the eye of the national press. In the early stages against New York University, the Violets had the ball on Tennessee's 5-yard line. But on four consecutive plays, Hickman single-handedly pushed NYU back 18 yards to the 23. The performance sent the sportswriters scurrying to adjust their All-America teams and Hickman's name appeared multiple times for the honor.

After a three-year career carried the Vols to a 27-1-2 record, Hickman was widely considered the most famous lineman in Southern football history. His speed for such a large man was difficult for blockers to stop.

Hickman wore many hats. He set a UT record in the shot put. He later spent three years in pro football with the Brooklyn Dodgers. He then had a stint as a professional wrestler under the name "Tennessee Terror," in which he competed in over 500 matches.

Hickman returned to football as an assistant at Wake Forest, North Carolina and Army. His success at Army resulted in Yale hiring him as the school's first head coach who was not an alumnus. He finished with a 16-18-2 record from 1948-51 before becoming a member of the first staff at Sports Illustrated.

College Football Hall of Fame

Bobby Dodd
Quarterback 1928-30
Kingsport
Elected 1959 (Player)
1993 (Coach)

Bobby Dodd was front and center of the "Hack and Mack" backfield that featured Buddy Hackman and Gene McEver. But the quarterback did more than just take the snaps and hand off the ball in leading the Vols to a 27-1-2 record in his career, twice earning All-Southern honors.

Dodd led Tennessee to back-to-back unbeaten seasons with identical 9-0-1 records his sophomore and junior years. During Dodd's era, the Vols went 33 games without a loss until an 18-6 setback against Alabama in 1930 -- the longest unbeaten streak in UT history. Dodd and his teammates then helped kick off a 28-game unbeaten streak.

It was his senior year in which "The Dodger" showed his versatility in a 13-0 win against Vanderbilt. Dodd finished with 14 punts for a 42-yard average, had nine carries for 39 yards, was 7-of-12 passing for 159 yards and two touchdowns and intercepted two passes. On the afternoon, Dodd gained 212 all-purpose yards, collecting all but 14 of Tennessee's team total of 226. The Vols finished 9-1 and Dodd's dominance on the gridiron earned him 1930 All-America honors.

Dodd furthered his association with great college football teams as head coach at Georgia Tech from 1947-66. Dodd's teams went 165-64-6, appearing in 13 bowls and winning nine. From 1950-53, Dodd was unbeaten at 29-0-2. In his honor, Georgia Tech named its facility Bobby Dodd Stadium at Grant Field. He is one of only three members inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame as a player and a coach, joining Amos Alonzo Stagg and UT's Bowden Wyatt.

Bob Suffridge
Guard 1938-40
Knoxville
Elected 1961

Bob Suffridge was the best there was on some of Tennessee's best teams. And during the two-way playing days, "Suff" was dominant on both sides of the ball.

Suffridge is the Vols' only three-time All-America, earning the honors from 1938-40. UT never lost a regular season game during his career, collecting a 30-0 record.

His sophomore year, the speedy Suffridge anchored a dominant line that paved the way to an 11-0 finish. The 1939 season saw Suffridge help lead Tennessee to another undefeated regular season, one in which the Vols' defense did not allow a single point. Both years Tennessee was crowned conference champs and finished as the second-ranked team in the country.

Suffridge's senior year was just as impressive. He won the Knute Rockne Memorial Trophy as the nation's most outstanding collegiate lineman and was named MVP by the Atlanta Touchdown Club. Meanwhile, his blocking and tackling helped pave the way for a third consecutive undefeated regular season and a third consecutive SEC title. Again, he was named All-America and All-SEC as the Vols earned national champion status from two polls.

The Vols lost two games in Suffridge's three years, both being postseason bowls. In honor of his achievements, Suffridge became a member of the all-time AP All-America Team, the all-time All-SEC Team (1933-82) and the Half-Century All-America Team (1950). He also is a member of the 35-Year All-SEC Team named by the Atlanta Journal, the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame and the Sugar Bowl, Rose Bowl and Orange Bowl halls of fame.

Nathan Dougherty
Scott County, Va.
Elected 1967

Nathan Dougherty's impact on the playing field and the classroom was one of huge recognition.

The Tennessee guard never had thoughts of playing football until his second year on The Hill, and then he made the squad on his first tryout in 1906. That was the year the forward pass was made legal.

After a 1-6-2 season, Dougherty helped boost the Vols' record the next two years, earning All-Southern selections. Tennessee put together records of 7-2-1 and 7-2 before falling back to 1-6-2 in 1909. But it was the 1909 season that Dougherty showed a glimpse of his leadership abilities by captaining the football, basketball and track teams all at the same time. In fact, Dougherty helped form the first ever Tennessee basketball squad that very year and for his efforts on the gridiron, Dougherty was named to the FWAA Southeast Area All-Time Team (1869-1919).

Upon graduating, Dougherty earned his master's degree and taught classes at Cornell before returning to Knoxville in 1916 as an associate engineering professor. He later became Dean of the College of Engineering (1940-56) and Chairman of the UT Athletics Board, a position he held for 40 years. Dougherty was influential in the design of Shields-Watkins Field and also was one of the primary engineers in building Tennessee football into a national program with his hiring of Gen. Robert R. Neyland in 1925 as an assistant coach. The following year, Neyland was promoted to head coach and history was made.

George Cafego
Tailback 1937-39
Scarbro, W.Va.
Elected 1969

George "Bad News" Cafego was just that for tacklers during his career at Tennessee.

Renowned for his blocking and running skills, Cafego also played safety and quarterback. On special teams, he returned kicks and punts as well as handled the punting duties. In his career, Cafego rushed for 1,589 yards, threw for 550 yards, returned 64 punts for 883 yards, returned 12 kickoffs for 391 yards and punted 115 times for a 38.3-yard average. He also had five interceptions.

The Vols got their first major bowl win, 17-0 over Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl, with Cafego in the backfield. The 1938 team finished 11-0 and Cafego was SEC Player of the Year. The 1939 squad shut out all of its opponents during the regular season before losing to Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl. The loss was UT's first in two years and came with Cafego sidelined by injury.

Tennessee was 24-4-1 in his three years. During the two perfect regular seasons, Cafego earned back-to-back All-SEC and All-America nods. He also was a Heisman candidate, finishing seventh in 1938 and fourth in 1939.

Cafego then was the first pick of the 1940 NFL Draft, taken by the Chicago Cardinals. He eventually played for the Brooklyn Dodgers for one season before a stint in the Army. He returned to the Dodgers in 1943 and spent his remaining career with the Washington Redskins and Boston Yanks.

Cafego served as an assistant coach on Tennessee's staff from 1955-85 under five different head coaches. UT honored the player called the "Ultimate Volunteer" by declaring Sept. 6, 1980, George Cafego Day.

Bowden Wyatt
End 1936-38
Kingston
Elected 1972 (Player)
1997 (Coach)

In 1936, Maj. Robert R. Neyland returned from a year of active Army duty for a second stint as head coach and Bowden Wyatt began his storied relationship with the Tennessee football team.

In 1938, Wyatt captained the Neyland-led troops to an 11-0 season while playing right end. The No. 2-ranked Vols had six shutouts on the season. The final shutout capped the year with Wyatt manning the defensive line and kicking a field goal in Tennessee's 17-0 Orange Bowl victory over Oklahoma, the Vols' first official bowl game.

That 1938 season, Tennessee outscored its opponents 283-16 in the midst of a 23-game win streak. Wyatt earned All-SEC honors for the second time and was a 1938 All-America selection as well.

Wyatt reached similarly lofty heights in the coaching ranks, accumulating a 99-56-5 record in rebuilding three programs. He won titles in three different conferences - Skyline, Southwest and SEC - and was named coach of the year in all three. After a year as an assistant at Mississippi State, Wyatt was head coach at Wyoming from 1947-53, and served at Arkansas in 1953-54 before coming home to Tennessee in 1955. Wyatt piloted the Vols to the 1956 SEC championship and was tabbed SEC and National Coach of the Year.

He became just the third member to be inducted into the hall as both player and coach, following Amos Alonzo Stagg and former Vols quarterback Bobby Dodd.

Hank Lauricella
Tailback 1949-51
Harahan, La.
Elected 1981

Hank Lauricella was "Mr. Everything" during one of the most prominent stretches in UT football history. His small stature - 5-foot-11, 175 pounds - fit the mold of a Tennessee tailback in Gen. Robert R. Neyland's single-wing attack.

The 1948 recruits have been called the best freshman class in Vol history, and it is hard to argue. By his 1950 sophomore campaign, Lauricella called all the plays as the tailback and also played safety. He earned All-SEC, but his best was yet to come.

In the 1951 Cotton Bowl against Texas, Lauricella set up Tennessee's first score with perhaps the most memorable run in school history. From the Vols' 20-yard line, Lauricella knifed his way through the Longhorns' defense and reversed field three times to allow for blocking help before finally being brought down at the Texas 5. The 75-yard run led to the Vols' first touchdown in a 20-14 win. Lauricella finished with 131 yards on the day.

He was named All-SEC and All-America in 1951, averaging 7.9 yards per carry in leading the Vols to a 10-0 regular season. Tennessee was named national champions prior to its Sugar Bowl appearance and Lauricella finished second in the Heisman Trophy voting.

During his career, Lauricella helped Tennessee to a 28-4-1 overall record, including a streak of 20 consecutive wins. He led the team in passing, rushing, total offense and punting his junior and senior years.

Lauricella later was elected to the Louisiana State House (8 years) and Senate (24 years).

Doug Atkins
End 1950-52
Humboldt
Elected 1985

Doug Atkins is considered by many to be the greatest defensive end in football history. That's quite a label for an athlete who signed with Tennessee on a basketball scholarship.

Atkins was named All-SEC his last two years with the Vols, in addition to being named All-America in 1952. In recognition of Atkins' work on the field, he was the only player to be unanimously named to the All-SEC Quarter Century Team and was awarded SEC Player of the Quarter Century (1950-74). He was also selected to the All-Time All-SEC Team (1933-82).

The Vols went 29-3-1 and were crownded national champions in 1951 with Atkins at defensive end. After his playing days, Tennessee honored him in a ceremony by proclaiming Sept. 11, 1976, Doug Atkins Day.

After wreaking havoc at Tennessee, Atkins went on to play professionally with the Cleveland Browns, signing a contract in 1953. With Atkins rushing the ball carrier, the Browns won the division title in 1953 and the NFL Championship the following year.

Chicago was the next stop, where he spent 12 seasons imbedding his name in the history books. Atkins was a member of the Bears in 1963 when they won the NFL Championship and in all, he was a three-time All-Pro selection and made over nine appearances in the Pro Bowl, including seven straight. He finished his pro career playing three years for the expansion New Orleans Saints.

He is the only Tennessee player to ever be voted into both the College Football Hall of Fame and the Professional Football Hall of Fame (inducted 1982).

Johnny Majors
Tailback 1954-56
Huntland
Elected 1987

Johnny Majors was the ideal single-wing tailback for the Volunteers. "The Drum" had a sleek frame that made him illusive along with an accurate arm. His stout leg completed the triple-threat and turned him into one of the finest tailbacks in UT history.

As a junior, he was the only back in the league to top the 1,000-yard mark in total offense. Majors' durability was displayed in the Vols' game against Georgia Tech when he played every down. The conference coaches selected him SEC Player of the Year.

That same honor was given to him again in 1956. His domination on the gridiron as the UT shot-caller was unparalleled in the South, earning him unanimous All-America selections. The national attention Majors received resulted in his finishing second on the Heisman Trophy ballot.

Majors' versatility showed in his career statistics. He collected 1,622 yards on the ground and threw for 1,135 yards, scoring 16 touchdowns in all. With his leg, he booted 83 punts for a 39.1-yard average. He also returned 36 punts for 438 yards and ran back 15 kickoffs for 344 yards. Even as a safety, Majors grabbed two interceptions. His accomplishments on the field earned him a spot on the All-SEC Quarter Century Team (1950-74).

As a coach, Majors was the head man at Iowa State and Pittsburgh, where he won the national title in 1976. But the next year, Majors returned to his alma mater to coach the Volunteers from 1977-92, winning the 1985 SEC championship and back-to-back conference titles in 1989 and 1990. He finished with an overall coaching record of 185-137-10.

College Football Hall of Fame

Bob Johnson
Center 1965-67
Cleveland
Elected 1989

In a position that rarely commands attention, center Bob Johnson left UT as one of the most decorated athletes in school history.

Doug Dickey's first recruit was captain of the 1967 Vols, earning his second consecutive All-SEC and All-America nods with unanimous votes. Johnson was awarded the Jacobs Trophy, given to the SEC's best blocker, and The Birmingham Touchdown Club named him the SEC's Most Outstanding Lineman. In addition, Johnson finished sixth in the Heisman voting as a center.

Johnson earned 1967 Academic All-America recognition and received the National Football Foundation's Scholar-Athlete Award. Johnson served as vice president of his senior class while majoring in industrial engineering.

After graduating, Johnson won the National Football Foundation Post-Graduate Scholarship to attend Harvard's School of Business. But Johnson stuck with his love and became the first draft choice of the expansion Cincinnati Bengals in 1968--the third pick overall. Johnson spent 12 seasons with the Bengals and served as captain each year with the exception of his last, when he came out of retirement to snap. His No. 54 is the only retired jersey in Bengals history.

Johnson was named to the 1960s All-SEC Team and the SEC Quarter Century Team in 1974. College Football Hall of Fame chapters in Cincinnati and East Tennessee gave Johnson the Distinguished American Award. In 1993, he was one of six former players to earn the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award.

Ed Molinski
Guard 1938-40
Massillon, Ohio
Elected 1990

During the days of the two-way player, Ed Molinski set the standard for linemen. A look at the scoreboards from his era shows why "Big Mo" and the men in the trenches formed one of the best lines ever.

Molinski anchored the line under Gen. Robert R. Neyland's 1938 squad that went 11-0. The Vols outscored their opponents 283-16, allowing TDs only to Clemson and LSU.

The 1939 team is the one that perhaps is remembered best. The Molinski-led defensive line set records galore for holding teams at bay, including the fewest yards allowed (1,023), lowest average per play allowed (2.2 yards) and lowest average per game allowed (103.3 yards). That team also did not allow a touchdown through the air or by ground because the 1939 Volunteers swept through the regular season without allowing a single point, a modern NCAA record. They are the last team to not allow a point through the regular season.

Molinski was named All-SEC and consensus All-America in 1939, and he earned first-team All-America in 1940 from The Sporting News. Tennessee teams were a combined 31-2 with Molinski in the trenches and the Vols finished first or tied for first in the SEC each year. They also finished no lower than No. 4 in Associate Press rankings.

Along with his gridiron skills, Molinski was captain of the Tennessee boxing team from 1938-40 and was crowned Golden Glove champion. After graduating, Molinski became a physician in Memphis and served as the team doctor for the Mississippi State and Memphis State football teams.

Steve DeLong
Middle Guard 1962-64
Norfolk, Va.
Elected 1993

Steve DeLong made a name for himself through his toughness on the line. As a sophomore, DeLong earned the first of three SEC Coaches Best Defensive Lineman Awards. His junior year at Tennessee, he received All-SEC and All-America honors.

The 1964 season was DeLong's best. He repeated as All-SEC and All-America his senior year as captain of the team and his work in the trenches led to winning the Outland Trophy as the nation's most outstanding interior lineman. DeLong also was named SEC Lineman of the Year by the Atlanta Touchdown Club and the Nation's Outstanding Lineman by the Columbus Touchdown Club, Birmingham Touchdown Club and Look magazine. Along the way, he finished eighth on the Heisman ballot. The lineman went on to be named MVP of the Senior Bowl.

His feats were even more magnified considering Tennessee's 5-5 record in 1963 and 4-5-1 mark in 1964, Doug Dickey's first year as coach of the Volunteers. In three years on the varsity level, DeLong played under three head coaches -- Bowden Wyatt, Jim McDonald and Dickey.

Following his days at Tennessee, the AFL's San Diego Chargers drafted DeLong in 1965. He spent six seasons in San Diego before ending his career in 1972 with the Chicago Bears.

DeLong's brother, Ken, was a two-time All-SEC selection for the Vols from 1967-69. His son, Keith, followed his father's footsteps and became an All-America linebacker at Tennessee and was a team captain in 1988. All three DeLongs were captains or co-captains.

John Michels
Offensive Guard 1950-52
Philadelphia, Pa.
Elected 1996

John Michels was the "best blocking guard in the United States," Gen. Robert R. Neyland once said, and he was definitely one of the best blockers Tennessee ever had.

Michels fulfilled his duties at guard to perfection while playing at UT and his fame started in the 20-14 win over Texas in the 1951 Cotton Bowl. During Hank Laricella's historic 75-yard run, Michels blocked three different men to help set up the play.

Michels paved the way for one of the most dominant running attacks in football history and guided the 1951 Vols to their first consensus national championship. Tennessee rushed for 3,068 yards, scored 40 touchdowns on the ground and rushed for 306.8 yards per game - all still school records.

He was an All-SEC selection in 1951 and received both all-conference and All-America accolades in 1952. During Michels' senior season, he was awarded the Jacobs Trophy given to the SEC's best blocker. In his three years, Tennessee compiled a 29-4-1 record.

Professionally, Michels played the 1953 season with his hometown Philadelphia Eagles before serving in the Army. He returned in 1956 to play for the Eagles and then for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League the following year.

Michels began his coaching career at Texas A&M as line coach under Bear Bryant before returning to guide Winnipeg for seven years. He went on to coach with the Minnesota Vikings for 27 years. In all, he was involved in five Grey Cups and four Super Bowls.

Steve Kiner
Linebacker 1967-69
Tampa, Fla.
Elected 1999

Steve Kiner's outstanding play at linebacker fits the tradition Tennessee holds for the position. And while playing for the Volunteers, Kiner developed a tradition of his own - a tradition of dominating on the field.

Kiner was a three-year starter for UT and began the rise to glory during his sophomore year. That year, 1967, the Vols were crowned SEC champs, finished ranked No. 2 in the nation and Kiner's aggressive style earned him SEC Sophomore of the Year.

But it was his junior and senior seasons in which Kiner took the nation by storm. He was named All-SEC and All-America in 1968 and 1969, making him Doug Dickey's first player to twice earn consensus All-America.

Kiner was on his way to SEC Defensive Player of the Year and national recognition as well after Tennessee's 41-14 victory over Alabama in 1969. The linebacker had five sacks, 11 tackles with five assists, four quarterback hurries, an interception and a forced fumble. "I'll remember that day for the rest of my life," Kiner said. He went on to finish ninth in the Heisman voting.

Kiner led the Vols in tackles both his junior and senior seasons and finished with nine interceptions for his career, a span that saw the Vols go 26-6-1. Kiner helped Tennessee to the SEC title again in 1969, marking its second conference championship in three seasons.

Later a third-round selection by the Dallas Cowboys in the 1970 NFL Draft, Kiner played professional football until 1978, spending time in New England, Washington and Houston.

Reggie White
Defensive Tackle 1980-83
Chattanooga
Elected 2002

In his four years with the Vols, Reggie White collected a school-record 32 sacks in establishing himself as the most prolific pass rusher in Tennessee history.

Known as the "Minister of Defense," White earned continuous praise. After collecting 146 tackles his first two years, the ordained Baptist minister began turning heads.

The 1983 team captain, White drew little publicity until the sixth game of his senior year. By then, his domination was evident. He collected 100 tackles on the season, 72 of them unassisted, and set the school-record with 15 sacks for the year. He had a sack in every game but two and dropped the quarterback four times against The Citadel, another school record.

White's senior campaign earned him All-SEC and consensus All-America honors. The SEC named him Player of the Year, making him the first Vol since his coach, Johnny Majors, was given the award in 1956. White was the Atlanta Touchdown Club's Player of the Year. The Birmingham Touchdown Club named him Most Outstanding Lineman and the Birmingham Monday Morning Quarterback Club awarded him Most Outstanding Senior.

White moved to defensive end in the NFL and became one of the best pass rushers in league history. After a stint with the USFL's Memphis Showboats in 1984-85, he played for the Philadelphia Eagles (1985-92), Green Bay Packers (1993-98) and Carolina Panthers (2000). He was NFL Defensive Player of the Year in 1987 and led the Packers to a win in the 1998 Super Bowl. White retired as the NFL's all-time sack leader with 198.

Doug Dickey
Head Coach 1964-69
Vermillion, S.D.
Elected 2003 (Coach)

Not only did Doug Dickey reestablish an elite football program at UT, he also brought a large helping of tradition that many Vol fans now take for granted.

His teams were the first to run through the band's power "T" formation, beginning Sept. 25, 1965, against Army. It wasn't done for style or intimidation, but rather to get from the dressing rooms on the East side of the stadium to the team's sideline on the West side of the field. Now, although the formation is not necessary, it's just as traditional as the game itself.

Dickey also put the power "T" on the football helmets during the 1964 season and was the first to order the endzones painted in an orange and white checkerboard, beginning Oct. 10, 1964, against Boston College. The colorful checkerboard is now a UT signature that has extended to several other Vol sports.

Dickey began his ties with Tennessee as head football coach from 1964-69. His tenure included a 46-15-4 record that took the Vols from mediocrity to national prominence in the late 1960s. Two SEC championships (1967 and 1969) were brought to Knoxville during Dickey's term as head coach and he was named SEC Coach of the Year in 1965 and 1967.

After a nine-year stint as football coach at Florida, his alma mater, Dickey returned to Tennessee as athletics director in 1985. Dickey was widely recognized as one of the nation's best, earning numerous awards for his work and molding of the UT Athletics Department.

The Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame named him Tennessean of the Year in 2000, and in 2001 Dickey was named recipient of the Neyland Trophy.

Frank Emanuel
Linebacker 1963-65
Newport News, Va.
Elected 2004

As a coach, Frank Emanuel once said, "Give me a guy who'll get excited and chase the football, and he's got a chance to play defense." As a player, it's difficult to describe Emanuel any better.

The Tennessee linebacker set the standard for playing the position in the mid-1960s as the defensive signal caller and paved the way for dozens of Vol greats to follow. Emanuel started in 1964 and 1965 during Doug Dickey's first two seasons as head coach, also the first years Tennessee fielded teams with separate offensive and defensive squads.

Emanuel was one of the Vols' last two-way players in 1963 under coach Jim McDonald, playing linebacker and single-wing center. But when Dickey became coach the following season, Emanuel concentrated solely on tackling. In 1964, he buried Alabama quarterback Joe Namath in the dirt on a goal-line stand in a loss against the No. 3 Crimson Tide. The following week, he led another goal-line stand to preserve a 3-3 tie against seventh-ranked LSU.

As good as Emanuel was his junior year, he was better as a senior after overcoming several difficulties. He was named co-captain of the squad in 1965 and became a student of the game. One example was his 26-tackle performance against Kentucky after he picked up on a guard's movement, which allowed him to read the plays. The Vols went 8-1-2 that year and beat Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl. Emanuel was named All-America on a defense that gave up just 98 points on the year, 37 coming from UCLA alone.

Emanuel was drafted by and signed with the Miami Dolphins in 1966 and spent four years in Miami before finishing his professional career with the Saints in 1970.

Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame

Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame

The Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame is a non-profit corporation founded to honor the outstanding achievements of Tennesseans in the realm of sports, to perpetuate the memory of their careers and service, and to provide a permanent Hall of Fame for the display of mementos and souvenirs commemorating their contributions.

The Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame was founded by a group known as the Middle Tennessee Sportswriters and Broadcasters Association. Its early growth was due largely to three of the founders: C.E. Jackson Jr., Charlie Sons and the Rev. A. Richard Smith.

In 1994, the State Legislature, under the leadership of Speaker of the House Jimmy Naifeh and Lt. Gov. John Wilder, along with Rep. Bill Purcell and Sen. Robert Rochelle, passed legislation to officially create the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame.

The creation of the Act began a new era in the history of the Sports Hall of Fame. A Board of Directors was founded composed of 25 Tennessee citizens, eight each appointed by the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House. The 25th member of the Board is the State Treasurer or his designee. No more than eight of the appointed members shall reside in a grand division of the state.

The Hall of Fame is permanently housed in the Gaylord Entertainment Center in downtown Nashville at 501 Broadway Ave. For more information contact Executive Director Ryland Hoskins at Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, 501 Broadway Ave., Nashville, TN 37203 or at (615) 242-4750.

TIMELESS TRADITION

Tennessee Football History

Robert Reese Neyland had not yet been born when the Vols played their first football game in November 1891 and more than 100 years of football tradition were begun. But remember the name.

Tennessee football is the story of the "greats"... the players, coaches, plays and fans, all of whom have helped build the program. From Bob Neyland to Phillip Fulmer, from Gene McEver to Bob Johnson, from Nathan Washington Dougherty to Reggie White, from Dick Huffman to John Henderson. And all points in between.

The Vols' debut on the gridiron in that 1891 season was none too promising, as Sewanee defeated the Vols, 24-0, in a game played in the muck and mire in Chattanooga. It was also the only game on that year's schedule. The first win would come in 1892, a 25-0 decision at Maryville. The first home win would have to wait until 1893, as the Vols topped Maryville again, this time by a 32-0 count.

Neyland was born Feb. 17, 1892, in Greenville, Texas, and his influence on the Vol program would be felt from 1926 on, even through today.

The Formative Years: A New Stadium Is Built in 1921

In those early years, from 1891 to 1912, football coaches came and went, frequently on a year-to-year basis. The Vols did not have a head coach until 1899 and had seven head coaches between that time and 1911.

In the 1907 season, organized cheerleading was brought to campus by R. C. (Red) Matthews.

The Vols won the 1914 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship under head coach Zora Clevenger, piling up 374 points to 37 for their opponents. It was also the first Vol squad to defeat Vanderbilt, doing so 16-14 Nov. 7. In 1916, the first Homecoming game was held, as the Vols defeated Vanderbilt, 10-6.

It was not until 1920, 29 years into the program's history, that the Vols won their 100th game, a 49-0 victory over Transylvania. The leading player of that time was Dougherty, an All-Southern selection in 1907 and 1908, and known to his teammates as "Big-Un."

Tennessee had played its home games on Wait Field at the corner of 15th Street and Cumberland Avenue on campus, but moved into a new home in 1921.

Shields-Watkins Field was less than a mile away on 15th Street (now Phillip Fulmer Way) and was named for its benefactors, Knoxville banker and UT trustee William S. Shields and his wife, Alice Watkins-Shields. It opened that season with 3,200 seats, although it had been used for baseball the previous spring. No one knew that just over 80 years later, the stadium would hold more than 100,000 fans.

A year later, the Vols wore Orange jerseys for the first time (black shirts with orange and white piping being the previous color of choice), taking the color from the American Daisy which grew in profusion on The Hill north of the stadium.

STUDENT FIELD DAY: Students, faculty and administrators work to prepare Shields-Watkins Field for the 1921 season.

A Vol guard of 1922-23 vintage, Estes Kefauver of Madisonville, became a United States Senator and was a candidate for Vice-President in 1956.

Enter Bob Neyland: A Tradition Is Born

In 1926, Neyland, then an ROTC instructor, Army captain and backfield coach the previous season, was named head coach and served through the end of the 1934 season when the Army beckoned him to Panama. Dougherty, dean of UT's College of Engineering and longtime faculty chairman of athletics, hired Neyland with the lone injunction: "Even the score with Vanderbilt; do something about our terrible standing in the series."

The Vols won the Southern Conference championship in 1927 with an 8-0-1 record and looked forward to the 1928 season. In that season, the Vols defeated heavily-favored Alabama, 15-13, in Tuscaloosa, as tailback Gene McEver, the "Bristol Blizzard" and one of the "Flaming Sophomores of 1928," took the opening kickoff 98 yards for a score.

Buddy Hackman did likewise a week later against Washington & Lee and the Vol express was off and running. Hackman and McEver became known as the "Touchdown Twins." The 1928 season also saw the UT Alma Mater selected in a contest sponsored by the UT men's Glee Club, a lofty selection penned by Mary Fleming Meek, who died just a year later. In 1929, McEver became Tennessee's first All-America selection.

The beginning of the 1930s saw Tennessee play in its first bowl game, a 13-0 victory over New York University at Yankee Stadium in New York.

Vol lineman Herman Hickman, later a College Football Hall of Fame selection, had an outstanding game that afternoon and Grantland Rice added Hickman to his All-America team on the basis of that performance.

Tennessee won the Southern Conference championship again in 1932 with a 9-0-1 record and joined the fledgling Southeastern Conference a year later. In 1934, Tennessee won its 200th game, defeating Mississippi 27-0 in Knoxville Oct. 13.

Over that time, Neyland and the Vols had assembled a 76-7-5 record, with undefeated streaks of 33 and 28 games along with a 30-game home winning streak.

Neyland Returns from Panama for the Second of His Three Great Eras

Bill Britton had taken Neyland's place in the 1935 season while Neyland was in the Canal Zone. Neyland returned home for the 1936 season and immediately began building another dynasty.

By 1938, he was ready. With another group of sensational sophomores leading the way, he began a three-year run in which the Vols won 30 consecutive regular season games and visited the Orange, Rose and Sugar Bowls.

The 1938 team ended with an 11-0 record, defeating Oklahoma in the 1939 Orange Bowl. The 1938 Vols were named national champions by Dunkel, Litkenhous, Boand, Houlgate and Poling. The 1939 team shut out 10 consecutive opponents. Consider this. No collegiate team has since shut out an entire slate of opponents. The Vols brought home a check for $100,000 from the 1940 Rose Bowl.

In the 1939 Alabama game, which found Ted Husing of CBS and Bill Stern of NBC at Shields-Watkins Field covering the game, a sophomore tailback from Knoxville named Johnny Butler etched his name into Vol history with a 56-yard run against the Tide on which he went sideline to sideline for the score at the south end.

Neyland's record during this era was 43-7-3. The Vols still hold an NCAA record for holding opponents scoreless for 71 consecutive quarters (from the second quarter of the 1938 Louisiana State game through the second quarter of the 1940 Alabama game) and pitched 17 consecutive shutouts. The 1940 Vols were voted national champions by Dunkel and Williamson.

After the 1940 season, however, Neyland was called back to the military as winds of war hovered over the world. He was gone until just before the 1946 season, leaving the Vol football program in the capable hands of John Barnhill, who later became head coach and athletic director at Arkansas.

Barnhill compiled a 32-5-2 record and led the Vols to the Sugar and Rose Bowls. The Vols also played their first night game in 1944, a 13-0 decision at LSU.

Four Vol players did not return home from World War II. They were Bill Nowling, Rudy Klarer, Willis Tucker and Clyde "Ig" Fuson. They are memorialized in the Tennessee Hall of Fame Exhibit on campus.

Neyland's Final Years: A Consensus National Championship Comes to Knoxville

Neyland arrived home from World War II for the 1946 season and noted, "It will take us five years to put Tennessee back on top." Undaunted, the Vols immediately won the SEC Championship and a bid to the Orange Bowl. The dominant player that season was tackle Dick Huffman, still remembered as one of the toughest Vols ever. He would lead the charge against Alabama quarterback Harry Gilmer in a 12-0 Vol win.

Critics argued that Neyland had lost his touch, particularly in view of 5-5 and 4-4-2 seasons in 1947 and 1948 and the assertion that his beloved single-wing offense had gone out of style.

In 1948, Tennessee won its 300th game, defeating Alabama, 21-6, on Homecoming afternoon.

By the end of the 1948 season, Neyland was ready for his final run as Vol head man. It was just before the 1949 season that Vol publicist Lindsey Nelson formed the initial Vol Radio Network.

After a 7-2-1 mark in 1949, led by another talented group of sophomores, the Vols kicked off the decade of the 1950s with an 11-1 season, marred only by a 7-0 loss at Mississippi State in the season's second week. The Vols, named national champions by Dunkel and DeVold, rolled through the season and upset Texas in the 1951 Cotton Bowl, sparked by a 75-yard run by tailback Hank Lauricella that Stern called one of the best he had ever seen.

Neyland's 1951 team came back and won the national championship with a 10-0 regular-season record. The contest with Alabama that season, a 27-13 Vol victory, was the Vols' first on a new invention called television. Lauricella, that season's Heisman Trophy runner-up, offensive guard John Michels and defensive tackle Doug Atkins were later named to the College Football Hall of Fame. Atkins, named also to the Pro Football Hall of Fame for his work at Cleveland, Chicago and New Orleans, is the only Vol enshrined in both. Atkins was also named SEC "Player of the Quarter Century" in 1976.

Tennessee finished with an 8-2-1 record in 1952, but the big story was Neyland stepping down as Vol head coach just before the Cotton Bowl game against Texas, a game the Vols lost, 16-0. His record for his third stint at Tennessee was 54-17-4 and his overall record was 173-31-12.

In 1953 Smokey, a blue tick coon hound, became the Vols' official mascot by vote of the student crowd in a contest organized by the Pep Club. There have been Smokeys ever since then, nine in all, provided by the Brooks and Hudson families of Knoxville.

Harvey Robinson became the Vols' new head coach in 1953, serving through the 1954 season. Neyland once called dismissing Robinson after that 1954 season "the hardest thing I've ever had to do."

1955: Bowden Wyatt Returns Home

Bowden Wyatt, who had been head coach at Wyoming and Arkansas, returned to campus as Vol head coach in 1955, 17 years after leading the Vols to an 11-0 record in 1938. He hit the jackpot in 1956, his second year, as the Vols won the SEC and earned a berth in the Sugar Bowl. The Vols' 6-0 win over Georgia Tech that November, matching Neyland protegees Wyatt and Bobby Dodd at Atlanta's Grant Field, was later voted by the Associated Press as the second-greatest college football game ever.

Tailback Johnny Majors was twice SEC Player of the Year and an All-America selection and runner-up for the Heisman Trophy in 1956. He was also named to the College Football Hall of Fame as a player in 1987.

The Vols followed up the 1956 season with a 7-3 season in 1957 and played Bear Bryant's last Texas A&M team in the Gator Bowl, winning 3-0 on the accurate toe of placekicker Sammy Burklow.

The Vols closed out the decade of the 1950s with two major upset victories in 1959, defeating Auburn 3-0 in September and LSU 14-13 in November, both games in Knoxville.

The 1960 season saw the Vols begin the decade with a 10-3 win over Auburn in Birmingham and a 20-7 triumph over Alabama in Knoxville.

The date was March 28, 1962, when Gen. Neyland died at the Oescher Clinic in New Orleans. In his memory, the stadium was named "Neyland Stadium" and an academic scholarship fund started, both events happening at the Alabama game in October.

There was a new upper deck seating 5,837 on the west side, plus a new press box, making total stadium capacity 52,227.

Wyatt's tenure as Vol coach ended after a 4-6 record in 1962, with assistant coach Jim McDonald taking the reins for the 1963 season. During that season, the first Neyland Stadium crowd of more than 50,000 saw the Vols play Georgia Tech.

Later that season, the Vols took their 400th victory, defeating Tulane, 26-0, in New Orleans. The times were changing and these changes would become evident a year later.

Doug Dickey Brings the "T" Formation to Knoxville

After the 1963 season, Doug Dickey, then a top assistant to Frank Broyles at Arkansas, became the Vols' head coach, bringing the "T" formation with him to Knoxville.

Dickey's first Tennessee team finished 4-5-1, but hopes were high as the Vols narrowly lost to Auburn and Alabama, tied Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and upset favored Georgia Tech at Grant Field.

Middle guard Steve DeLong won the Outland Trophy and Dickey's staff recruited a freshman class which would help lead the Vols out of the wilderness. One of that year's recruits, wide receiver Richmond Flowers from Montgomery, Ala., was the first of a number of track-football athletes who brought a new dimension of speed to the Vol program.

In 1965, Dickey's second team finished 8-1-2 and earned a Bluebonnet Bowl bid, UT's first bowl game since 1957. The season's pivotal moment came in the aftermath of the Alabama game. The Vols had tied Alabama, 7-7, in Birmingham and spirits were high on the Knoxville campus. Line coach Charley Rash put a note in each of his linemen's mailbox that night after the game: "Play like that every week and you'll go undefeated."

Two days later, Rash, Bill Majors and Bob Jones were killed in an early morning car-train collision in west Knoxville. Nearly 40 years later, persons connected with the Vol program still praise the way Dickey handled the tragedy, pulling everybody together and keeping the Vol program going.

One of the most memorable moments of that, or any other season, was the 37-34 "Rosebonnet Bowl" victory over UCLA at Memorial Stadium in Memphis, so named by Vol broadcaster George Mooney because of the post-season destinations of the two teams.

It was a classic offensive shootout that was finally settled when Vol quarterback Dewey Warren

Tennessee's Johnny Butler broke his famous 56-yard run in the Volunteers 21-0 victory over Alabama in Knoxville. The 1939 Vols are the last college football team to go through the regular season unscored upon.

ambled around left end for the winning score and Bobby Petrella grabbed a last-ditch Bruin aerial.

In 1966, there was an addition of 5,895 seats to the north stands, which increased stadium capacity to 58,122. There was also a new scoreboard at the north end, with a "countdown clock," replacing one that was really a clock, complete with minute and second hands. Tennessee's 8-3 record, including an 18-12 Gator Bowl win over a Syracuse team which featured running backs Larry Csonka and Floyd Little, presaged what was to come in 1967.

The Vols lost their opener to UCLA, a nocturnal affair at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, but came back to win their remaining nine games and the SEC Championship, earning an Orange Bowl date against Oklahoma. The Vols swept Alabama, Auburn, Louisiana State and Mississippi, defeating the Tide for the first time since 1960 and the Rebels for the first time since 1958. The Vols finished No. 2 in the final polls and were selected as national champions by Litkenhous. One other note, the Vols' 41-14 win over Vanderbilt in December was the last game played on the Neyland Stadium grass until September 1994.

In 1968, artificial turf came to Neyland Stadium. With the new turf and the demise of the grass field came a 6,307-seat east upper deck and new auxiliary east side scoreboard. The addition raised capacity to 64,429.

In the first game played on Tartan Turf against Vince Dooley's Georgia Bulldogs, Nashville's Lester McClain became Tennessee's first African-American to play in an SEC varsity football game.

The Vols rallied for a 17-17 tie that day in an exciting finish led by quarterback Bubba Wyche. Runner-up in the SEC in 1968, Tennessee won the crown again in 1969 with a 9-1 record and played in the Gator Bowl. Linebacker Steve Kiner (1967-69) was named to the College Football Hall of Fame in 1999.

After the 1969 season, Dickey moved to Florida as head coach and 28-year-old Bill Battle became the Vols' new head man. His first team finished 11-1 and he became the first Division I head coach to win 11 games in his first year.

Seasons of 10-2 and 10-2 followed in 1971 and 1972. In 1972, 6,221 seats were added to the stadium's southwest corner and capacity was increased to 70,650.

In that 1972 season, Condredge Holloway became a whirling dervish under center, a master of the broken field run. He ran over, under and even occasionally through opponents during his career, which saw him tabbed "The Artful Dodger."

In 1975, the Vols won their 500th game, defeating Kentucky, 17-13, at Commonwealth Stadium in Lexington.

Battle resigned after the 1976 season and Johnny Majors, tailback of 1954-56 vintage, then head coach of the national champion Pittsburgh Panthers, answered the University's call, coming home as head coach for the 1977 season. "Follow me to Tennessee" was the rallying cry, and Vol fans couldn't wait for the 1977 opener against California.

Johnny Majors Marches Home

Johnny Majors' early teams had no bigger victory than a 40-18 victory over Notre Dame at Neyland Stadium in 1979, a season in which the Vols led eventual national champion Alabama 17-0 in the second quarter at Legion Field. A 7-4 record was sufficient to earn a Bluebonnet Bowl bid.

A crowd of 95,288 saw the Vols and Georgia square off to begin the 1980 season in an expanded Neyland Stadium.

Georgia won, 16-15, on its way to a national championship, but the Vols did have their moments that year, taking a 42-0 win at Auburn and concluding the season with a 45-14 win over Kentucky and a 51-13 win over Vanderbilt.

The 1981 Vols overcame early, seemingly devastating, losses at Georgia and Southern Cal to post an 8-4 record and received a Garden State Bowl berth against Wisconsin. Slowly but surely, Big Orange fortunes were on an upswing.

With the 1982 World's Fair as a backdrop, Tennessee ended 11 years of frustration by defeating Alabama, 35-28, at Neyland Stadium. Mike Terry's interception cinched things and Vol fans counted the clock down on the first of four consecutive wins over Alabama. The game would also mark Bryant's final appearance at Neyland Stadium. He stepped down after the season and died the next January.

Led by Reggie White, an absolute terror at defensive tackle, UT began an upsurge in fortunes in 1983, going 9-3 and winning the Florida Citrus Bowl. White would earn College Football Hall of Fame honors in 2002. Johnnie Jones had the game-winner against the Tide that year, motoring 66 yards to break a 34-34 tie.

In 1984, the Vols rallied from a 27-13 deficit in the fourth quarter to defeat Alabama 28-27. In 1985, the Vols surprised everybody by defeating No. 1 Auburn, 38-20, and Alabama, 16-14, on their way to an SEC crown, first since 1969, and a Sugar Bowl date with Miami. But it wasn't easy. Not at all.

Vol quarterback Tony Robinson, who had played brilliantly in a season-opening tie with UCLA and the win over Auburn, hurt a knee in the fourth quarter against Alabama and missed the rest of the season. Daryl Dickey, Doug Dickey's son, stepped into the breach and kept the Vol ship on course the rest of the way, including a 35-7 win over the Hurricanes that Vol fans remember fondly to this day. The Louisiana Superdome was Big Orange Country South that Jan. 1, 1986, night.

The 1989 season saw an 11-1 record, an SEC Championship and Cotton Bowl trip. The win over Arkansas in Dallas Jan. 1, 1990, was the Vols' 600th. The Vols were the most improved team in the country, coming from 5-6 in 1988 to 1989's 11-1.

The 1990s began with another SEC championship and trip to the Sugar Bowl.

The highlight of the 1991 season came in South Bend, Ind., at Notre Dame Stadium, when the Vols overcame a 31-7 deficit to somehow win by 35-34. Vol placekicker John Becksvoort had dreamed of defeating the Irish with a field goal, but, in this case, an extra point was plenty. Jeremy Lincoln blocked an Irish field goal attempt with his backside to preserve the victory.

Phillip Fulmer Takes Vols To National Title in 1998

Phillip Fulmer's remarkable coaching career includes reaching both the 50- and 75-victory milestones quicker than any other coach in Southeastern Conference history. In 1998, Fulmer guided Tennessee to its sixth national championship, with a 13-0 record and Tostitos Fiesta Bowl victory over Florida State.

In 2002, Fulmer notched his 100th career victory, and like many other milestones, the number of victories takes on an exceptional glow when held up to the light of gridiron history. Fulmer only needed 123 games to reach the century mark.

Fulmer was named head coach in November of 1992 to replace Johnny Majors, who had resigned. Fulmer's stewardship began with the Vols' trip to the Hall of Fame Bowl in Tampa. Quarterbacked by Heath Shuler, the Big Orange routed Boston College, 38-23. The victory, combined with three other triumphs in which Fulmer served as interim coach, gave the new mentor a 4-0 record heading into the 1993 campaign.

Vol gridiron success continued through Fulmer's first full season as head coach. The Vols went 10-2 in 1993, a year in which quarterback Heath Shuler finished runner-up for the Heisman Trophy. Tennessee was rewarded with a trip to the Florida Citrus Bowl.

The 1994 season will be remembered for one of the guttiest comebacks ever staged by a Tennessee team. The Vols, whose first-string quarterback Jerry Colquitt was injured in the opening minutes of the first game, staggered to a 1-3 start but stuck together under Fulmer's direction and ended the season with an 8-4 mark, including a bowl victory. Peyton Manning earned a start in the Washington State game and was there for the duration, compiling an NCAA best 39-5 record as a starter.

UT closed the season by whipping Virginia Tech, 45-23, in the Gator Bowl (at Florida Field in Gainesville) and set the stage for a 1995 campaign that included a rousing victory at Alabama, six other SEC victories, an overall 11-1 record and an exciting 20-14 win over Ohio State in the Florida Citrus Bowl. The CNN-USA Today coaches poll ranked UT No. 2 in the nation after that bowl win.

The 1996 Vols gave the school its second straight top-10 ranking with a 10-2 record capped by a 48-28 victory over Northwestern in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Record crowds filed through the gates of the newly enlarged Neyland Stadium, with a collegiate attendance mark of 107,608 for the Sept. 21 game with Florida. The Vols have not had a home crowd under 100,000 since.

Also in 1996, John Michels was named to the College Football Hall of Fame.

The 1997 season tested the comeback quality of the Vols, who bounced back from a loss to Florida, won the rest of their games, including the SEC Championship contest over Auburn, and then had an outside shot at a No. 1 ranking in the AP and coaches' final poll.

But, alas, a national championship wasn't to be yet. After hanging in gamely through the first half, Tennessee yielded to powerhouse Nebraska and suffered a 42-17 loss in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

But even that one-sided defeat couldn't diminish a season in which the Vols, behind the brilliant passing of Heisman runner-up Manning, won the Southeastern Conference championship after edging out Florida for the Eastern Division title.

As the 1998 season approached, Tennessee coaches were struck with the dimensions of the assignment that faced them: rebuild following the loss of the nation's best quarterback and one of the game's top defensive stars.

Demonstrating the unpredictability of college football, Tennessee rolled undefeated through the 1998 regular season, defeated Mississippi State for the Southeastern Conference championship and then faced Florida State in the first Bowl Championship Series matchup at Tempe, Ariz.

Tee Martin engineered a 23-16 victory over FSU in a title game that gave Tennessee the undisputed national championship and landed Phillip Fulmer deserved acclaim as national coach of the year.

The Vols found themselves in a tight crack at crunch time but showed the resourcefulness that allowed them to escape every trap. The leadership of Martin and the emergence of Travis Henry and Travis Stephens as replacements at tailback when Jamal Lewis was injured received justified recognition for their part in the unsullied championship campaign.

A defense led by the incomparable All-America linebacker Al Wilson played magnificently at critical times, and placekicker Jeff Hall was Mr. Reliable with chips on the table against Syracuse and Florida.

Tennessee had a game-winning drive after an Arkansas turnover late in the fourth period to help save the undefeated season.

Tennessee also scored 14 points on consecutive possessions in the fourth quarter of the SEC title game against Mississippi State to take a 24-14 victory.

In 1999, the awarding of the Beer Barrel, the symbol of the rivalry between Tennessee and Kentucky since 1925, was discontinued.

The 1999 team was 9-3 and continued a win streak that had reached seven by the 2002 season with a 21-7 win over Alabama at Bryant-Denny Stadium in Tuscaloosa. It was the first time the Vols had played in Tuscaloosa since 1930.

The 1999 team also had a solid 38-14 win over Notre Dame on its resume on its way to a Fiesta Bowl game with Nebraska.

As the decade of the 2000s opened, the Vols won their 700th game in the season opener against Southern Mississippi.

Casey Clausen became known as the "Comeback Kid," stepping in at quarterback in the Alabama game and leading the Vols through some close contests down the stretch to a Cotton Bowl game against Kansas State. Defensive tackle John Henderson won the Outland Trophy as the nation's best interior lineman and was an All-America selection, first such award for the Vols since Steve DeLong won the award in 1964.

In 2001, Clausen led the Vols to comeback wins at Alabama, Notre Dame and Florida and capped off an Eastern Division championship season by leading a 45-17 win over Michigan at the Florida Citrus Bowl in the first ever contest between the two tradition-laden programs.

Travis Stephens and Henderson were All-America selections. An overall mark of 11-2 made Fulmer part of 11-win teams as a player (1970), an assistant coach (1989) and head coach (1995, 1998 and 2001).

Fulmer reached yet another coaching milestone in 2002 when he guided the Vols to an 18-10 win in Columbia, S.C., marking his 100th head coaching victory.

In December 2002, Reggie White was named to the College Football Hall of Fame.

The 2003 season saw the Vols win 10 games for the seventh time in Fulmer's coaching tenure. Highlights were a 51-43, five overtime, marathon win over Alabama at Bryant-Denny Stadium in Tuscaloosa.

Two weeks later, the Vols won 10-6 over Miami at the Orange Bowl, snapping a 26-game home winning streak for the Hurricanes. A 6-2 SEC mark was good enough for a share of the SEC Eastern Division crown.

Tennessee also extended its streak of consecutive seasons with a bowl appearance to 15, squaring-off against Clemson in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta.

Dustin Colquitt, son of former Vol Craig Colquitt (1975-77), ended his junior season by being named an All-America punter, first Vol kicker so honored since Ron Widby in 1966. Placekicker James Wilhoit was named a freshman All-America.

Doug Dickey was named to the College Football Hall of Fame in December 2003.

1894 AND 1895 THE LOST YEARS NO OFFICIAL TEAM

In October 1894, the Athletic Association resolved to drop varsity football and look forward to baseball in the spring. After the humiliating 1893 season (two wins and four imposing defeats), only two athletes willing to admit they had played on the 1893 team returned to campus in 1894. To complicate matters further, the practice field, located just west of the main entrance to the Hill, was being graded and improved.

Soon after this decision, W.B. Stokely, a UT senior who transferred from Wake Forest, persuaded a group of students to form a team. Stokely, who was elected captain, gave encouragement and direction to the other players. Even though the institution chose not to be represented officially on the gridiron, Stokely and his unofficial team kept football interest alive during this period when almost certainly it would have otherwise been allowed to lapse completely.

Listed below are games in which these teams competed. These unofficial games are not included in NCAA statistics or in official University of Tennessee win-loss records.

1917 AND 1918 WORLD WAR I NO OFFICIAL TEAMS

The University of Tennessee Athletic Council, chaired by Professor Nathan W. Dougherty, officially suspended varsity football during the World War I years of 1917 and 1918 because the majority of the players were called into military service. In addition, Coach John R. Bender was enlisted as an instructor at Camp John Sevier in Greenville, South Carolina.

During this period without varsity football, two unofficial teams were formed from Army recruits and students. One team represented a training unit called the Fighting Mechanics and the other the Student Army Training Corps (SATC).

R. R. NEYLAND (1926-34)

With Captain Neyland came one of the most efficient single wing offenses in the nation. In his first period as Vol head coach he won the Southern Conference championships in 1927 and 1932 and had undefeated strings of 33 and 28 games, along with 14 consecutive victories. His record during this period was 76-7-5.

R. R. NEYLAND (1936-40)

Upon his return from active Army duty, Major Neyland quickly began to rebuild the team with solid freshmen units in 1936-37 which produced undefeated teams in 1938, 1939, and 1940. The 1939 team is the last team in NCAA history to be unscored upon in regular season play. His teams compiled a 22-game winning streak. His record during this period was 43-7-3.

R. R. NEYLAND (1946-52)

General Neyland's retirement from military service enabled him to devote full time to coaching and building one of the most powerful programs in the nation. He produced the national championship team in 1951 and took the Vols to three straight major bowl appearances. Poor health in 1952 forced his retirement to athletic director, a position he held until his death in 1962. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1956. His record for this period was 54-17-4. Complete record: 173-31-12.

NCAA Overtime Rules

The NCAA tiebreaker system established in 1996 will be used when a game is tied after four periods. NCAA football-playing rules apply. The officials will escort the captains (Rule 3-1-1) to the center of the field for the coin toss. The referee shall toss a coin at midfield in the presence of no more than four field captains from each team and another game official, first designating the field captain of the visiting team to call the coin toss. The winner of the toss shall choose one of the following options:

1. Offense or defense, with the offense at the opponent's 25-yard line to start the first series.
2. Which end of the field shall be used for both series of that overtime period.

Note: The winner of the toss may not defer his choice.

The loser of the toss shall exercise the remaining option for the first extra period and shall have the first choice of the two options for subsequent even-numbered extra periods. An extra period shall consist of two series with each team putting the ball in play by a snap at the designated 25-yard line. Each team retains the ball during a series until it scores or fails to make a first down.

The team scoring the greater number of points during the regulation and extra periods shall be declared the winner. There shall be an equal number of series in each extra period, except if one team scores during a period other than on the try. Beginning with the third extra period, teams scoring a touchdown must attempt a two-point try.

TENNESSEE LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The University of Tennessee Lettermen's T-Club is open to any person who has been awarded a varsity letter in any NCAA sanctioned sport at UT and is interested in the purposes of the organization. All members who have paid their annual dues of $25 a year should be known as an active member with rights and privileges according to the By-laws.

The T-Club Lettermen's room located in Thompson-Boling Arena is open three hours before kickoff to lettermen and their guests each home game.

Retired Jersey

Manning, the Vols' most decorated player of all-time, flew back to Knoxville from New York just hours after being tabbed as the NFL's No. 1 draft choice by the Indianapolis Colts.

Manning, the Southeastern Conference's all-time leading passer with 11,201 yards, set 42 passing records during his Vols career that included two NCAA, seven SEC and 33 UT marks.

Off the field, Manning was named the National Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 1997 and graduated in three years with a degree in speech communications with his class' highest grade-point average (3.61) in that field.

Manning's jersey is displayed in a special exhibit in Tennessee's Hall of Fame in the Neyland-Thompson Sports Complex.

"The retired jersey is the centerpiece of the display, but we also want to make sure Peyton's many accomplishments are recognized," said Athletic Director Doug Dickey. "His career is of historic proportions, involving such outstanding honors as winning the Sullivan, Maxwell, Davey O'Brien and Johnny Unitas Awards. His was a unique career for this university, something we want Vols fans to enjoy for all time."

Retired Numbers

University of Tennessee jersey numbers 32, 49, 61 and 62 have been retired in memory of four Vol players who died in World War II.

No. 32 was worn by Bill Nowling (Aug. 8, 1920 — Aug. 9, 1944), a fullback 1940-42, from St. Petersburg, Fla., a three-year starter under Robert Neyland and John Barnhill.

No. 49 was worn by Rudy Klarer (March 9, 1923 — Jan. 6, 1945), a reserve guard in 1941 and starter in 1942, from Louisville, Ky.

No. 61 was worn by Willis Tucker (May 10, 1918 — Nov. 28, 1944), a graduate of Knoxville High School, who earned a Vol football letter in 1940 and was a sprint star on the Vol track team.

No. 62 was worn by Clyde (Ig) Fuson (March 11, 1923 — Dec. 4, 1944), a native of Middlesboro, Ky., and fullback on the 1942 team, who shared playing time with Nowling. Ig had a younger brother, Herschel (Ug) Fuson, who was a freshman on the 1942 team and transferred to West Point where he graduated.

Plaques commemorating the lives and Vol careers of each of these players were presented to the University by District 2 of the Department of Tennessee Veterans of Foreign Wars and are on display in the Vols' Hall of Fame Room in Neyland-Thompson Sports Center.

The Lettermen's Wall of Fame

In November 2000, the Letterman's Wall of Fame was dedicated to commerate the contribution made by men and women who participated in NCAA-sanctioned sports at the University of Tennessee. Fittingly, the 80 foot long wall is made of Tennessee Marble. More than 5,500 names have been engraved by decades--not by sports or gender, nor arranged alphabetically-- to signify a homogenous group of Vols and Lady Vols united over a span of three centuries by their love of UT. Names are added each summer from the most recent group of departing student-athletes. The idea of former letterman and Assistant Athletic Direcotr Gene Moeller, the wall is another example of the contributions of lettermen, both male and female, showing their support of the University of Tennessee.

During the wall's developmental stages, lettermen responded with genuine excitement to the T-Club's solicitations for funds. The monument didn't come cheap. The total costs of the marble, carving and construction stands at approximately $230,000. Impressively, all of that money was donated or pledged.

Culminating more than three years of planning, research and development, the Wall of Fame was officially dedicated during a ceremony prior to the 2000 Tennessee-Kentucky game. The wall is located in front of the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center.

Those instrumental individuals who oversaw and directed the project, in particular, Gordon Polofsky, Pat Shires and Judy Constantine, set aside space to add future letter-winners well into the 21st century. Thus, the next generation of Vols and Lady Vols will have their names preserved for posterity

The Letterman's Wall of Fame is 80 feet long and contains over 5,500 names of former male and female letterwinners.

"The Lettermen's Wall of Fame is a lasting and fitting tribute to all those student-athletes who have helped build the Tennessee athletic tradition over the years. The story of Tennessee football, and Tennessee athletics in general, is told in the accomplishments of these student-athletes who have done great things on and off the playing field while wearing the Tennessee Orange and White. Vol fans will remember their playing careers and the great moments in Tennessee athletics as they view the Lettermen's Wall of Fame in the years to come."

-- Tennessee Head Football Coach Phillip Fulmer

The Vols have made a school-record 15 consecutive bowl appearances and have reached postseason play in 22 of the last 23 years.

Travis Henry's 81-yard TD dash in the 2001 Cotton Bowl set a Vol bowl record for longest run from scrimmage.

All-America safety Chris White and the Vols knocked off Miami 35-7 in the 1986 Sugar Bowl.

The Vols have played in 28 January bowls, including
7 Sugar Bowls
5 Cotton Bowls
4 Orange Bowls
4 Citrus Bowls
3 Fiesta Bowls
2 Rose Bowls
2 Peach Bowls
1 Hall of Fame Bowl

PEERLESS TRADITION

Tennessee Bowl History Paved With Opportunities, Big Plays and National Championship Scenarios

When bowl matchmakers begin the mental calculations leading toward their annual holiday events, Tennessee is one of a select group of universities that always receives thoughtful consideration.

Under Phillip Fulmer, the Vols consistently provide an exciting bowl-game spectacle with high-powered offense and grudging defense. But that's just one of many reasons Tennessee is a bowl promoter's dream.

UT's other irresistible lure is its legions of fans, a collection of devoted supporters who bathe a neutral bowl site in a sea of orange worthy of a game at Neyland Stadium. The Vol faithful are good travelers who arrive at the game site early and make themselves seen and heard until they leave town.

Tennessee has appeared in 44 bowl games, of which a couple stand out as particularly memorable because of the bearing they had on producing two of the school's national championships.

In the early years of wire service polls, the national champion was selected at the end of the regular season. Bowl results were not part of the evaluation process. But Tennessee's Cotton Bowl victory over Texas after the 1950 season was invaluable in paving the way for the crown UT claimed in 1951.

The 20-14 upset of the Longhorns in Dallas on New Year's Day made the Vols the team to beat going into the next season. When the curtain fell on the 1951 campaign, Tennessee had ridden the momentum of its Cotton Bowl triumph to the national title as awarded by both wire service polls.

Forty-seven years later, a bowl game was crucial to another UT national championship claim. In the first officially sanctioned Bowl Championship Series title game, the Vols met Florida State in a matchup of the two top-ranked teams at the close of the season.

Led by the passing of quarterback Tee Martin, the Vols capped an undefeated season by turning back the Seminoles, 23-16, before a capacity crowd at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. National championship pandemonium reigned throughout the night at any place Vol fans were gathered.

The significance of bowl games is in the eye of the individual, however, so you can pick among almost two dozen UT victories for your favorites. Certainly some of the other leaders would include: 1939 Orange Bowl (Vols 17, Oklahoma 0), 1965 Bluebonnet Bowl (Vols 27, Tulsa 6), 1971 Liberty Bowl (Vols 14, Arkansas 13), 1986 Sugar Bowl (Vols 35, Miami 7), 1990 Cotton Bowl (Vols 31, Arkansas 27), 1996 Citrus Bowl (Vols 20, Ohio State 14) and 2002 Citrus Bowl (Vols 45, Michigan 17).

Peerless Price's 79-yard touchdown reception put the finishing touches on the Vols' 23-16 win over Florida State in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl and capped a 13-0 season for the 1998 national championship.

Hank Lauricella's 75-yard run against Texas in the January 1951 Cotton Bowl gave the Vols the momentum they needed for a successful national championship run the following season.

NEW YORK CHARITY GAME

DEC. 5, 1931

TENNESSEE 13 NEW YORK U. 0

NEW YORK — It didn't count, at least according to NCAA statisticians, but Tennessee's first post-season bowl appearance came in the 1931 Charity Bowl game at Yankee Stadium.

The game was set up by New York City Mayor Jimmy Walker and was an intersectional clash between the Vols and the Violets of New York University. The Vols were 8-0-1 in 1931, with a 6-6 deadlock against Kentucky marring an otherwise perfect season.

It was Capt. Neyland's sixth year at the Vol helm and the Vols had compiled a 52-2-4 overall through the end of the 1931 season.

Herman Hickman's sensational defensive play earned him a spot on Grantland Rice's 1931 All-America team. Rice was so impressed with Hickman's performance that he named him to his All-America team on the basis of the Charity Bowl game alone.

Three future Vol College Football Hall of Fame members, Gene McEver, Beattie Feathers and Hickman, played in the contest. In addition, Capt. Neyland would also be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1956.

The Vols' second trip to New York was much better than their first. Seven years earlier, the Vols had lost to Army 41-0 at West Point.

Feathers and Deke Brackett had long touchdown runs and Hickman anchored the Vol defense as Tennessee defeated the Violets by a 13-0 count.

The game was one of a number of contests played during the Great Depression (mainly in 1931) to raise money for relief of the unemployed in response to the President's Committee on Mobilization of Relief Resources. In addition to the Charity Bowl, the Army-Navy games of 1930 and 1931 were played at Yankee Stadium. The NCAA does not recognize these games in the all-time bowl game records.

1939 ORANGE BOWL

JAN. 2, 1939

TENNESSEE 17 OKLAHOMA 0

MIAMI — Tennessee and Oklahoma squared off in the 1939 Orange Bowl in a classic battle of speed against size. And, when it was over, Tennessee's speed and stamina had won out by a 17-0 count. Tennessee had come into the game undefeated and No. 2 in the country and Oklahoma was riding a 14-game winning streak.

Tennessee scored first when a 15-yard penalty backed the Sooners to their 3-yard line. Vol tailback George Cafego returned the ensuing punt to the Sooner 27 and followed up the punt return with a key gain to the 12. Two plays later, Bob Foxx scored from the 8. The Vols scored a field goal after a Sooner fumble, a 22-yarder by Bowden Wyatt, and led 10-0 at the half.

Tennessee scored its final touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 19-yard run by Babe Wood on a reverse. The Vols polished off their eighth shutout of the season by stopping the Sooners the rest of the way and finished undefeated in 11 games.

It was a penalty-plagued game as tempers flared throughout the contest and more than 200 yards were assessed against the teams.

1940 ROSE BOWL

JAN. 1, 1940

SOUTHERN CAL 14 TENNESSEE 0

PASADENA — The Vols were 10-0 in the 1939 season and did not give up a point, heading by train to Pasadena for the 1940 Rose Bowl undefeated in 23 games and unscored upon in 15, but both streaks came to a halt against Southern California.

It marked the first of two Vol appearances in the Rose Bowl in the decade of the 1940s, both against Southern Cal.

Playing without star tailback George Cafego, the victim of a knee injury against The Citadel earlier in the year, the Vols fumbled away a golden opportunity in the fourth period and fell 14-0.

Southern Cal racked up 229 yards rushing, scored in the second and fourth quarter and ran nearly double the plays from scrimmage to take the 14-0 triumph.

The 1939 Tennessee team was the last to hold a full season of opponents scoreless, with future College Football Hall of Famers George Cafego, Bob Suffridge and Ed Molinski leading the way. Major Bob Neyland was also named to the College Hall.

1941 SUGAR BOWL

JAN. 1, 1941

BOSTON COLLEGE 19 TENNESSEE 13

NEW ORLEANS — Boston College and Tennessee met in the 1941 Sugar Bowl in a game that had all the earmarks of a David and Goliath story. Before a record crowd at Tulane Stadium, the underdog Boston College team had pulled off the upset and, to make matters worse, did it with a play taken directly from the Vols' playbook.

Tennessee scored first on a 4-yard run by Van Thompson and the conversion by Bob Foxx, but lost the ball on downs at the BC 11 and lost an interception at the BC 15. The half ended 7-0.

Boston College tied the score in the third period, blocking a Tennessee punt and scoring quickly. It had been seven years since a Vol punt was blocked. The Vols went back ahead as Buist Warren scored from the 2 and Tennessee led 13-7.

Boston College answered immediately as Mike Holovak scored from the 1 after a 70-yard drive. The point failed and it was 13-13 entering the final canto. With six minutes left, the Eagles disdained the ground game and three passes moved the ball to the Vol 24. Eagle tailback Charlie O'Rourke then ran left, raised his arm as if to pass and sprinted 24 yards for the touchdown. Eagle Coach Frank Leahy said after the game he had seen the play in a Vol film and added it to his playbook.

TENNESSEE 14 TULSA 7

NEW ORLEANS — Tennessee made its second trip to the Sugar Bowl in three years to play Henry Frank's pass-minded Tulsa Hurricane.

Despite a passing show by the Hurricanes' Glenn Dobbs, the Vols escaped with a 14-7 win. Tulsa scored first, but the Vols dominated the game from that point on to take the victory, racking up 208 yards rushing and holding Tulsa to minus-39 yards rushing. Bill Gold and Clyde "Ig" Fuson scored touchdowns and Denver Crawford blocked a punt for a safety as the Vols squared their bowl record at 2-2.

SOUTHERN CAL 25 TENNESSEE 0

PASADENA — Tennessee finished 7-0-1 in 1944, but met its match against Southern California in the 1945 Rose Bowl, the second contest between the cross-country rivals in Pasadena in five seasons.

Tennessee had not fielded a team in 1943 and, given the green light by the conference to do so in 1944, put together an eight-game schedule that assembled talent available.

1947 ORANGE BOWL

JAN. 1, 1947

RICE 8
TENNESSEE 0

MIAMI — Rice scored a touchdown and a safety in the first quarter and played defense and the kicking game in the best Tennessee tradition to defeat Bob Neyland's Volunteers 8-0 in the 1947 Orange Bowl.

Rice blocked two Vol punts in the first quarter, the second of which led to a safety and, combined with a touchdown drive of 83 yards, it was enough to win. The touchdown came on a lateral from Buddy Russ to Huey Kenney after Russ had run 25 yards to the Vol 25. Kenney took it in and Rice led.

Rice coach Jess Neely was then content to put the game in the hands of his defense, which held the Vols to five first downs and 137 yards.

The Vols had one big shot early in the second half, recovering a fumble at the Rice 18. But Rice intercepted a fourth-down pass and was in control from that point.

1951 COTTON BOWL

TEXAS 14

DALLAS — Tennessee's once-defeated Volunteers dominated the second half and defeated Texas 20-14 in the 1951 Cotton Bowl. The Vols scored first, on a 5-yard pass from Herky Payne to John Gruble, a play set up by a now-historic 75-yard run by Hank Lauricella, on which he reversed his field three times and slowed only to allow his blockers to catch up.

The Longhorns rallied to take a 14-7 halftime lead, parlaying a blocked kick into one score and a pass into another. The Vols closed to one point early in the fourth quarter, when fullback Andy Kozar bulled in from the 5. Later in the quarter, Jim Hill intercepted a Longhorn pass and the Vols were goalward again.

The teams exchanged fumbles on two consecutive plays and the Vols took the Texas turnover in for the winning score. Kozar got 6, Lauricella hit Rechichar for 23 and ran for 11. Finally, Kozar scored his second touchdown and the Vols held off a late Texas charge to win 20-14.

TENNESSEE 13

NEW ORLEANS — Tennessee went to New Orleans undefeated and the 1951 national champions. But the Vols fell victim to an undefeated Maryland team that scored 21 points in 16 minutes and never looked back. The final was 28-13.

Maryland uncorked a strong running game to lead 21-6 at the half and used a timely interception return for a touchdown to keep the Vols at bay.

Tennessee showed only flashes of the power that had been its trademark during the regular season. Vol tailback Herky Payne led two touchdown drives, but otherwise, the Maryland defense stopped the Vol attack, using an eight-man line.

TENNESSEE 7

NEW ORLEANS — No. 11-rated Baylor beat Tennessee at its own game in the 1957 Sugar Bowl, turning four interceptions and a key fumble recovery into a 13-7 win over the previously undefeated and No. 2-ranked Volunteers.

Baylor scored first on a pass from Bobby Jones to Jerry Marcontell covering 12 yards. The touchdown drive had been keyed by Shofner's 54-yard run after a Johnny Majors quick-kick. Tennessee had two drives snuffed by interceptions in the first half and trailed 6-0 at intermission.

The Vols scored early in the third quarter as Majors and fullback Tommy Bronson led the charge downfield and Baylor contributed a key piling-on penalty. Majors scored from the 1 and Sammy Burklow's conversion gave the Vols a 7-6 lead. The Vols held that lead into the fourth quarter when Majors was hit on a punt return and fumbled at the Vol 15. Baylor recovered and moved in for the winning score.

The Vols had two last chances to score, but two Baylor interceptions and a sack of Vol tailback Bobby Gordon erased the Vols' last scoring opportunities.

1957 GATOR BOWL

TENNESSEE 3
TEXAS A&M 0

JACKSONVILLE — In Paul "Bear" Bryant's last game as Aggie head coach, Tennessee used a fourth quarter field goal by placekicker Sammy Burklow and a stubborn defense to hand the Aggies a 3-0 defeat on a wet and muddy Gator Bowl field. It was the lowest-scoring game in the history of the Gator Bowl and was played before a Gator Bowl-record crowd of 43,709.

The field goal was the first of Burklow's career and came from 17 yards out with 5:30 left to play in the game. It was a day for the defenses to shine as action was confined between the 35-yard lines.

The game was marked by the now-famous collision between Vol tailback Bobby Gordon and Aggie Heisman Trophy winner John David Crow on the Vols' march to the winning score. Both players recovered to continue play, with Gordon holding for Burklow's game-winning field goal.

TENNESSEE 27 TULSA 6

HOUSTON — Tennessee made its first bowl appearance since the Gator Bowl victory over Texas A & M in 1957 and made it a successful return by taking the measure of the Tulsa Hurricanes 27-6 in a swampy Rice Stadium.

The game was played in the wettest weather that ever confronted a Tennessee team, a steady downpour that that did not cease until long after the game was over.

The Vols took care of business quickly, moving to a 20-6 halftime lead by taking advantage of Tulsa turnovers and some brilliant work on the kicking game. Tulsa fumbles led to the Vol touchdowns by Hal Wantland and Dewey Warren and Jerry Smith's 45-yard punt return led to the third, another score by Warren. Glenn Gray's pass interception led to the final Vol score, an 11-yard burst by fullback Stan Mitchell.

Tulsa gained 250 yards through the air despite the wet conditions, but three fumbles and four Vol interceptions turned the game Tennessee's way.

1966 GATOR BOWL

DEC. 31, 1966

TENNESSEE 18 SYRACUSE 12

JACKSONVILLE — Tennessee won its second consecutive bowl game under the tutelage of Doug Dickey, defeating Syracuse 18-12 in a game in which each team dominated one half.

Despite an early fumble that gave Syracuse favorable field position, the Vols got field goals from Gary Wright in the first and second quarters to lead 6-0. Another field goal appeared to be in the offing in the second period at the Syracuse 24, but the Vols caught Syracuse by surprise and quarterback Dewey Warren hit tight end Austin Denney instead for the touchdown and a 12-0 lead. Bill Young's interception led to the third Vol score, which came on a 2-yard strike from Warren to flanker Richmond Flowers.

Syracuse, led by the running of future pro stars Floyd Little and Larry Csonka, scored on their first possession of the second half. They lost the ball on downs at the Vol 3 later in the period and scored their final touchdown with 46 seconds left.

1968 ORANGE BOWL

JAN. 1, 1968

OKLAHOMA 26 TENNESSEE 24

MIAMI — A night football game, this time at Miami's Orange Bowl, became the Vols' undoing for the second time in the 1967 season. The Vols closed the 1967 season the way they opened it, with a loss under the lights. While UCLA was the culprit in the opener, Oklahoma edged the Vols in the season finale.

The Vols fell behind 19-0 in the first half and saw their first series of the second half stopped at the Oklahoma 14. But, on the ensuing series, Jimmy Glover returned a pass interception 36 yards for a touchdown and the Vols were back in the game. With 5:07 left in the third quarter, Charley Fulton scored and it was 19-14 as the fourth quarter began.

The Vols closed to 19-17, before giving up an interception that the Sooners returned for a touchdown. Warren brought the Vols back once again, capping a 77-yard drive with a 1-yard sneak and it was 26-24.

The Vols took possession at the Oklahoma 43 when Steve Owens was stopped short on fourth-and-1 and worked the ball to the 27 with time running out. But Karl Kremser's field goal faded wide right and Oklahoma had the game.

DALLAS — The other "Big Orange," the Texas Longhorns, rolled up 513 yards in total offense and held the white-shirted Vols to just 83 yards rushing in taking a convincing 36-13 triumph in the 1969 Cotton Bowl.

The Texans jumped to a 28-0 halftime lead, parlaying a crunching ground attack spiced by the passing combination of Jim Street and Cotton Speyrer. The Vols had an early shot at the Longhorns, but a 57-yard field goal missed and the Longhorns assumed command. The Longhorns intercepted three Vol passes.

TENNESSEE 13

JACKSONVILLE — Before a Gator Bowl-record crowd of 72,248, SEC champ Tennessee went down in defeat to a Florida team which, like the Vols, had far exceeded expectations during the regular season.

Damage from the heralded passing duo of John Reaves and Carlos Alvarez was held to manageable proportions, but Tennessee's inability to score inside the 10 sealed the Vols' fate.

Workhorse running back Curt Watson gained 121 yards on 25 carries and tight end Ken DeLong caught five passes for 50 yards. But a blocked punt that Florida turned into a touchdown was the ultimate difference.

1971 SUGAR BOWL

JAN. 1, 1971

TENNESSEE 34
AIR FORCE 13

NEW ORLEANS — Tennessee broke a three-game bowl losing streak at the expense of a highly-touted Air Force team. Scoring a record 24 points in the first quarter, the Vols rolled to a convincing 34-13 triumph, finishing the 1970 season with a then school-record 11-1 worksheet.

The first 12 minutes were nothing but fun for Vol partisans. The Vols scored the first four times they had the ball and mounted a 24-0 lead with 3:21 left in the opening quarter. Don McLeary scored twice, George Hunt booted a field goal and Gary Theiler caught a touchdown pass from game-MVP Bobby Scott.

A rugged Tennessee defense thwarted the Air Force offense time after time. Led by Ray Nettles, Tim Priest and Jamie Rotella, the Vols held Air Force to minus 12 yards rushing. The Vols secondary continued its assault, grabbing four interceptions. The Vols also covered four Air Force fumbles.

1971 LIBERTY BOWL

DEC. 20, 1971

TENNESSEE 14 ARKANSAS 13

MEMPHIS — Late in the fourth quarter, Arkansas looked to be a sure winner of the 1971 Liberty Bowl game only to see the game get away and Tennessee had enough left in the tank to grab an improbable victory.

A packed house at the Liberty Bowl that was nearly evenly divided in its loyalties saw the two schools battle for the first time since 1907 on a cold December evening.

Leading 13-7 and apparently dominating the game, the Razorbacks had a potential game-winning field goal nullified by a penalty. A series later, the Hogs lost a fumble after a completed pass at their 36.

With the break, the Vols struck quickly for the winning score, just as Gen. Neyland's game maxims had said. Quarterback Jim Maxwell, pressed into service in the Tulsa game earlier in the season and who was undefeated as a starter. hit tight end Gary Theiler to the Arkansas 19 to get the Vols in position.

Fullback Curt Watson, "The Crossville Comet," who was closing out a brilliant career in Orange and White, finished the drive with a 17-yard touchdown run, making a nifty move at the goal to find paydirt. George Hunt's extra point was the margin of victory. Eddie Brown had an interception on the ensuing series to seal the deal.

The narrow victory enabled the Vols to finish No. 9 in both national polls and finish 10-2 for the second year in a row. It was the first of three Liberty Bowl wins for the Vols, the others coming in 1974 and 1986.

1972 BLUEBONNET BOWL

DEC. 30, 1972

TENNESSEE 24 LSU 17

HOUSTON — Condredge Holloway turned in his most electrifying performance of the season, completing 11 of 19 passes for 94 yards and rushing for 74 yards in 19 carries, to lead the Vols past SEC rival Louisiana State 24-17 in the 1972 Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Holloway, who was named the game's outstanding player, led the Vols to a 24-3 halftime lead, scoring twice and throwing a touchdown pass to tight end Jimmy Young. Known as the "Artful Dodger," Holloway kept the Tigers off balance the first 30 minutes and left Vol fans wondering what might be ahead for the diminutive signal-caller from Huntsville, Ala.

Things got tense for the Vols in the second half as Louisiana State All-America Bert Jones led the Tigers to two second half scores and was threatening a third when All-America and senior defensive back Conrad Graham cleanly broke up a fourth down pass at the Vol 10 to preserve the victory.

1973 GATOR BOWL

DEC. 29, 1973

TEXAS TECH 28 TENNESSEE 19

JACKSONVILLE — Tennessee and Texas Tech gave the 62,000-plus fans on hand an exciting offensive show that was another in a series of 1973 games that went down to the wire before a winner was determined. This time, however, it was Texas Tech jumping to an early lead and hanging on for a 28-19 victory.

The Red Raiders jumped to a 14-0 lead on the running and passing of quarterback Joe Barnes and led 14-3 at the half as Ricky Townsend got the Vols on the board with a 30-yard field goal.

Haskel Stanback led the Vols' second-half rally, running for one touchdown and catching a pass from Condredge Holloway for another. The Vols closed to 21-19, but misfired on a two-point conversion and a field goal before a long run and subsequent touchdown put the game away for the Texans.

TENNESSEE 7 MARYLAND 3

MEMPHIS — Two Vol sophomores teamed up for the winning score in the 1974 Liberty Bowl. Randy Wallace, subbing for the injured Condredge Holloway, threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Larry Seivers, who outleaped two defenders with 2:44 left in the game to subdue the Terps 7-3.

Led by All-America tackle Randy White, Maryland had kept the Vols bottled up throughout the cold December night in Memphis. The Terps got a second quarter field goal and almost made it stand up.

Mike Gayles, who gained 106 yards in 17 carries, was named the Vols' outstanding offensive player. Defensive end Ron McCartney was the Vols' defensive standout.

1979 BLUEBONNET BOWL

DEC. 31, 1979

PURDUE 27 TENNESSEE 22

HOUSTON — Tennessee, making its first bowl appearance in five years, saw a gutty second half comeback fall short in the waning moments of the fourth quarter. Trailing 21-0 in the third quarter, the Vols rallied to take the lead 22-21 late in the fourth quarter. But Purdue quarterback Mark Herrmann threw the game-winner, a 17-yard toss to Charley Young, with just 1:30 remaining.

The Vols' comeback was triggered by an 8-yard Jimmy Streater pass to halfback Glenn Ford. The second Vol touchdown came on a pass from wingback Phil Ingram to tailback James Berry. When Hubert Simpson scored the two-pointer, the Vols were back in the game. The Vols took the lead as Simpson scored and caught the two-point conversion.

All-America defensive back Roland James was the Defensive Player of the Game, with eight unassisted tackles and a 19-yard punt return to his credit. Streater finished with 270 yards rushing and passing.

1981 GARDEN STATE BOWL

DEC. 13, 1981

TENNESSEE 28 WISCONSIN 21

EAST RUTHERFORD — Steve Alatorre completed 24 of 42 passes for 315 yards and one touchdown as the Vols defeated Wisconsin 28-21.

After Wisconsin went ahead 7-3 in the first quarter, Willie Gault returned the ensuing kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown and the Vols were never headed. Alatorre hit wide receiver Anthony Hancock, who made 11 catches on the day, with a 43-yard scoring strike and the Vols led 21-7 at the half. The Vol defense did its part with two first-half interceptions.

Wisconsin's Randy Wright kept the Badgers in the game in the second half, throwing two touchdown passes, but Alatorre's 6-yard run in the fourth quarter proved to be the difference.

Both Alatorre and Hancock made their final Vol game their best. Alatorre was named the game's outstanding player. Defensively, tackle Reggie White led the Vols.

1982 PEACH BOWL

DEC. 31, 1982

IOWA 28 TENNESSEE 22

ATLANTA — Iowa built a 21-7 first half lead, keyed by three Chuck Long touchdown passes, and weathered a second half Vol rally to win the 1982 Peach Bowl 28-22.

Tennessee's second-half comeback was led by quarterback Alan Cockrell and running backs Chuck Coleman and Doug Furnas. The Vols came off the mat to register two touchdowns and a field goal to close to 28-22 late in the fourth quarter.

With the clock winding down, the outcome hinged on two short yardage plays the Hawkeyes stopped at their 7. On third-and-2, Cockrell's pass was deflected. On fourth down, the Vol signal-caller was stopped short on a counter-option.

TENNESSEE 30 MARYLAND 23

ORLANDO — The Vols closed out their finest season since 1972, scoring two fourth quarter touchdowns to defeat Maryland 30-23, before a sell-out crowd of 50,500 and millions more on ESPN.

Johnnie Jones and Alan Cockrell were the Vols' offensive standouts. Jones gained 154 yards on 29 carries and tallied twice, part of the Vols 201-yard ground attack. Cockrell completed 16 of 23 passes for 185 yards and one touchdown. Clyde Duncan caught six passes for 59 yards and Lenny Taylor caught four for 68 yards and one touchdown.

The Vols were led on defense by linebacker Alvin Toles, who recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass, both efforts leading to Vol scores. The Vols also held the Terrapins to 95 yards on the ground.

The Vols finished the year No. 15 by The New York Times, No. 17 by USA Today and No. 14 by Sports Illustrated.

DEC. 22, 1984

MARYLAND 28 TENNESSEE 27

EL PASO — Maryland, trailing 21-0 to Tennessee after the first half, scored 22 points in the third quarter and grimly held on for a 28-27 victory in the 1984 Sun Bowl. The issue was in doubt until Maryland defensive back Keeta Covington jarred the ball loose from the Vols' Tony Robinson, just when the Vols looked to be in position to win on a last-second field goal attempt.

The Vols jumped to the early lead on the running of tailback Johnnie Jones and the passing combo of Robinson to Tim McGee. Fuad Reveiz added two field goals and the Vols appeared in control.

Maryland reeled off 22 consecutive points in the third quarter, before Pete Panuska gave the Vols their last lead of the game, returning a Maryland kickoff 100 yards for the go-ahead score. Maryland's Rick Badjanek scored the game-winner with 2:28 left. But it remained for Covington to make his big play to secure the Maryland victory.

TENNESSEE 35 MIAMI 7

NEW ORLEANS — Tennessee rang in 1986 in grand fashion, taking a 35-7 decision over the highly-touted Miami Hurricanes in the 52nd Sugar Bowl. A Louisiana Superdome crowd of 77,432 saw the Vols spot the Hurricanes an early 7-0 lead, but, after Daryl Dickey and Jeff Smith hooked up for a 6-yard touchdown pass early in the second quarter, the Vols were completely in control.

Ken Donahue's defensive troops ruled the Superdome turf, rattling the Hurricanes for six turnovers, seven quarterback sacks and five tackles for lost yardage.

The Vols took the lead late in the first half when wide receiver Tim McGee corralled a Vol fumble in the end zone. They extended their lead in the third quarter as fullback Sam Henderson scored from 1-yard out after Darrin Miller's fumble recovery gave the Vols the ball at the Miami 32. After a Miami punt, Tennessee's Jeff Powell brought Vol fans to their feet, sprinting 60 yards for another Vol touchdown. All-America defensive back Chris White intercepted Miami quarterback Vinny Testaverde in the fourth quarter to set up a 6-yard scoring run by Charles Wilson.

The win evened the Vols' Sugar Bowl mark at 3-3. Dickey, who completed 15 of 25 passes for 131 yards and one touchdown, was named the game's outstanding player. The Vols' 35 points set a then school record for the most points scored in a bowl game, eclipsing the previous mark of 34 set against Air Force in the 1971 Sugar Bowl.

1986 LIBERTY BOWL

DEC. 29, 1986

TENNESSEE 21 MINNESOTA 14

MEMPHIS — Jeff Francis threw three touchdown passes and the Vol defense shut down Minnesota when it had to, leading Tennessee to a 21-14 victory over Minnesota in the 28th Liberty Bowl.

The Vols jumped to a 14-3 halftime lead as Francis threw touchdown passes to wide receiver Joey Clinkscales and fullback William Howard. Minnesota got a late field goal from Chip Lohmiller and trailed 14-3 at the half.

The Gophers dominated the third period, getting a touchdown from quarterback Rickey Foggie on a fourth-down option play. Freshman Darrell Thompson's two-point conversion run put Minnesota back in the game. Another field goal from Lohmiller in the fourth quarter knotted the count.

The Vols roared back for the clinching score, as Francis hit Nate Middlebrooks and Anthony Miller to move deep into Minnesota territory. On third-and-3, he hit Clinkscales for the game-winner in the left corner of the end zone. The Vol defense shut down Foggie and Minnesota the rest of the way and rang up UT's third Liberty Bowl victory in as many tries.

1988 PEACH BOWL

JAN. 2, 1988

TENNESSEE 27 INDIANA 22

ATLANTA — Tennessee closed the 1987 season the way it began it way back in August, posting a come-from-behind win over a Big Ten rival. This time the Indiana Hoosiers were the victim, as the Vols rallied once again in the fourth quarter for a 27-22 victory.

A record Peach Bowl crowd of 58,737 saw the Vols explode to a 21-3 lead early in the second quarter as quarterback Jeff Francis led three scoring drives and threw TD passes to Anthony Miller and Terence Cleveland. Indiana rallied in the second half and led 22-21 late in the fourth quarter. But the Vol defense stiffened and Francis and his offensive mates got the ball at the Hoosier 40.

The Vols took it for the winning score as Francis scrambled for a crucial first down and Cobb got the game-winner from 9 yards out. Charles Kimbrough's interception sealed the Vols' first win in two Peach Bowl tries.

1990 COTTON BOWL

JAN. 1, 1990

TENNESSEE 31 ARKANSAS 27

DALLAS — Tennessee finished with its finest season record since 1970 by taking a hard-fought 31-27 decision over the Southwest Conference champion Razorbacks.

The Vols, paced by the running of Offensive MVP Chuck Webb and an opportunistic defense, raced to a 31-13 lead after three periods, but the Hogs stormed back to close the margin before Alvin Harper recovered an onside kick attempt with 1:23 left on the clock and the Vols were able to run out the clock.

UT had parlayed a field goal by Greg Burke, two TDs by Webb, one on a 78-yard run down the near sideline, an 84-yard pass from Andy Kelly to Anthony Morgan and a 1-yard toss from Kelly to Greg Amsler to take the lead.

Martin Williams and Tracy Hayworth recovered fumbles to blunt two Arkansas drives and Defensive MVP Carl Pickens intercepted an Arkansas pass to stop another drive. Kacy Rodgers made a big play in the fourth quarter, stopping Arkansas tailback Barry Foster on fourth-and-1 at the Vol 9.

1991 SUGAR BOWL

JAN. 1, 1991

TENNESSEE 23 VIRGINIA 22

NEW ORLEANS — Tennessee concluded its 100-year anniversary season and longest in Vol history with a come-from-behind victory in the 57th Sugar Bowl Classic at the Louisiana Superdome. The Vols thus concluded a 9-2-2 season that began way back in August.

The Vols trailed for the first 59:29, but won the game when Tony Thompson, who rushed for 151 yards, hurdled the line for a score from 1 yard out. Thompson's score climaxed a Sugar Bowl record-setting 20-point fourth quarter that saw the Vols outscore the Cavs by 14.

Leading 16-3, Virginia looked poised to put the game away late in the third quarter. But Floyd Miley intercepted a Shawn Moore pass at the Vol 6 and the rally was on. Andy Kelly, voted the game's most outstanding player, led three drives for scores and Dale Carter intercepted a last-gasp Virginia pass to gain the victory.

Thompson scored twice in the fourth quarter rally and Kelly, who directed the Vol attack flawlessly in the final stanza, found Carl Pickens wide open for the other score.

Carter had two interceptions for his night's work and linebacker Darryl Hardy had eight tackles and four broken-up passes.

1992 FIESTA BOWL

JAN. 1, 1992

PENN STATE 42 TENNESSEE 17

TEMPE — Tennessee appeared to be in the driver's seat of the 21st Fiesta Bowl, leading 17-7 midway in the third quarter, but Penn State ran off 35 unanswered points in just 7:49 to take the decision. Turnovers proved to be the Vols' undoing as four of the six Penn State scores came off Vol mistakes.

The Vols, who trailed 7-0 just 1:19 into the game, ran off 17 unanswered points of their own between the first and third quarters, but failed to take full advantage of the 441-226 yard statistical advantage. The Nittany Lions then reeled off 35 unanswered points of their own to seal the win.

James Stewart and Cory Fleming scored Vol touchdowns while John Becksvoort added two conversions and a 24-yard field goal. Stewart's score came after a 10-play, 62-yard drive in the first quarter. Fleming's came in the third quarter on a pass from Andy Kelly on which the Vol sophomore wideout made some nifty moves in the open field to find paydirt.

1993 HALL OF FAME BOWL

JAN. 1, 1993

TENNESSEE 38 BOSTON COLLEGE 23

TAMPA — Tennessee scored 14 points despite having the ball only 3:32 of the first quarter and added 24 more in the third and early fourth quarters to take a 38-23 decision over Boston College in the seventh annual Hall of Fame Bowl at Tampa Stadium.

Game MVP Heath Shuler led the way, completing 18 of 23 passes for 245 yards and two touchdowns while scoring two himself. His TD passes went to Cory Fleming (27 yards) and Mose Phillips (69 yards). Shuler scored twice on runs of 1 and 14 yards. Jerry Colquitt threw a 48-yard scoring pass to Fleming and John Becksvoort added a field goal and five extra points. The Vols outgained the Eagles 450-371.

ORLANDO — Tennessee jumped to a 10-0 lead on its first two offensive series, but Penn State rallied from a 13-10 deficit late in the first half with 21 unanswered points to take a 31-13 decision in the 48th annual Florida Citrus Bowl.

Tennessee moved to a field goal on its first possession, one of two made by John Becksvoort on the day. The Vols scored a touchdown on their second foray into Penn State territory on a 19-yard pass from Heath Shuler to Cory Fleming, but could add only a Citrus Bowl record 50-yard field goal by Becksvoort the rest of the afternoon.

Penn State scored to take the lead for good just before halftime and added another score off a sustained drive after the opening kickoff of the second half to assume control of the game.

Charlie Garner rushed 16 times for 89 yards and Fleming caught seven passes for 101 yards. The Vols finished with a 9-2-1 overall record.

TENNESSEE 45 VIRGINIA TECH 23

GAINESVILLE — Tennessee bolted to a 35-10 halftime lead and moved on from there to take a 45-23 triumph over Virginia Tech in the 1994 Gator Bowl game, played this year at Florida Field in Gainesville. A 21-point second quarter was the key as the Vols scored on five of seven first half possessions.

James Stewart scored three TDs and threw a 19-yard TD pass to Kendrick Jones. Peyton Manning threw a 36-yard TD pass to Marcus Nash and Jay Graham scored on a 1-yard run.

Tyrone Hines had an interception which led to the Vols' first score and Shawn Summers had a 49-yard punt return that led to a Vol score in the fourth period.

Stewart, who was named the most outstanding player for the game, carried 22 times for 85 yards. Manning completed 12 of 19 passes for 189 yards. Joey Kent led the Vols with six receptions for 116 yards, 42 coming on a spectacular catch down the far boundary a play before Nash's TD grab. With the win, the Vols finished 8-4 for the season, after starting 1-3.

1996 FLORIDA CITRUS BOWL

Jan. 1,1996

TENNESSEE 20 OHIO STATE 14

ORLANDO — Jeff Hall kicked two fourth quarter field goals and the Vol defense held Ohio State in check as Tennessee defeated the Buckeyes 20-14 on a rainy day in the 50th annual Florida Citrus Bowl.

Jay Graham, the game's MVP, rushed for 154 yards, including a 69-yard scoring dash late in the first half that pulled the Vols even, 7-7, at halftime. Peyton Manning completed 20 of 35 passes for 182 yards and one touchdown. Joey Kent led the Vol receiving corps with seven catches for 109 yards, including a 47-yard scoring toss from Manning that gave UT a 14-7 advantage in the third quarter.

Hall's two field goals in the fourth quarter came after the Buckeyes had tied the game, 14-14, to open the final stanza. Tennessee's defense, which had stopped the Buckeyes on a second quarter fourth-and-inches at the Vol 3-yard line, forced three turnovers in OSU's final four possessions to seal the victory.

UT held Ohio State, with Heisman winner Eddie George, to a season-low 89 yards on the ground.

The victory upped Tennessee's record to 11-1, its best since 1989 and propelled the Vols to a No. 2 finish in the final CNN-USA Today poll, UT's highest since 1967. The Vols were tabbed No. 3 in final Associated Press voting.

1997 FLORIDA CITRUS BOWL

Jan. 1, 1997

TENNESSEE 48 NORTHWESTERN 28

ORLANDO — Tied 21-21 late in the second quarter, Tennessee scored the game's next 20 points and took a 48-28 victory over Big 10 co-champion Northwestern. Peyton Manning completed 27 of 39 passes for 408 yards to lead the Vol attack.

After the Wildcats had battled back from a 21-0 first quarter deficit to tie the game, Manning threw a 67-yard TD pass to Joey Kent and beat the clock for a Jeff Hall field goal on the final play of the half to give the Vols a 31-21 halftime lead. The Vols stretched the lead to 38-21 when linebacker Tyrone Hines intercepted a Steve Schnur pass and returned the oskie 30 yards for a score. Hall added another field goal and Manning threw a TD pass to tight end Dustin Moore to conclude the Vol scoring.

The Vols had jumped to a 21-0 lead in the first quarter on a 43-yard TD pass from Manning to Peerless Price, a 10-yard run for a score by Manning and another TD toss, this one from Manning to Kent from 11 yards out. Price caught six passes for 110 yards and Kent caught five for 122 yards.

The Vols finished No. 9 overall in both polls.

NEBRASKA 42 TENNESSEE 17

MIAMI — A 21-point third quarter proved pivotal as No. 2 Nebraska took a 42-17 win over No. 3 Tennessee in the 1997 season's final bowl game and 64th Orange Bowl. The win vaulted the Cornhuskers to the No. 1 spot in the Coaches' Poll with a 13-0 record. Tennessee finished 11-2, the sixth 11-win season in school history, and earned seventh (AP) and eighth (ESPN/USA Today) place finishes. A crowd of 72,835 saw the contest, the first ever between the two teams.

Peyton Manning and Tee Martin each threw TD passes for the Vols, Manning's a 5-yarder to Peerless Price and Martin's a 3-yarder to Andy McCullough. Jeff Hall added a 44-yard field goal and Travis Stephens caught a two-point conversion pass from Martin.

Tennessee fell behind 14-0 before Hall's fielder in the second quarter and saw the game get away when Nebraska cranked up the ground game in the third quarter en route to scores on drives of 80, 73 and 80 yards. The Huskers' third score came after Manning's TD pass to Price cut the margin to 28-9 after a 72-yard, 9-play drive. Tailback Jamal Lewis concluded a stellar freshman season, carrying 14 times for 90 yards and being named his team's MVP.

1999 FIESTA BOWL

Jan. 4, 1999

TENNESSEE 23 FLORIDA STATE 16

TEMPE — Tennessee won the 1998 national championship, the first for the Vols since 1951, and completed the school's first-ever 13-0 season with a 23-16 win over the No. 2 Seminoles. Tee Martin completed 11 of 18 passes for 278 yards and threw TD passes to Shawn Bryson and Peerless Price, covering 4 and 79 yards respectively.

For his part, Price caught four passes for 199 yards, setting a Tennessee bowl receiving record in the process. A Fiesta Bowl record crowd of 84,470 saw the game, only the second meeting between the two schools, the first coming in 1958.

Bryson's TD reception came in the second quarter and was followed by Dwayne Goodrich pilfering an FSU pass and returning the oskie 54 yards for a score which gave the Vols a 14-0 lead. Goodrich's TD run was the third of his career. Bryson's TD came after the Vols took a Jeff Hall field goal off the board due to a roughing-the-kicker penalty.

Florida State narrowed the margin to 14-9 at the half and the score remained that way until midway in the fourth quarter when Martin and Price hooked up for the pivotal 79-yard score, followed by a Seminole turnover and a Hall field goal good from 23 yards out. The Seminoles pulled to within the eventual 23-16 margin late in the game, but could get no closer.

NEBRASKA 31 TENNESSEE 21

TEMPE - Two long Nebraska scoring drives in the second half ended Tennessee's hopes of an upset in the Cornhuskers' 31-21 victory over the Vols before 71,526 in the 2000 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl.

The Cornhuskers, who rushed for 321 yards and held the Vols to but 44, jumped to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter, on a 7-yard run by I-back Dan Alexander, who ran for 108 yards on the night, and a 60-yard punt return by Bobby Newcombe. Nebraska added a field goal late in the half before Tee Martin led a 65-yard, eight-play drive culminating in a 9-yard pass to wideout Donte' Stallworth.

The Vols closed it to 17-14 when Travis Henry scored on a 4-yard run early in the third quarter after the Vols forced a fumble on the second play after the third quarter kickoff. Will Overstreet caused the bobble and Dominique Stevenson got it.

The Cornhuskers hurt the Vols with the pass on the first scoring drive, but marched the entire 99 yards on the ground on the second drive.

The Vols got the game's last score when wide receiver Cedrick Wilson, a former high school quarterback, threw a 44-yard TD pass to Stallworth that closed it to 31-21 with 7:25 left. It was his first pass as a Vol and showed the versatility of the Memphis wideout.

KANSAS STATE 35 TENNESSEE 21

DALLAS - Leading 21-14 at the half, Kansas State scored on its first two possessions of the third quarter and held Tennessee scoreless until the final minutes to take a 35-21 victory in the 65th annual Cotton Bowl Classic on a cold and snowy day in Texas.

The Wildcats jumped to a 7-0 first quarter lead, but the Vols rallied to tie the game on a 17-yard pass from freshman quarterback Casey Clausen to wideout David Martin in the second period. Kansas State then parlayed two TD passes from game MVP Jonathan Beasley to wideout Quincy Morgan, 56 and 10 yards, respectively, to lead 21-7 midway in the second quarter.

Kansas State appeared headed for more late in the second quarter, when defensive tackle Chavis Smith tipped a Beasley pass and Jabari Greer took the interception back 78 yards for a score. K-State's 21-14 lead at the half didn't last long once the third quarter started.

The Wildcats' two third quarter scores came entirely on the ground in the first 4:54 of the third quarter. It remained 35-14 until Travis Henry, who ran for 180 yards on 17 carries, found daylight on a dash up the middle and outran everybody to the end zone.

The game marked the Vols' fifth appearance in the Cotton Bowl overall and first since 1990. It was also the Vols' first game against Kansas State.

TENNESSEE 45 MICHIGAN 17

ORLANDO - Tennessee's first meeting with Michigan was one for the ages - as in, it had been ages since Michigan suffered such a resounding defeat.

The Vols threw nearly every offensive weapon possible at the Wolverines and rolled to a 45-17 victory in the Capital One Florida Citrus Bowl. Capping an 11-2 season, Tennessee's 28-point win matched its largest bowl triumph.

Game MVP Casey Clausen threw for a career-high 393 yards on 26-of-34 completions. He also passed for three touchdowns and nearly had two more - twice Donte' Stallworth was tackled inside the 1-yard line.

After UT marched for an opening field goal, defensive MVP John Henderson was in on three straight tackles that forced Michigan into a quick three-and-out. The Wolverines gained a first down on their next possession, but then Henderson caused one fumble and recovered another - on the same play - to set the Vols up for their first touchdown.

UT's receivers had a spectacular day. Stallworth caught eight passes for 119 yards and had 190 all-purpose yards. Kelley Washington caught six passes for 70 yards and two scores, while Jason Witten hauled in six catches for a career-high 125 yards.

Michigan's loss was its worse in 33 bowl appearances and the Wolverines' worse in any game since losing 50-14 to Ohio State in 1968.

"It's been a while since we've played a team as good as Tennessee," Michigan running back Chris Perry said.

2002 PEACH BOWL

Dec. 31, 2002

MARYLAND 30 TENNESSEE 3

ATLANTA - Maryland handed Tennessee its worst bowl loss in school history, a 30-3 blitz at the 35th annual Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

The Terrapins took advantage of two key UT turnovers and used a balanced attack in defeating the Vols for the third time in five postseason meetings.

Tennessee had eight penalties for 68 yards and Vols quarterback Casey Clausen was sacked six times for minus-36 yards. In addition, UT converted only four of 13 third-down opportunities and rushed 27 times for just 45 net yards -- the school's third lowest figure in 43 bowl appearances.

Tennessee's defense played well enough to jump to No. 5 nationally in total defense by game's end after allowing the Terrapins only 274 yards from scrimmage. But Maryland balanced 154 rushing yards and 120 passing yards with 177 return yards on some timely special teams play.

The Terps' second touchdown was a 54-yard interception and return by Curome Cox, the longest against a Tennessee team in bowl history. Later, return specialist Steve Suter fielded a Dustin Colquitt punt and scampered 79 yards to the UT 14, setting up Maryland's final three points of the game.

Maryland quarterback Scott McBrien scored twice and place-kicker Nick Novak hit on all three field goal tries.

Tennessee finished the game with more first downs than Maryland, ran the same number of offensive plays and compiled more yards of total offense. Yet Alex Walls' 38-yard field goal in the second quarter was the only scoring the Vols could muster.

CLEMSON 27 TENNESSEE 14

ATLANTA - Clemson jumped to a 10-0 lead late in the first quarter, matched two Tennessee touchdowns with two of its own before halftime and added a late field goal, all adding up to a 27-14 victory in the 35th annual Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. A record Georgia Dome crowd of 75,125 saw the first game between the two teams since 1976.

Clemson took the first drive of the game 80 yards in six plays for a score and added a field goal after a long punt return.

Casey Clausen who completed 31 of 55 passes for 384 yards, threw touchdown passes to Chris Hannon (19 yards) in the first quarter and Jones (30 yards) in the second, but the Tigers had touchdowns of their own in response to each of the Vol scores.

Tennessee had an 8-minute, 17-play, 77-yard third-quarter drive foiled by a penalty and missed field goal.

Clausen completed passes to 10 different receivers in his final game as a Vol, with Troy Fleming catching 6 for 54 yards, Jones 5 for 66 and Hannon 4 for 57. The Vols' first score came after an 11-play, 87-yard drive and the second was 4 plays, 43 yards after an interception by safety Gibril Wilson.

The Vols, who finished 10-3, made their 44th bowl appearance, second-best all-time in NCAA history, posting a 23-21 mark. Tennessee made its 15th consecutive bowl appearance, fourth-longest streak in the NCAA. The Vols played in their eighth New Year's bowl game in the past nine years.

Doug Dickey

Coach Dickey appeared in four Gator Bowls, three as a coach and one as a player. He quarterbacked the University of Florida to a 14-13 victory over Tulsa in 1953 and led his first Tennessee team to an 18-12 victory over Syracuse in 1966. He also coached Tennessee in the 1969 Gator Bowl and Florida in the 1975 Gator Bowl. Dickey was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame in 1994.

James Stewart

The Morristown native was named the Most Outstanding Player as Tennessee took a 45-23 victory over Virginia Tech in the 1994 Gator Bowl. The Vol running back scored three touchdowns as he rushed for 85 yards on 22 attempts and also threw a 19-yard touchdown pass to Kendrick Jones. Stewart was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame in 1998.

PEACH BOWL HALL OF FAME

Reggie White

In Tennessee's 28-22 1982 Peach Bowl loss to Iowa, White logged eight tackles, including one for loss, two sacks and a forced fumble. White holds Tennessee school records for career sacks (32), sacks in a season (15) and sacks in a single game (4 vs. The Citadel in 1983). He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2002 and the Peach Bowl Hall of Fame in 2004.

ORANGE BOWL HALL OF HONOR

Gen. Robert R. Neyland

Neyland was included in the first Orange Bowl Classic Hall of Honor class in 1969. The legendary coach was instrumental in Tennessee's classic 1939 win over Oklahoma. Neyland also directed the Vols to the 1947 Classic against Rice University. He finished his career with a 173-31-12 (.829) record in 21 seasons at Tennessee.

Bob Suffridge

Suffridge, a three-time All-America lineman, played in Tennessee's 17-0 victory over Oklahoma in the 1939 Orange Bowl. The Vol defense allowed only 94 yards of total offense while the offensive line paved the way for the Vol rushing attack that gained 197 yards. Suffridge was elected to the Orange Bowl Hall of Honor in 1982.

George Cafego

Cafego played in Tennessee's 17-0 victory over Oklahoma in the 1939 Orange Bowl. The Tennessee running back set up the Vols' first score with a punt return to the Sooner 27-yard line and a 15-yard rushing gain. The Tennessee offense totaled 260 yards of offense behind the direction of Cafego. He was inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Honor in 1984.

LEGENDS OF THE SUN BOWL

Johnny Majors

Majors coached three teams to Sun Bowl berths including his 1984 Tennessee team. He also led Iowa State to the Sun Bowl in 1971 and Pittsburgh in 1975. He is only one of three coaches to appear in three Sun Bowl games. He was named a Legend of the Sun Bowl in 1995.

Tennessee's Neyland Stadium is one of two college venues accessible by water.

The 1951 Vols were the preseason choice to win the national championship and did not disappoint in the least, rolling to a 10-0 regular season record and the national title. The team included future College Football Hall of Fame members Hank Lauricella, Doug Atkins and John Michels, and was coached by Gen. Robert R. Neyland. The Vols defeated Alabama 27-13 in the Southeastern Conference's first televised game.

On the season the Vols scored 386 points, while giving up but 116. They recorded five shutouts, including a third consecutive whitewash of Kentucky and its quarterback Babe Parilli. The Vols were 21-2 over the 1950 and 1951 seasons.

Editor's Note:
Tennessee has been named consensus wire service national champion in 1951 and 1998. Many Vol fans do not realize, however, that UT has won other national championships throughout the years, according to various rating systems that were in place during the years in which the teams competed. These championships, perhaps not too familiar to fans, are recognized as legitimate by the official NCAA Football Records Manual. These titles were selected through a points or a ratings system to determine the nation's top team. Overall, Tennessee has captured national championships in six different seasons from at least one poll.

The 1998 team took advantage of its opportunties to win the national championship, making up for the loss of three NFL first-round draft choices from 1997 and a season-ending knee injury to tailback Jamal Lewis in the Auburn game. The Vols won nailbiters against Syracuse, Florida and Arkansas and took a fourth consecutive win over Alabama. The Vols ascended to the No. 1 spot after the Alabama-Birmingham game and proved equal to the task by defeating Arkansas, Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Mississippi State and Florida State en route to the national crown. Al Wilson was an All-America selection at linebacker and placekicker Jeff Hall became UT's and the SEC's all-time leading scorer. Quarterback Tee Martin guided the Vols steadily all season and set NCAA passing records for consecutive completions and completion percentage in the South Carolina game.

TENNESSEE AS NO. 1

Tennessee ended the 1951 and 1998 seasons ranked No. 1 in the major wire service polls. The 1998 Vols were crowned national champion by the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today-Coaches poll, while the 1951 Vols were honored by both the AP and UPI polls. In addition, the Vols have held down the nation's top spot on 15 different occasions in the history of the weekly Associated Press poll and have a 15-0 mark in those games. UT's next game results after an AP No. 1 ranking are listed below.

TENNESSEE vs. NO. 1

In its 100 plus-year history, Tennessee has been involved in seven contests in which the Vols' opponent was ranked No. 1 in the country.

UT has a 2-6 all-time record when playing the nation's top-ranked team.

The most recent game between Tennessee and the No. 1 rated team was against Miami (Fla.) Nov. 9, 2002, in Knoxville.

The Vols' two victories against a No. 1 team have come against Southeastern Conference foes.

Tennessee, ranked No. 13, edged Louisiana State 14-13 Nov. 7, 1959, in Knoxville, to knock the Tigers out of the top spot.

On Sept. 28, 1985, the Vols, 0-0-1 and unranked at the time, soundly defeated top-rated Auburn 38-20 in Knoxville. The 1985 Vols went on to win the SEC Championship and finish No. 4 nationally in all polls.

LAST TIME IN THE POLLS

Throughout its history, the University of Tennessee football program has been a regular member of the Associated Press and, more recently, the ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls.

Tennessee's last No. 1 ranking came at the end of the 1998 football season after Tennessee's 23-16 win over Florida State in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl Jan. 4, 1999.

The win garnered Tennessee the undisputed national championship thanks in part to the advent of the Bowl Championship Series, which matched the top two teams in the land in a fight for the national title.

The BCS will continue through the 2005 season.

National Polls

Since the inception of wire service polls, Tennessee has frequently placed among the nation's leaders in the national rankings. The Associated Press poll, which began in 1936, the United Press International poll, running from 1950 until 1991, and the CNN-USA Today poll lasting from 1982 until 1997, when it became the ESPN/USA Today poll, all reflect the lofty standings of the Vols in the eyes of coaches, sports writers and broadcasters. Tennessee won the 1951 and 1998 national championships in all polls and finished No. 2 in 1938, 1939, 1956, 1967 and 1995. The Vols have been awarded other national championships as determined by different points and ratings systems in effect at the time of the seasons. UT earned national titles in 1938 and 1940 according to both the Dunkel and Litkenhous Systems. The Vols were named national champs in 1950 by Dunkel and in 1967 by Litkenhous. The 1951 title was also honored by both the Litkenhous and Williamson Systems. The 1998 title was honored by all polls.

Smokey

After a student poll sponsored by the Pep Club revealed a desire to select a live mascot for the University, the Pep Club held a contest in 1953 to select a coonhound, a native breed of the state, as the mascot to represent the school. Announcements of the contest in local newspapers read, "This can't be an ordinary hound. He must be a 'Houn' Dog' in the best sense of the word." The late Rev. Bill Brooks entered his prize-winning blue tick coon hound, "Brooks' Blue Smokey," in the contest. At halftime of the Mississippi State game that season, the dogs were lined up on the old cheerleaders' ramp at Shields-Watkins Field. Each dog was introduced over the loudspeaker and the student body cheered for their favorite, with "Blue Smokey" being the last hound introduced. When his name was called, he barked. The students cheered and Smokey threw his head back and barked again. This kept going until the stadium was in an uproar and UT had found its mascot. Rev. Brooks supplied UT with the line of canines until his death in 1986 when his wife, Mildred, took over the caretaking role. She did so until 1994, when her brother and sister-in-law, Earl and Martha Hudson of Knoxville, took over responsibility for Smokey VII and eventually Smokey VIII, with Smokey IX now carrying on the banner of the Smokey lineage. Mrs. Brooks died in July 1997.

One of the most beloved figures in the state, Smokey is famous for leading the Vols out of the giant "T" prior to each home game. The dogs have led exciting lives. Smokey II was dognapped by Kentucky students in 1955 and later survived a confrontation with the Baylor Bear at the 1957 Sugar Bowl. Smokey VI, who suffered heat exhaustion in the 140-degree temperatures at the 1991 UCLA game, was listed on the Vols injury report until he returned later in the season. Smokey III compiled a 105-39-5 record and two SEC championships. Smokey VI, who passed away in 1991, was on the sidelines for three SEC championships. Smokey VIII is the winningest Smokey, having compiled a record of 91-22 (.805), with two SEC titles and the 1998 national championship. The newest Smokey, Smokey IX, was at his post at the 2004 Peach Bowl and will be on the sidelines for the season opener against UNLV Sept. 5.

University of Tennessee's Pride of the Southland Band

The University of Tennessee band was organized immediately after the Civil War when the University reopened. Since then, the enrollment in the band program has grown to more than four hundred students (in all bands) from all colleges of the University.

Director of Bands, Dr. Gary Sousa, heads up a program which has maintained a long-standing reputation as one of the nation's finest musical organizations.

The band staff includes Dr. Don Ryder, Associate Director of Bands and Drill Designer, along with Dr. Ed Powell, Assistant Director. Drum Major for the 2003 season is Kenon Brown, and Head Majorette is Jaime Ugarkovich.

The band program is divided into several different units. The most famous of these units is the marching band, The full "Pride of the Southland Band," appears at all home football games and most out-of-town games before more than 850,000 spectators plus millions more on television.

The "Pride of the Southland" has represented the state of Tennessee for the last 40 years at ten consecutive Presidential Inaugurations, from Dwight D. Eisenhower to George W. Bush. The band has also made more than 40 bowl appearances, including the Sugar Bowl, Astro Bluebonnet Bowl, Citrus Bowl, Gator Bowl, Hall of Fame Bowl, Garden State Bowl, Sun Bowl, Liberty Bowl, Peach Bowl, Fiesta Bowl, Cotton Bowl, Orange Bowl and the Rose Bowl.

When the UT Marching Band takes the field, the crowd reaction truly indicates that it is not only the Pride of all Tennesseans, but the "Pride of the Southland."

Alma Mater

The alma mater was selected as a result of a 1928 contest sponsored by Prof. L.S. Mayer of the UT men's glee club. All students, faculty members and alumni or members of their families throughout the state were eligible to compete for the $50 prize. The song, both music and words, had to be original and of high standard. The winner was Mrs. John Meek of Chattanooga, formerly Mary Fleming of Knoxville. The decision was announced at the Alumni banquet at the Farragut Hotel Oct. 26, 1928.

Traditions

About the "T"

The famed letter "T" debuted on Tennessee's helmets in the fall of 1964 as Doug Dickey assumed the head coaching reins.

Prior to 1964 the helmets had been white with an orange stripe down the middle. There, however, have been two exceptions. In coach Bowden Wyatt's final season in 1962, the Vols had orange numerals on the sides of their helmets. In 1963 coach Jim McDonald stuck with the numbers on the helmets, but changed the numerals color to black.

When Johnny Majors was named head coach in 1977, he had the "T" slightly redesigned and the orange stripe widened.

Dickey also brought another Tennessee tradition to life when he started the Vols running through the "T."

From the time of coach Bob Neyland through the 1963 season, the Vols had their team bench on the east side of the field, close to their dressing room which entered the field on the 50 yardline.

In 1965, Doug Dickey changed all that as the Vols opened the season against Army. He moved his team's bench to the west side, allowing the Vols to enter the field just before the opening kickoff through a giant "T" formed by the "Pride of Southland" Marching Band.

When the Vols moved to the new dressing room quarters under the north stands in 1983, the "T" remained, forming from north to south instead of east to west.

The "T" has occasionally been formed on the road, most notably at Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium in Memphis, at Vanderbilt Stadium in Nashville and at the 1986 and 1991 Sugar Bowls in New Orleans.

Checkerboard End Zones

A Tennessee trademark from the mid-1960s was reinstated in 1989 with the installation of the orange and white checkerboard end zones on Shields-Watkins Field and continued with the return of grass.

The unique design accompanied coach Doug Dickey's arrival in 1964 when the Vols played Boston College. The colorful and popular end zones were a part of Tennessee football until 1968 when the natural sod was dug out and artificial turf was put in its place.

Workers installed the orange and white end zones and the interlocking UT at the 50-yard line in the summer of 1989. They were both completely inlaid with contrasting colored turf rather than painted turf.

School Colors

The colors Orange and White were selected by Charles Moore, a member of the first football team in 1891, and were later approved by a vote of the student body. The colors were those of the common American daisy which grew in profusion on The Hill. Tennessee players did not appear in the now-famous Orange jerseys until the season opening game in 1922. Coach M.B. Banks' Vols won that game over Emory and Henry by a score of 50-0.

Volunteer Navy

In 1962 former Vol broadcaster George Mooney found a quicker and more exciting way to get to Neyland Stadium other than fighting the notorious Knoxville traffic. Mooney navigated his little runabout down the Tennessee River to the stadium and spawned what would later become the "Volunteer Navy." Today, approximately 200 boats of all shapes and sizes make up this giant floating tailgate party. Tennessee and the University of Washington are the only institutions with football stadiums adjacent to bodies of water.

Rocky Top

While not officially a UT fight song, Felice and Boudleaux Bryant's "Rocky Top,"--written in 10 minutes at the Gatlinburg Inn in 1967--has captured the fancy of Vol fans everywhere and is a much-requested and much-played song at UT sporting events. The Bryants, who wrote more than 6,000 songs, 1,000 of which have been recorded, penned such classics as "Bye, Bye Love," "All I Have to Do I Dream," "Wake Up Little Susie," "Love Hurts," and "Take a Message to Mary."

First played as part of a country music show at the 1972 Tennessee-Alabama game, the song attracted so much attention and is so beloved that long-time university band director W J Julian said that not playing it would cause a mutiny among Vol fans.

It's been described as "simplistic and clever," with five basic chords and the title being repeated 19 times. Yet opposing coaches have mentioned the influence and impact of "Rocky Top" on their teams and their game preparations.

There have been more than 100 renditions of "Rocky Top" by individuals, country groups, bluegrass and even East Tennessee rock groups.

"Rocky Top" was adopted as an official song of the state of Tennessee by Chapter 545 of the Public Acts of 1982.

The Volunteers of Tennessee and the Birth of a Nickname

In the aftermath of the Declaration of Independence, Americans were determined to create a nation that was free of the evils that had required them to resort to revolution. Among these was the fear of a large standing army. Such a force could be used to impose the will of an evil monarch and was therefore a threat to individual liberties. Instead, they would rely upon a volunteer army, citizen soldiers who would be called into service at times of crisis to serve their country.

When the people who would later be known as Tennesseans were first asked to volunteer for such an army, they had been living along the upper tributaries of the Tennessee River, near modern day Elizabethton. The call went out for volunteers to gather at Sycamore Shoals in September of 1780 and march across the Smoky Mountains to meet this threat. When finally assembled, the volunteers totaled almost 1,000 men, virtually the entire fighting force of the settlements.

The tradition of the Tennessee Volunteer was thus already initiated when, in the War of 1812, the nation once again went to war. As they had done more than 30 years before, Tennesseans responded enthusiastically. Instead of the 3,500 troops requested, 25,000 Tennesseans joined, participating in battles from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. Under Andrew Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans, Tennessee Volunteers took part in the greatest victory of the war when they helped to defeat an army of crack British regulars. Jacob Hartsell, a captain in the 2nd East Tennessee militia, was among the Tennesseans who took part in the battle. He was so inspired by his fellow Tennesseans that he wrote a heroic poem in their honor. Entitled "The Brave Volunteer," this poetic journal entry is the earliest known written reference to Tennesseans as Volunteers.

Davy Crockett

Two decades later, Tennesseans advanced their reputation as volunteers when, unsolicited, several hundred made the journey south to assist the Texans in their war for independence from Mexico. The best known of these was Davy Crockett. His already legendary status was only enhanced by his dramatic death at the Alamo in 1836. But Tennessee's status as the "Volunteer State" was solidified 10 years later when the United States War Department called for volunteers in the War with Mexico. Moving quickly to meet their allotted quota of 2,800 recruits, state officials were overwhelmed by 30,000 volunteers.

Andrew Jackson

It was during the Spanish-American War that the students of the University of Tennessee began to lay official claim to the Volunteer nickname for themselves. In 1897, the student yearbook was christened, The Volunteer.

In 1902, the Atlanta Constitution used the term "Volunteers" to describe the football team when recounting a match between UT and Georgia Tech. However, the university sports teams continued to operate without an official nickname until 1905. In March of that year an article in the Knoxville Journal announced a nickname had been chosen.

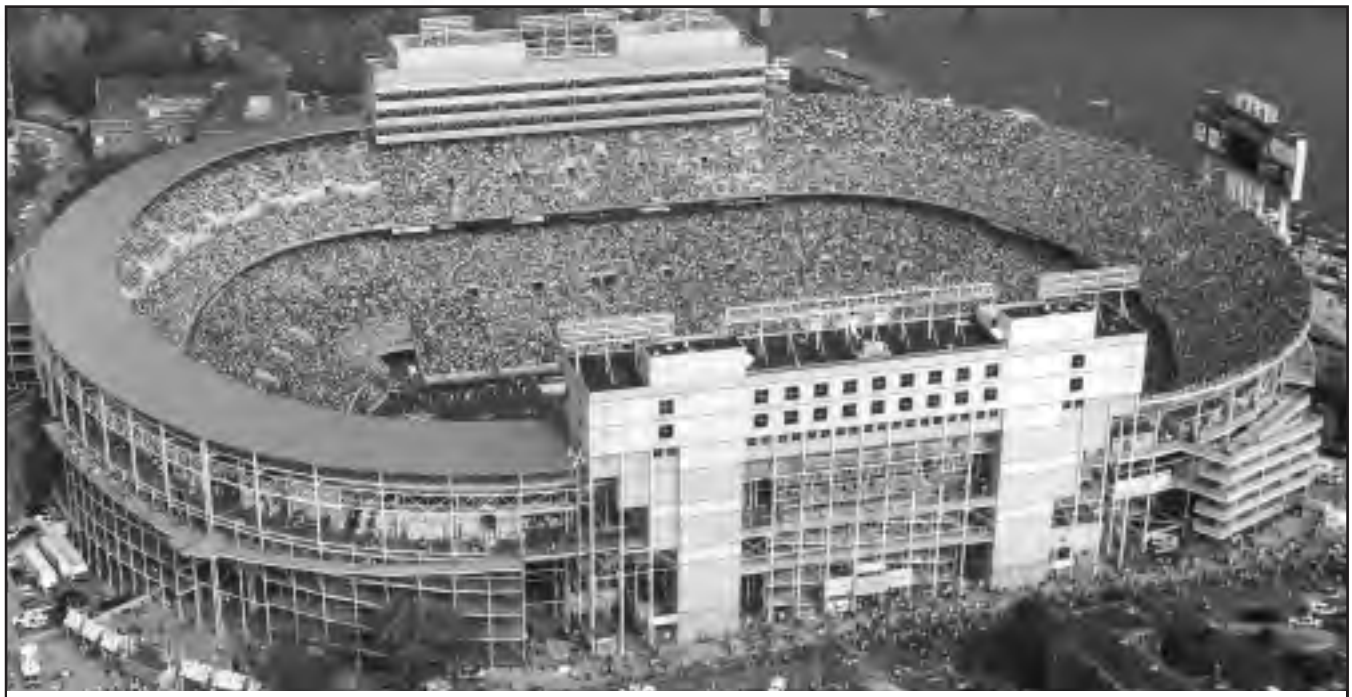
"One of the admirers of the old school has suggested 'the Volunteers'," the newspaper reported. In classic understatement the report concludes, "The name sounds good, and it is likely that it will stick."

Nearly 1,000 Volunteers gathered on the banks of Sycamore Shoals on the Watauga River in what is now Elizabethton en route to the Battle of Kings Mountain in 1780.

East Tennessee Historical Society

The history of the Volunteer nickname-from King's Mountain to Neyland Stadium-can be traced in Knoxville at the East Tennessee History Center. The East Tennessee Historical Society Museum, housed in the Center, displays artifacts and documents relating to the Volunteer nickname. Information provided by the East Tennessee Historical Society, Kent Whitworth, director, Shane Rhyne, public relations, Mike Toomey, staff historian.

Neyland Stadium



The present day Neyland Stadium, Shields-Watkins Field had its beginning in 1919. Col. W.S. Shields, president of Knoxville's City National Bank and a UT trustee, provided the initial capital to prepare and equip an athletic field. Thus, when the field was completed in March 1921 it was called Shields-Watkins field, in honor of the donor and his wife, Alice Watkins-Shields.

The stadium, apart from the field it grew to enclose, came to bear its own distinguished name: Neyland Stadium. It was named for the man most responsible for the growth and development of Tennessee's proud football tradition. General Robert R. Neyland served as head coach from 1926 to 1952, with two interruptions for military service. After retiring from the coaching ranks, Neyland was athletic director until his death in 1962. He was the guiding force behind additions to the stadium's capacity, and is the one most responsible for the winning tradition that Volunteers fans have come to expect over the years.

CAPACITY: 104,079—Nation's third largest collegiate football stadium. Has undergone 17 additions/renovations since West Stands were built in 1921, seating 3,200. Latest addition (East sideline 78 executive suites) completed in 2000.

ATTENDANCE: Since attendance records were first kept in the 1946 season, more than 25 million fans have watched Big Orange football at Neyland Stadium. An average of 68,925 fans have attended 364 games in 58 years. That statistic is one that promises to climb each year, as Tennessee football enthusiasts pack the stadium each autumn Saturday the Vols are home. Average attendance has been on a climb since 1946, when an average of 31,167 saw six home contests.

TENNESSEE SUCCESS AT SHIELDS-WATKINS FIELD: In 82 seasons, the Vols are 398-94-17 at home, a winning percentage of .799.

CONSECUTIVE HOME GAMES WITHOUT A LOSS: 55, beginning Oct. 3, 1925, with a 51-0 victory against Emory & Henry, and ending Oct. 21, 1933, with a 12-6 loss to Alabama.

A Stadium is Built

Shields-Watkins Field, sometimes known as Shields-Watkins Stadium, opened Sept.24, 1921, as the Vols defeated Emory & Henry 27-0. On opening day, the new stadium had 3200 seats on 17 rows on the west side of the field.

Named for its benefactors, W.S. Shields and wife, Alice-Watkins Shields, the venue was known as Shields-Watkins Field until the stadium was named in honor of Gen. Robert R. Neyland in October 1962. However, both names still adorn the façade on the west side of the stadium.

Efforts to build a playing field on campus started as early as 1912 when University Realty Company was formed and held an option on seven acres of land until the university could complete the purchase and develop a physical education-athletic field.

As of 1917, financing had not been completed and contributions were solicited. Checks averaging $10 were received and UT student pledged $2000 in cash and two thousand days of labor.

Work was done on the field, but the Vols continued play on Waite Field less than a mile to the north. With a debt of $22,453 hanging over the project in 1919, Shields, president of Knoxville City Bank and a UT trustee, promised to pay the debt if the university could raise the money to prepare and equip the field. Shields also bought two lots bordering the property on the west.

The trustees accepted the offer and voted to name the field in honor of the Shields. That was Nov. 22, 1919. On July 20, 1920, the trustees voted to build a permanent grandstand, at a total cost of $20,000.

All that was left to do was prepare the field. March 16, 1921, was designated as a "Campus Day," with classes being dismissed to guarantee a work force large enough to get the field ready for a baseball game three days later.

The field was finished by noon the next day and the baseball game against Cincinnati went on as scheduled.

Four Additions in 13 Years

Capt. Neyland's success on the field led to four expansions between 1926 and 1938 as capacity grew from 3200 to 31,390 with expansions on both the east and west sides and at the northwest corner in Section X.

Good thing, too. An overflow crowd of 20,000 showed up for the 1936 game against Duke. The Blue Devils had things pretty much their way until Red Harp, the "Pineville Flash," returned a punt 70 yards for a score in the final seconds to give the Vols the win. In the 1937 game against Alabama, another overflow crowd saw the Vols lose a tight decision.

The east side expansion brought with it dorm rooms for 128 men, half athletes, a T-Club reception room and a practice room for the band under the stands.

A Big Expansion in 1948

Returning to the Vol sidelines in 1946, Gen. Neyland said it would take five years for the Vols to be back on top. Almost immediately, the Vols won the SEC title in 1946 and plans were drawn for a south end addition that included more dorm rooms, athletic department offices and a new dressing area for visiting teams.

When the Vols squared off against Alabama Oct. 16, 1948, for Homecoming, 48,000 fans were present in the expanded stadium and 52,000 showed up a few weeks later for the clash with North Carolina.

More Expansions Follow in 1960s, 1970s, 1980s and 1990s; Capacity Goes Up and Up

The west side upper deck and new press box came in 1962, dedicated at the Alabama game.Gen. Neyland did not live to see the new addition, passing away in New Orleans Mar. 28. Before his death, he received reports about the progress on the stadium on the new press box.

Tired of the Shields-Watkins Field press coop being consistently named one of the three worst in the country, he remarked to an aide: "We're going to have the best press box in the country and I hope it improves the quality of writing done there."

Four expansions followed, first on the upper east side in 1968, then two on the south upper deck in 1972 and 1976. In 1980, the stadium became a bowl, with the north end lower deck enclosing the field.

The last major expansion came in 1996, when the north end upper deck was finished and the stadium now seated more than 100,000 fans. There hasn't been a crowd less than 100,000 since that time.

Night Football Comes to Knoxville

The first south end upper deck expansion in 1972 also brought night football to the Home of the Vols. When Tennessee opened the home season that year against Penn State, the game debuted football under the lights, and the Vols have played at night consistently ever since, including the first three at home in September this season.

Tom Elam Press Box

The Neyland Stadium Press Box and Executive Suites officially opened for the Colorado State game Sept. 5, 1987, replacing a press box in operation since a 1962 expansion of the west side.

The press box was named for long-time trustee and Athletics Board member Tom Elam of Union City, Sept. 18, 1992. Col. Elam died March 9, 1998.

It has four levels, encompassing leased suites, box seating for official guests of the University and Athletic Department, and complete facilities for print and broadcast media. There are six elevators serving the facility, four serving the skyboxes and two serving the press area.

Vols on Television

Tennessee's first appearance on television came during the 1951 national championship season when the Vols defeated SEC rival Alabama by a 27-13 margin at Birmingham. The game was carried on WAPI-TV, a local CBS affiliate.

Since 1996, nearly 90 percent (89 of 101) of UT's games have been on television, including 60 national appearances. During that time, no fewer than 10 Tennessee games have been televised in any one season.

The 2003 season marked the seventh time in eight years that at least 11 Tennessee games were televised.

Far Betweens / Streaks

Volunteer football teams have encountered some interesting games in the more than 100 years of gridiron combat. Some games have been one-sided with Tennessee both winning and losing by large margins.

Tennessee's largest victory margin came in 1905 as the Vols defeated American University 104-0. The 1915 team posted victories of 101-0 against both Carson-Newman and Cumberland Colleges. The 1893 team suffered the worst defeat at the hands of Duke, 70-0. That same Vols 11 suffered 64-0, 60-0 and 56-0 losses to Wake Forest, North Carolina and Kentucky, respectively.

The far betweens in Tennessee's modern football history (1937-Present) are a 68-0 victory against Tennessee Tech in 1951 and a 44-0 loss at the hands of Georgia in 1981.

Homecoming

Homecoming festivities at the University of Tennessee bring reunions, parades, corsages, the alumni band and memories of days gone by. But mostly, Homecoming means Volunteer football. Over the years, Homecoming has delivered some of the most exciting gridiron confrontations in UT football history.

The alumni festivities first began in the early years of the 20th century. The inaugural installment came with a victory over Vanderbilt in 1916. Homecoming celebrations for former students — a phenomenon of many campuses at about this time — came to fruition during this period. While a Homecoming had been held in 1916, the following year war conditions and limited transportation caused such activities to be canceled.

Although the event made a comeback in 1919, it was not until 1925 that the Tennessee Alumni Association organized Homecoming activities in connection with the Mississippi A&M football game. Thereafter, Homecoming occurred each year in conjunction with one of the football games. A major attraction of the festivities was a barbecue, as evidenced by the 15 carcasses of beef and 170 gallons of coffee consumed by the alumni in 1927.

Entering the 2002 campaign, Tennessee had won 18 consecutive Homecoming games dating to a 13-10 loss to Mississippi in 1983. However, the Vols lost to the No. 1-ranked Miami Hurricanes 26-3 in the 2002 Homecoming contest.

Tennessee stopped Louisiana State's Billy Cannon just short of the end zone to preserve the Vols' 14-13 win against No. 1-ranked Louisiana State in the 1959 Homecoming contest.

First Round NFL Draft Choices

2002 Draft
John Henderson
Jacksonville Jaguars

2002 Draft
Donte' Stallworth
New Orleans Saints

2002 Draft
Albert Haynesworth
Tennessee Titans

Twice during the decade of the 1990s and again in 2002, Tennessee had three players chosen in the first round of the NFL Draft. In 1991, Charles McRae, Antone Davis and Alvin Harper were tabbed in the first round. In 1998, another UT trio of Peyton Manning, Terry Fair and Marcus Nash were taken in the first round. The Indianapolis Colts made Manning the No. 1 pick in the 1998 NFL Draft. The All-America quarterback joined George Cafego (1940) as the only other UT player to be chosen as the first pick of an NFL Draft. The trio taken in 2002 was John Henderson, Donte Stallworth and Albert Haynesworth.

All told, Tennessee has had 36 first round NFL Draft choices.

Henderson finished his career with 20.5 sacks to rank fifth all-time at Tennessee and also became the second Vol to win the Outland Trophy. Henderson was named the nation's best interior linemen in 2000 joining Steve DeLong who took home the honor in 1964. Stallworth's career was marked by his dynamic playmaking ability. He became the first Vol to catch three touchdown passes in consectutive games during the 2001 season. Haynesworth was an imposing force in the middle of the Vols' defensive front. He was a vital cog in the Vols' run defense that led the Southeastern Conference in 2001.

TIMELESS TRADITION

Media Information

The 2004 University of Tennessee Football Guide is published primarily as a source of information for reporters representing newspapers, television and radio stations, wire services and magazines. Procedural information to facilitate coverage of the Vols is presented on this page.

PRESS CREDENTIALS—Requests for media credentials should be submitted in writing well in advance of game dates to Bud Ford, Associate Athletics Director. Tickets are returned by mail if the request is received early enough to ensure delivery. Otherwise, they are left at the Will Call Window (Gate 21) at Neyland Stadium.

PRESS BOX—The Tom Elam Press Box opened in 1987 at Neyland Stadium. Two elevators serve the media area, accommodating approximately 140 writers as well as movie and television cameras, bowl scouts and visiting officials. The media area is located on the fifth level of the press box. A buffet-style meal is served beginning approximately two hours before kickoff.

PRESS SERVICES—The Tennessee Sports Information Office provides a large bank of telephones for the use of media covering games at Neyland Stadium. The telephones are for use on a first-come, first-serve basis. The quantity of telephones should be sufficient to cover all needs. If a writer wishes to order his own telephone, that individual should do so through UT Telephone Services (James Daniel) (865) 974-3121. Tennessee provides complete play-by-play and statistical records of the game as well as coaches' and players' quotes from both teams.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS—After Coach Fulmer talks to the squad following the game, he and selected players may be interviewed by the media in the interview area of the dressing room complex. The locker room where players dress remains closed, but additional requested players are brought to the interview area. The names of players wanted for interviews should be submitted to Bud Ford or John Painter, Associate Sports Information Director, in the press box early in the fourth quarter.

INTERNET SERVICES—Up-to-date information on Tennessee football is available via the World Wide Web (www.utsports.com, www.phillipfulmer.com). Releases, standings, statistics and other sports information are available and updated daily.

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCES—The media are invited to attend Coach Fulmer's press conferences, held Tuesdays of game week at Neyland-Thompson Sports Center. The conferences start at noon Eastern time and include a telephone interview with the opponent head coach. Lunch is served at Gibbs Hall as part of the media conferences. Player interviews, upon request, are held from 11:30 a.m.-2 p.m.

HEAD COACH MEDIA TELECONFERENCES—Coach Fulmer is available to media representatives for a weekly teleconference call Sunday at 5:30 p.m. Eastern time, including the open date weekends of Sept. 12 and Nov. 13. Media representatives needing further information should call the Tennessee Sports Information Office (865) 974-1212. Coach Fulmer also is available Wednesdays at 11 a.m. Eastern time on the SEC coaches weekly teleconference. Media representatives needing further information should contact the SEC Media Relations Office at (205) 458-3010.

PLAYER MEDIA TELECONFERENCES—A Wednesday teleconference is conducted from 1:15-1:45 p.m. Eastern time featuring selected players per the requests of media representatives through the Sports Information Office.

ASSISTANT COACHES INTERVIEWS—Assistant coaches, on request, are available in the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center during Tuesday press conferences from 11:30 a.m.-noon Eastern time.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS—The Sports Information Department arranges interviews of players during the week with a cutoff point before each game set at post-practice Wednesday. A 24-hour advance notice is required to have the interview request brought to the attention of the player. For face-to-face interviews, the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center is recommended as a meeting place. For telephone interviews, players are asked to call reporters at a mutually suitable time. Post-practice interviews are conducted on the field at the conclusion of practice. To request interviews, contact John Painter (865) 974-1097 or the UT SID Office 974-1212.

BEST TIME TO REACH COACH FULMER—For persons who cannot attend the Tuesday media conference, the best way to contact Coach Fulmer is by calling Associate SID John Painter (865-974-1097) or Football Secretary Mary Jo Fox (865-974-1234). The most likely time for Coach Fulmer to return calls is from 11 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Eastern time. Coach Fulmer also is available each Wednesday at 11 a.m. Eastern time on the SEC coaches weekly teleconference. Media representatives needing further information should call the Tennessee Sports Information Office (865-974-1212).

RADIO INFORMATION—Opponents in games at Neyland Stadium are permitted one free radio origination, to be designated by the school's athletics director. Requests for credentials should be forwarded to Bud Ford in the Sports Information Office. Information about clearance to broadcast games should be directed to Steve Early, Host Communications/Vol Network, P.O. Box 11125, Knoxville, TN 37939; telephone (865) 584-7043.

PRESEASON MEDIA DAY—Tennessee's annual preseason media day is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 7. The media session begins at 9 a.m. Eastern time in the Wolf-Kaplan Center next to the Tennessee locker room at Neyland Stadium with a Phillip Fulmer press conference, followed by a 9:45 a.m. interview session with selected players. At 10:15 a.m., photos begin on the field followed by lunch at Gibbs Hall from 1-2 p.m.

Sports Information Staff

Bud Ford
Associate AD
Media Relations

A 38-year veteran of his profession, University of Tennessee graduate Bud Ford was promoted in April 2000 to the position of Associate Athletics Director for Sports Information. He was elected to the CoSIDA Hall of Fame in May 2001.

Ford began his career as a part-time employee in the Vols publicity office while he completed undergraduate studies. He then pioneered the position of full-time Assistant SID in 1966 upon completion of his degree in retailing. For the next 35 years, he worked alongside CoSIDA Hall of Fame member Haywood Harris. In January 1988, Ford was promoted to Sports Information Director and in March 1989 was named Assistant Athletics Director for Sports Information.

Ford works with an expanded staff of full-time and student employees in meeting the needs of the media who cover the Vols.

Ford and his wife, Sandy, have two children, Brent and Julie.

John Painter
Associate SID/Football

Columbia, Tenn., native John Painter returned to his alma mater as an Associate Sports Information Director in October 2001 where he works closely with football coach Phillip Fulmer in the areas of promotion, marketing, publicity and other related projects. A 1988 graduate of the University of Tennessee, Painter worked as a member of the NCAA's Public Affairs staff from 1989-2001. He also served as an Assistant SID at Auburn (1988-89). Painter and his wife, Mary Margaret, reside in Maryville with their children, Jackson and David.

Craig Pinkerton
Associate SID/Basketball

In his fourth year at Tennessee is Associate Sports Information Director Craig Pinkerton. A 1994 graduate of Kansas State University, Pinkerton works with the men's basketball team.

The Wichita, Kan., native came to Tennessee after spending two years as an Assistant SID at K-State where he served as the primary contact for men's basketball and the secondary contact for football. Prior to that, he spent four years at the University of Kansas, including three as an Assistant SID.

Jeff Muir
Associate SID/Baseball

Jeff Muir is in his eighth year as a member of the Tennessee Sports Information Office. A 1993 graduate of Arkansas, Muir works as the SID for the Vol baseball team while also serving as editor of the football game program. While at Tennessee, the Jonesboro, Ark., native has accompanied the Diamond Vols to three NCAA Tournaments and the 2001 College World Series. Muir and his wife, Donna, reside in Knoxville.

The Best Coaches Show in America

THE PHILLIP FULMER SHOW

Volunteer fans across the state and the Southeast faithfully watch the "The Phillip Fulmer Show" each week for comprehensive in-depth coverage of Tennessee football. Since the mid-1960s, the Vol Network has been a trailblazing pioneer in the production of coaches shows and continues to be an innovative leader in the field. "The Phillip Fulmer Show" is one of only a few one-hour coaches' shows in the country. In addition to a comprehensive review of the Vols most recent gridiron battle, "The Phillip Fulmer Show" keeps fans informed and entertained with a fast paced format and high-tech features. In the span of one hour, viewers are exposed to detailed game highlights, weekly player, program and tradition features, locker room interviews, music videos and expert analysis by the head coach of the Vols. Coach Phillip Fulmer and the Vol Network's Bob Kesling co-host the show each Sunday from the UT campus. Award winning producers Barry Rice, Link Hudson and Andy Jeffers return to expertly oversee the production end of the heralded show.

"The Phillip Fulmer Show" covers every quadrant of the state. The show boasts affiliates in Chattanooga, Knoxville, Memphis/Jackson, Nashville and the Tri-Cities. Check local listings for affiliates and times.

Complementing the blanket coverage across the state of Tennessee, "The Phillip Fulmer Show" teams up again this year with the FOX Sports Net to bring Tennessee football into living rooms outside the boundaries of the state. This season, the show will be available to more than seven million subscribers in FOX Sports Net seven-state South region. The network covers the states of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee. For the fifth year in row, the show will also be seen on CSS as part of a "Tennessee Night" programming package. "Tennessee Night" includes "The Phillip Fulmer Show," a CSS replay of the Vols' previous game and a historical show entitled "Vintage Orange." CSS coverage includes Knoxville and most of the major markets in the state of Tennessee plus penetration into parts of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Vol Network Preseason TV Special

The Vol Network kicks off "Football Time in Tennessee" with its annual "Inside the Orange" preseason football special. Each year, the Vol Network takes a behind the scenes look at Big Orange football that no other media outlet can match. The special will highlight the key areas essential to the Vols' success on the gridiron battlefield. The special program will air the week before Tennessee's season opener versus UNLV Sept. 5. The network and distribution of the special is to be determined. The time and date of the special will be announced in early August.

HOST COMMUNICATIONS

On Jan. 24, 2004, Edwin C. Huster, Jr., the beloved and respected president and general manager of the Vol Network for many years passed away unexpectedly at the age of 60. Edwin was the rock, leader and living legacy of the Vol Network. His 34 consecutive years of service to the Vol Network are unmatched and marked with spectacular achievements and success. His father, Edwin Huster, Sr., originally signed on the Vol Network back in the late 1940s. The name "Huster" is forever secure in the lore of UT Athletics. The network in place today is now the model by which all others are measured. The 2004-05 broadcast season will be dedicated in his honor.

Edwin C. Huster, Jr.
1944-2004

For more than 50 years, the Vol Network has served as the main communications link between the University of Tennessee and its fans. As the broadcast rights holder to University of Tennessee athletics, Host Communications/Vol Network manages UT radio and television programming, official game day publications, Internet advertising, stadium/arena signage and various other marketing and promotional activities related to Big Orange athletics. The Vol Network is a division of Host Communications, a subsidiary of Bull Run Corporation. Host Communications, Inc. is a nationally recognized sports marketing corporation with more than 500 employees.

Host Communications / Vol Network: (865) 584-7043

In the fall of 1949, Tennessee football games were first broadcast on what is known today as the Vol Radio Network. Legendary UT coach General Robert R. Neyland gave the Network its name and hall of fame broadcaster Lindsey Nelson served as the first Vol Network play-by-play announcer. Over the years, the Network has grown into one of the nation's largest and most respected collegiate radio networks. From four stations in 1949 to more than 80 affiliates today, Vol Network coverage blankets the state of Tennessee as the "Statewide Stadium" from Mt. LeConte to the mighty Mississippi River. In addition to Tennessee, the Network boasts affiliates in four surrounding states, has a nighttime coverage of 28 states and can be heard worldwide on the Internet (utsports.com) and over the phone through TEAMLINE (1-800-846-4700 ext. 5405). The Vol Network's listenership and loyalty is so great that the airing of a Tennessee football game has been described as not merely an event, but a "happening" all across the state.

Bob Kesling, UT's director of external communications, begins his sixth year as the voice of Tennessee football, basketball and "Vol Calls". Kesling also serves as the television host of the Vol Network's "The Phillip Fulmer Show," "The Buzz Peterson Show" and "The Pat Summitt Show." He is a four-time recipient of "Sportscaster of the Year" award for the state of Tennessee. In addition to his broadcasting duties, he represents the University at various events and functions throughout the year and works with UT student-athletes to develop communications and public relations skills. Prior to joining UT, Kesling was known throughout the Southeast for his work with Jefferson-Pilot Sports and the regional network's SEC football, basketball and baseball television package. He was a member of the SEC Radio Network and for 23 years served as the radio and television voice of the University of Tennessee women's basketball team. Kesling was also a popular sports director and anchor for Knoxville television station WBIR. A 1977 UT graduate, Kesling was born in Dallas, Texas, but grew up in Kettering, Ohio.

Tim Priest, a former Vol All-SEC defensive back, will team with Kesling for his sixth year in the broadcast booth as the Network's color analyst. Priest was captain of UT's 11-1 1970 team and he is the Vols all-time career pass interceptions leader with 18. A three-year letterman from 1968-70, Priest was a starter on the Vols 1969 SEC championship team. An outstanding student, he was a GTE Academic All-American, Academic All-SEC in 1969 and 1970 and a recipient of a NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship Award. On the broadcasting side, Priest was a longtime co-host of the syndicated Football Finals radio show and a color commentator for Tennessee pay-per-view games.

Former Vol signal-caller Jeff Francis is in his sixth season as the Vol Network's sideline reporter. Francis ranks as the Vols third all-time passing yardage leader. A three-year starter at quarterback from 1986-88, he threw for 5,867 career yards and 31 touchdowns. He finished his career in 1988 as the Vols all-time career passing yardage leader. Francis was named Most Valuable Player for his performance in the 1986 Liberty Bowl versus Minnesota and helped guide Tennessee to a 10-2-1 record and a victory over Indiana in the Peach Bowl as a junior. A four-year letterman, Francis was a backup quarterback on Tennessee's 1985 SEC championship team.

John Wilkerson

John Wilkerson returns for his sixth season on the network as studio game day host. Wilkerson also serves as the studio host for University of Tennessee basketball and is also the voice of Tennessee baseball. Brent Hubbs, who serves a myriad of tasks, enters his ninth season with the Vol Network as a reporter and official spotter. Hubbs provides the halftime statistics from the game site and retrieves opponent coach and player quotes after each game. The legendary Russ Bebb, the best statistician in the business, is back for his 45th year as the Network's efficient and proficient statistician. Always prepared Tim Berry, entering his 18th year on staff, serves as chief engineer of the Vol Radio Network. Network producer Dave Jeffries, in his 10th season, oversees everything from Vol Network Control. "The Kickoff Call-In Show" crew for home games includes the personable Ellen Liston, who is back for her 17th year.

FOOTBALL PROGRAMMING LINEUP

Six Hours Of Uninterrupted Coverage

- KICKOFF CALL-IN SHOW: Vol Network coverage of University of Tennessee football begins 90 minutes prior to game time with the famous "Kickoff Call-In Show." At home games, the show is headquartered on the base of "The Hill" outside Gate 21 at Neyland Stadium. A live audience gathers outside the stadium to ask questions and listen to the Vol Network trio of Bob Kesling, Tim Priest and Jeff Francis analyze Tennessee's upcoming game. Fans from around the country call-in and e-mail comments and questions. The show also features college football scores and updates from around the country, special features, special guests, reports and interviews. The Vol Network's John Wilkerson hosts the show from Vol Network control.

- SPOTLIGHT ON THE SEC: Before the game, it's time to check into what else is happening around the Southeastern Conference. This unique and popular show provides listeners with an up-to-the-second insight into key games taking place in the Southeastern Conference. "Spotlight on the SEC" gives up-to-the-minute scores and reports from around the conference and previews upcoming conference matchups.

- GAME BROADCAST: Bob Kesling (play-by-play), Tim Priest (color analyst) and Jeff Francis (sideline reporter) describe the exciting play-by-play action of Tennessee football. Throughout the game, the network provides the most comprehensive and in-depth coverage of UT football available.

- THE BIG ORANGE SCOREBOARD: John Wilkerson and Jeff Jacoby bring listeners up to date on other games around the country from Vol Network control. Throughout the show, Tim Priest conducts exclusive interviews from the Tennessee locker room with UT players and coaches moments after they leave the field.

- THE PHILLIP FULMER DRESSING ROOM SHOW: The first comments from Coach Phillip Fulmer after each game are heard on "The Phillip Fulmer Dressing Room Show" as the Vol Network presents a live and exclusive interview with the head coach. Bob Kesling hosts the show.

- FINAL SCOREBOARD: John Wilkerson and former Vol Mark Hovanic wrap up Vol Network programming with a recap of the entire day of college football as well as take phone calls from listeners throughout the country. This popular post-game show features scores and reports on other games across the country, a Tennessee high school football update, and Bob Kesling's play-by-play audio highlights.

VOL CALLS

The Vol Network's weekly prime time call-in show, "Vol Calls," returns for its 16th season in 2004-05. This popular one-hour prime time show, hosted by Bob Kesling, airs statewide at 8 p.m. (ET) / 7 p.m. (CT) every Monday on most Vol Network stations. During football season, the show will originate in Knoxville from the Texas Roadhouse on Kingston Pike across from West Town Mall. Fans are invited to attend this weekly unique dining and entertainment experience. "Vol Calls" can be heard on the radio in 28 states and around the world on the Internet (utsports.com). The show focuses exclusively on Big Orange athletics and features UT coaches, student-athletes and regional as well as national personalities. UT head coach Phillip Fulmer joins the program each week to make comments and take calls. Brent Hubbs and a former Vol letterman also join Kesling and Fulmer for each show. The show airs for 36 consecutive weeks and covers football season, basketball season, baseball season and UT's Olympic sports from August 23 to April 25.

Fans can place a "Vol Call" anywhere in the United States by dialing 1-800-688-8657.

VOL NETWORK HOME ENTERTAINMENT

Vol Network Home Entertainment will unveil the second title from its Vol Network Classics line on DVD this fall. The new DVD will contain a classic Vol Network video title and bonus footage on a DVD format. Title of the DVD will be released at a later date. There are also three recent releases that compliment the current Vol Network Home Entertainment lineup. Tennessee 2003: The Comeback Kids chronicles the 2003 season and includes exciting game-by-game highlights of the Vols regular season. Vol Network Greatest Hits on CD is the perfect tailgating tool for Tennessee fans. Greatest Hits features the greatest plays in UT history, The Pride of the Southland Band and "Rocky Top". The John Ward Collection on DVD contains the videos The Voice and Give Him Six! John Ward and Bill Anderson 10 Greatest Games. The complete line of Vol Network Home Entertainment products are available in the Simply For Sports departments at participating JCPenney stores throughout the state of Tennessee and at volmall.com.

NCAA COMPLIANCE

Compliance with NCAA rules is one of the highest priorities for The University of Tennessee and our athletics department. As a member of the NCAA, The University of Tennessee is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best intentions may violate NCAA rules. We need your help in observing all SEC and NCAA regulations. Boosters and fans must be careful of their interaction with prospective and current student-athletes. Therefore, we encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act" by contacting the Compliance Office staff: Brad Bertani, Associate Athletics Director for Compliance, 865-974-3871 or Kevin Avery, Compliance Officer, 865-974-3308.

Representatives of Athletics Interests, "Boosters"
There are many ways an individual can be classified as a Representative of Tennessee's Athletics Interests. You are a "representative of The University of Tennessee's athletics interests," if you have: been involved in a booster club; made financial contributions to the athletics program or booster organizations; provided benefits to an enrolled student-athlete; assisted in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; or been involved in the promotion of UT athletics. Please note that once you have been identified as a representative of UT athletics interests, you retain that identity indefinitely.

Recruiting, Extra Benefits and Inducements
Only coaches and athletics department staff members can be involved in the recruiting process. All "athletics representatives" who are not employees of UT are prohibited from contacting a prospect by telephone, letter or in-person, on- or off-campus, for the purpose of encouraging participation in athletics at UT. It is not permissible for prospects, student-athletes or their relatives and friends to receive any extra benefits or special arrangements from a booster. Extra benefits include, but are not limited to: cash or loans in any amount; co-signing or arranging a loan; providing gifts of any kind (e.g., clothing, airline tickets, or holiday cards); providing special discounts for goods and services; use of an automobile.
